2021 PACK HISTORY

Summer 2021 will go down in Mowglis history as perhaps one of our most important summers. After closing in 2020, our boys and staff were electrified at the prospect of returning to our home beneath the pines, and the promise of a sense of normalcy amidst a trying year.

On Saturday, June 26, after two weeks of staff training, the Cubs were first to arrive on the Jungle House lawn, the first Campers to grace our campus in nearly two years! Despite the heat and the necessity of masks, summer 2021 began with a bang, or more accurately, 18 of them as the Cubs' cannon shots rang out across Newfound Lake. The sight of Gray Brothers Field full during our first Colors ceremony warmed the hearts of Mowglis near and far, with many sending their thoughts and prayers for a successful summer from afar.

As the first week kicked into high gear, the boys began their first iteration of Industries, and as though someone simply flipped a switch, Mowglis came to life with the familiar sound of laughter, the report of a .22 from the Rifle Range, and the resounding thump of a well-placed axe hitting its mark. As Baloo set off on our inaugural visit to Belle Island for the first overnight of the season, the Den made the most of their first Lone Wolf, setting goals for the summer to make the most of their final season as Campers.

Week two brought the sublime relief of leaving our masks behind. The bubble held! Despite the start of what would prove to be one of the rainiest summers in recent memory, tossing away our masks gave us just the morale boost we needed. On the 4th of July, the entire Camp was awakened by the National Anthem, and we ended the day with fireworks at the Waterfront. We saw the mighty Cubs take their turn in the War Canoes, en route to Belle Island for their first overnight.

To kick off our third week, with a brief break in the wet weather, Land Sports Day was on the schedule! Cardigan's Cunning Coyotes won the day with a remarkable feat of strength during the tug of war. The Junior Staff's attempt to unseat the noble Senior Staff in the tug of war was unsuccessful. Perhaps a little more time on the weight rack in the Staff Room instead of your phones, gentlemen? Panther set off for the Mahoosucs, and despite their concerns, all survived the treacherous Mahoosuc Arm and Notch. They returned just in time for a talent show, headlined by the Cubs' performance of "A Seed's a Star," which resulted in a shower of, you guessed it, seeds! Ned Hanrahan stole the show with his energetic dance routine, which had the whole of Camp on their feet. No sooner than we bid farewell to the three-week Cubs, Ms. Boone and the rest of the Cub staff welcomed their four-week charges.

Week four saw the Den depart to New Hampshire's northern reaches to paddle the Connecticut Lakes and secure more than a few Canoeing requirements under the tutelage of Mr. Conklin. With the unrelenting rain, many Industries and Clubs had to head indoors, but in true Mowglis fashion, we made the most of it! Whether it was Blacksmithing in the Woodshed with Mr. Drennan or a crazy game of dodgeball in Gray Brothers, every member of the Mowglis Pack seemed to be intent on making up for lost time. New Hampshire Fish and Game Officer Josiah Towne visited for a fantastic Campfire, and with Squads just around the corner, the reality of the summer being halfway over truly sunk in with the departure of the four-weekers.

Week five began with the announcement of Squads. Gopher headed to the far reaches of the Elwell Trail, spending the night in the Crag Shelter, built nearly 100 years ago by their Mowglis forebears. Mt. Washington Squad headed to the Moose River in Maine to paddle (and sometimes walk) their canoes through the wilds near the Canadian border. Back in Camp, the hustle and bustle of Industries were evident as boys began racking up Requirements, Ribbons, and qualifying targets left and right. While the week brought with it more uncooperative weather, Mowglis Spirit prevailed, and as the Squads returned, all eyes were set on the announcement of Racing Crews and the start of Crew Week!

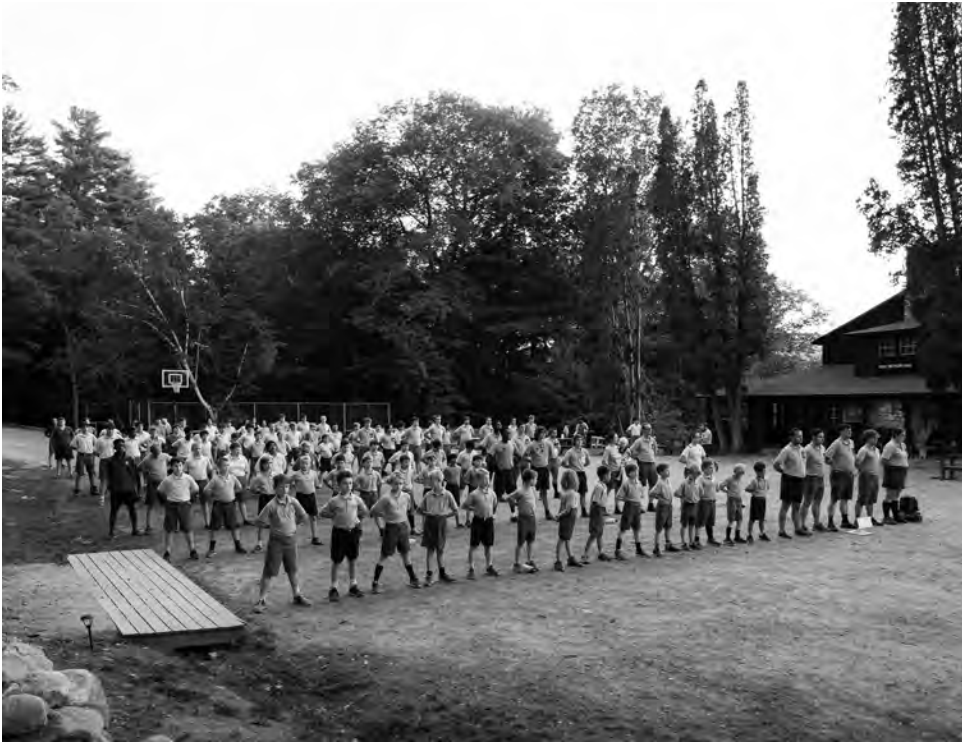

Crew Week began with the promise of good weather throughout the week, a rare sight this summer! Mr. Nguyen, a visiting Ms. Mira, and the rest of the Crew apparatus planned on making good use of it! As the new boys learned cheers, Crew Leaders Mr. Conklin and Mr. Harvey (Blue and Red, respectively) brought both the energy and sportsmanship needed to make this Crew Week one for the books! Mr. Greenwell, Mr. Hart, and the Junior Staff assembled a bonfire for the ages, while Mr. Slater managed to convert two old canoes into floats for each Crew. On Race Day, the good weather prevailed. Blue Crew handily secured victories on 3rd form, 2nd form, 1st form, and even the mighty Cubs, but in the end, the Red Racing Crew won the day in one of the best races seen in years! While this year was an RVD, the air of competition melted away with the raising of the Red oar and the singing of “The Mowglis Boating Song.” That night a wonderful time was had by all at the Evening Program. Music feats, another dance from Mr. Hanrahan, and a visit from the incomparable Flying Zamboni Brothers, the entire Camp went to bed satisfied and hungry to make the final week of Camp a worthwhile one.

With the final week upon us, the challenges of the past year seemed far away. The last few “Regular Mowglis Days” were busy ones indeed. Announcements at meals ran long, with the heralding of Ribbons, Graduation requirements, and victories among boys of all ages. We were blessed again with the promise of well-deserved fair weather. The Cardigan assault was a resounding success, and despite the heat, Graduates’ Dinner was full to the brim with heartfelt toasts and tasty food, while the rest of Camp enjoyed a BBQ and “The Empire Strikes Back.” The Inner Circle Ceremony saw nine Mowglis make their way a little closer to the Campfire.

So tonight, as the flicker of candlelight disappears into the darkness, we are reminded that our time here at Mowglis, our home beneath the pines, is fleeting. As it says in “Men of Mowglis,” though the days here are never long, the friendships and lessons of this remarkable place will last a lifetime.

MOWGLIS 2021, WE SALUTE YOU!

-JAMES HART

FIRST WEEK

It's amazing to finally be back. Although it was a bit weird to have to wear masks at first, we are back to a regular Mowglis schedule now and I couldn't be happier. It's been great to see old and new faces alike for campers and staff, and I can't wait to see what the 2021 season has in store!

Good Hunting!

—PATRICK JENKINS

THE LONGEST WEEK

This has been the longest week I have spent at camp. I have really been enjoying being Den lead dorm staff and supporting the Denites in their Industries in order to achieve graduation. I am loving the challenge. Let's go Den 2021!

—MR. HARVEY

A LONG WAY TO GO

I played Jenga last night, not much else has happened so far. I'm a very long way from graduating, however I believe I'll be able to. I cannot wait to get to soak, everyone is sweaty!

—JACK DROS

DON'T MISS IT

Life goes by pretty fast here at Mowglis. If you don't stop to look around once in a while, you just might miss it.

—LUCIEN SHIH

THE TENNIS MATCH

Okay, the sentry has been established. PJ Mungah vs. Underdog from Vermont. PJ says he has been practicing all year, but he didn't practice yesterday so I suspect he's not telling the truth. Lots of training has occurred between the opponents. Don't miss it, as it will be a match for the ages! Press conference is tomorrow at breakfast, the match is at 6 a.m. on Tuesday.

Signed, Future Tennis Champion,

—GUS HODDE

DEN PRIVILEGE

Den privilege is great! Although we have not experienced them all, having showers last night was pretty amazing. From skipping the line at soupy, to staying up a tad later, Den is definitely a great dorm to be in.

—ALEX PETERS

GLAD TO BE BACK

Coming back to Camp after having not been here for two years has been a true shock. I have had a lot of fun meeting all of my fellow Dennites and I'm truly excited to graduate and hope that everyone else does. I hope this year is as fun as all of the others. Good Hunting!

—THOMAS BOULD

FIRST DAY OF CAMP

Yesterday was the first day at camp and it was fun seeing all of my old friends. I'm excited to start regular Mowglis days. I'm excited to get into the lake for soak. I want to get Swimmers because my friends are in Swimmers. I played Jenga yesterday and it was very fun.

—SAM PEROZEK

THE CANNON

Today the Cubs blew the cannon. It was fun and loud. It was a fun site and, as a whole, I have really enjoyed my first day!

—RAFI UNGER

LOOKING FORWARD

It is the first day of camp and I look forward to the coming weeks. I look forward to getting my white ribbon and trying Axemanship.

—ZACH OLSON

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
Please don't wake up at 5, Baloo.
I woke up 40 minutes before
Reveille due to Baloo having a party or something. I don't understand how you can possibly wake up at 5:00 in the morning and have a conversation.

Tiredly,

—OLLIE MCGREEVY

ANYTHING IS POSSIBLE

Mowglis is a place where anything is possible, and so that's why I came. I am really looking forward to rock climbing big cliffs, then I will believe anything is possible.

—JUSTIN LEON

MAKING MEMORIES

I am super happy to be reunited with all my camp friends. It has been almost a year and a half since camp ended, and it is so great to be here again. Smelling the great green pines brings a wave of memories back to my mind. I can't wait to make more!

—NATE GREVEN

STARTING AGAIN

Camp starts again, and you get to meet your dormmates once more. Say hello to new faces, catch up with old friends, sit by the fire, and rejoin the flow of camp once again. And of course, an honorable mention to covid, one day it will come to pass.

—DENTON MONTGOMERY

MOWGLIS 2021

Summer 2021 is here. I can't believe camp did not run last year. It's exciting to be back and see everyone. I'm excited because it's my first year as a senior staff. I wish all of the campers a good summer, and the staff, too. Mowglis 2021 I am looking forward to you!

—MR. ANDRES MARTINEZ

GREAT TO BE BACK

Wow, I haven't done this in a while. It's so nice to be at Mowglis again. Seeing my friends, being in the forest, I now appreciate camp so much more after a summer at home.

On another note, SOAK! It is so hot and humid, and everyone's super sweaty. Soak might be the thing I'm looking forward to the most. That, and showers. It's very nice to have the privilege to shower every night. All in all it's great to be back, and Den is super fun. It's gonna be a great summer!

—ERIC BECKFORD

THE FIRST DAY

Even though this is only my first full day, I am still having an amazing time. Everyone here is kind and supportive. I'm in Akela, and I have a pretty good dorm. The Industries I am looking forward to are axemanship, swimming, camping, canoeing, and sailing.

—ISAAC SPRUNG

FIRST TIME AT CAMP

The first day at camp was a day of great excitement. I got out of the car, said bye to my mom, and stared in awe at the Mowglis campus. There was axemanship, riflery, archery, canoeing, sailing, arts and crafts, woodworking, gaga ball, tether ball, campfires, cannons, and more. We are all sorted into different cabins/dorms: Cubland, Toomai, Baloo, Akela, Panther, and

Den. Cubland is where the little ones are, Toomai is where the slightly larger and older kids are, Baloo is where I am, Akela is where young teenagers are, Panther is where young High Schoolers are, and the Den is where the oldest campers are. There are also the Denites, who now are the most dedicated older campers from the Den. They get cool perks like skipping the lines or making demonstrations, and they deserve these because they spent years at camp. Camp Mowglis's name was taken from The Jungle Book back in 1903. Last night at the campfire, we read a chapter of that very book. If any of us perform enough acts of integrity, we can also fire the cannon at the end of the day. Also, Rohan Bhagat is not the only camper that goes to my school. Thomas Bould and PJ are also campers. PJ is even a Denite. All in all, I am really excited for my seven weeks here and will do my best as part of the Mowglis pack.

—RED BURNS

CAMP IS AWESOME

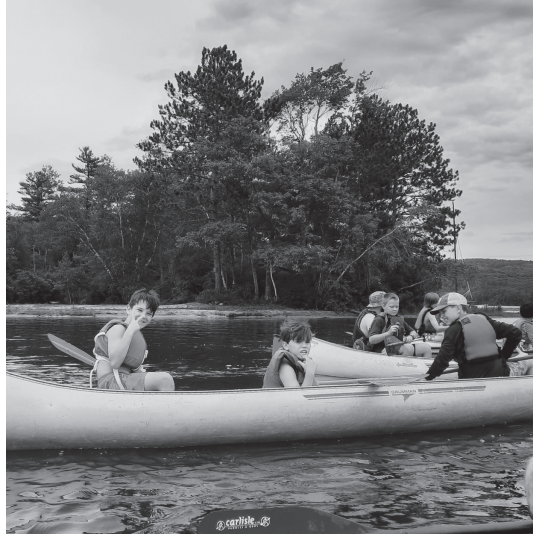

I love camp and I am making great friends. It's future Noah, right? Crew is great and mountain biking is hard but fun. I love camp!

—NOAH FAHRENBRUCH

A GREAT WEEK

This marks my first Mowglis week. It has been a good first week, full of fun events, such as riflery and crew. The week has gone by fast, and I am super happy to be here. I can't wait for next week!

—RAFI UNGER

DESSERTS

Desserts are the best currency in the world. It's equally distributed and the amount gained is based off of whoever shoots a better target in riflery, boom, extra dessert. It is a system based on skill and bravery, perfect.

—COOPER DRAZEK

CLUBS

Today I went to the Puppy Party Club. I played with Azalea and Boyd. We played with them in Cubland. I also played with Rowdy.

—SEBI LAFONTANT

DINING HALL

It's nice to finally be back in the dining hall. I've never eaten in the Cub dining hall because I didn't come in Cubs. Sitting at a long table all together is new, it's cool to be able to talk to everyone all at once. I'm excited to start Industries next week and begin completing my graduation requirements.

—NICHOLAS VENTURA

FIRST TIME AT CAMP

So far I have had a good experience at Camp. I am doing different fun sign-ups and Industries as well as clubs. This week I did mountain biking for one of my sign-ups. I fell a couple of times on the bike, but I still had a good time. I am looking forward to the rest of camp.

—CKYSON WEBSTER

RAINY DAYS

It has rained for three days straight and we haven't seen the sun for four. Aside from that, masks are off and the regular Mowglis summer has resumed. Good Hunting!

—THOMAS PATINO

CREW

A few days ago at crew I helped a new kid go out in a shell. He didn't really know what to do. He drifted into the docked boats. I swam out and had to swim both him and the shell to shore. Then I took the shell with my friend Nathaniel. We raced, I lost because he got a head start. All in was then called, and while going in Nathaniel hit a docked boat.

—COOPER BENGTON

CANOEING AND HIKING

We went to Wellington Beach. It took a while to get there. We thought there was a leak in the blue war canoe, which is the one I was in, so my shoes got really wet. We went really fast on the way there, but on the way back we gave up. We got back during soak. We hiked Little Sugarloaf and Big Sugarloaf. The PJ 1V1 was amazing, a truly historical event.

—SPENCER DRAZEK

THE MISSED INSPECTION OF THE PANTHER TENT

As we dried off, the inspection call rang through the trees. At this point we rushed. My bed was already made, but the others were not. There was nothing I could do, because my bureau was not neat. Shoving everything with a home in, taking everything out, I took a sigh of relief when the last shirt was folded. Two minutes later I was still standing at the foot of my bed when I decided to do one more check. My duffle bag. It was on the other side of the bed, and I heard footsteps on the porch outside. I tumbled over my bed, zipped up the bag, and shoved it under my bed. I then waited and waited, and no one came in.

—CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

THE PJ 1V1

On the morning of the fourth of July, deflated basketballs were sent to fly. PJ Mungah and Rafi Unger, a historic match, as epic as thunder. With PJ's amazing defending skills, and Rafi's ability to shoot to kill, after a while we weren't sure who was winning and the time left to play was undoubtedly thinning. To be victorious, Rafi had to make 2 shots, He made the first one, it required no thought. There was hype in the air, as far as the eye could see, As PJ shouted "I've never seen you make these!"

—TYLER GOSS

EXPLORING AROUND CAMP

Today I went exploring the camp. My group and I found some interesting things. We found a very old and rusty car that was abandoned deep in the woods. We also found the old ropes course.

—DHRUV MOHAN

WEEK NUMBER ONE

This is week number one! So far my favorite industry is riflery. We went on our first trip. It was a canoe trip. There were three people to a boat. Mine, Jack, and Ryland's boat was named the S.S. Squirm. We ended up getting lost. I just came back from Magic Club. I learned how to play, it was really fun.

—PRESTON MORGAN

UNFINISHED

The birds singing and leaves rustling is like thunder in my ears; the ringing is repetitive and absolute. I can't help but think of everything I'll miss. My head hurts on this restless night. Sleep is not an option. Memories come and go like a quick rain shower. These thoughts stop for no one, the ringing is louder now. As the rain stops the ringing follows. Pure silence. Unadulterated silence. As silence comes the memories envelop me, and my senses are overloaded.

—ADDISON CALLUM

THE CAMPFIRE CIRCLE

We go to the campfire after Colors. The Inner Circle goes first, and sits in the Inner Circle. The first night it's a tradition to read the first part of The Jungle Book, the second night to read some Howls from a few thousand years ago, and so on. After that, the director tells everyone to stand up quietly and sit down again because we were too loud.

—JOHNNIE SOUKUP

WAKING UP AT 5:00 AM

You might think that waking up at 5 AM is scary, but it's actually not! You get to see the sun rise while hearing all sorts of beautiful sounds, like birds. Mowglis is also a good experience at night.

—JUSTIN LEON

FUN SUNDAY

Camp is great so far, I really liked tubing and falling off into the water. Before writing this I went to blacksmithing. That, too was fun. We made a knife, and shaping it was really cool.

—REID RODRIGUEZ

CANOE TRIP

Last week we went on a canoe trip. We canoed over Newfound Lake. We went to the Cockermouth River.

—ZELLAN TULLY

THE BEST DAY

Yesterday was the best day of camp because I went tubing with my friends and after that we had dinner, which was rice with chicken, and today we played soccer and now we are going to eat lunch.

—ALONSO BENAVIDES

STAGE BOMBING

3,2,1...That's all the time you have to react.

An art

A sport

Not a game

A lifestyle

You'll either be laughing or crying, you simply have to take the hit, then get up to stage bomb someone else. It's a never ending game, and the best man remains standing.

—SAM PEROZEK

SUNDAY CLUBS

Today was Sunday so we had clubs. I went to the club that Mr. Nguyen was hosting. His club was playing poker (Texas Hold 'Em) and Blackjack. We started out playing Blackjack, I didn't win any games while playing either game. In my opinion, poker was more fun.

—DHRUV MOHAN

THIRD WEEK

I can't believe it's the third week. I am having so much fun. We did a trip. We only had one day of hiking because of rain, but Mr. Greenwell saved us from certain doom with breakfast sandwiches and chicken. To think I have only four weeks and six days left. I hope I have a lot of fun. I can't wait for Crew Week!

—DANIEL DEVINE

PIRATES

Thursday was awesome. We (me, Lyon, Peyton) were all canoeing in the same canoe on our group trip, but things weren't so good. We were arguing, but we came together towards the end of the trip. We started working together and started singing The Pirates of the Caribbean theme song. We won the race back to the waterfront!

—RAAGHAV MITTAL

CLUBS

Yesterday for sign-up, my friends and I did paddleboarding on the lake. Two years ago we made a raft using five paddleboards and all of us agreed to do it again. My friend Cooper used a paddle to prevent the base of the raft from splitting. Not even the waves from the Starcraft could destroy our creation. But all good things must come to an end, so we eventually took it apart.

—SEBASTIAN PHANEUF

BASE CAMP

Whenever I hear the words "base camp" I will forevermore think of three things: Mount Cardigan, misery, and Mr. Greenwell. I'll start with Cardigan, the mountain that we set our base camp at. We hiked the hardest trail reserved only for Denites (I am a Toomaite), and we hike up it every summer for the end of the year picture. Next, MISERY. It rained all the while at our base camp, and it was freezing cold in the morning every time. We also were about to hike up Cardigan in extremely wet conditions, and probably to our death, but thanks to a setup by Ryland Case, we did not. And finally, Mr. Greenwell. He saved our lives by setting up tarps to protect us from the rain and bringing us a bunch of other stuff.

—KAYSHAV MITTAL

SCARY STORIES

Mr. Gulitti is going to tell us a scary story tonight. In Akela, he told us a few stories, and let's just say that I didn't make it to the hydro those nights, so I am excited. I've witnessed him tell some mild stories, but I think our dorm is ready for the big guns.

—WILL GREVEN

TUBING

Yesterday was the best day at camp. We went tubing! We went on a boat and listened to amazing music. I went on a tube with my friend Isaac. We lasted for 5 minutes, but we had a crazy wipeout. I hope I can go again!

—MYLES DUCKETT

THE INCIDENT ON NEWFOUND LAKE

It was a warm Tuesday afternoon. I was in a canoe with Eric, when all of a sudden George fell out of his sailboat. This caused Zach to laugh so hard that he fell out of the shell, which caused us to laugh at Zach. Zach then flipped our canoe. Out of nowhere, the other canoe tried to steal our oars. Acting quickly, I jumped and flipped their boat. I turned around to see that Mr. Williams did a T-rescue, I climbed back into my boat, and that ended The Incident on Newfound Lake.

—RICHARD O'DAY

PURPLE RIBBON

Yesterday when I had nature, Mr. Hammond had his day off so Mrs. Liz did nature. I got my invasive species requirement and now I only have one more requirement to go! I would have already had my ribbon, but last Wednesday-Friday we had a base camp trip to Cardigan. My last requirement I have to get is my final. For that I have to write an essay on nature. I can't wait to get my purple ribbon!

—COLE COTREAU

TUBING

Yesterday I went tubing on the lake, and that was great. I held onto the tube the whole time, and I was going extremely fast. I got an amazing view of the lake as well, seeing the houses and beach go by. Finally, for dinner, I had delicious fried rice.

—RED BURNS

TETHERBALL WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS

Hello and welcome to ESPN's special coverage of the tetherball world championship. I'm George Sarosi, joining you live from the Gray Brothers tetherball pole. In this year's finals, we have Mr. L. Jenkins and on the other side of the pole we have Mr. Eisenman. The odds lean towards Jenkins winning. On the line is 40 desserts to the first to win two. And in the first game, Jenkins tethers the ball immediately. 1-0 Jenkins. In the second game, Jenkins is one hit away from winning, but Eisenman hits it so hard, and oh my gosh, it's tethered! One more game decides it, folks. And it is some back and forth action and... Eisenman hits it really hard, and it - is - OVER! Eisenman has won!

—GEORGE SAROSI

WAR (THE CARD GAME)

War is a magical game. On the Ct. Lakes trip the most incredible series of War games occurred. There was heartbreak, passion, and skill. Two's beat aces, massive wars unfolded, and eventually our four-man game shrinks to one winner. All in all, War is a great game!

—GUS HODDE

THREE LANE PILE-UP

Out on the lake last Tuesday, I was sailing and getting my turtling requirement. I went over once, no trouble, but it flipped again after. A shell capsized laughing, same as the canoe rescuing. The proceeding T-rescue also capsized, and a canoe stole another canoe's paddles, and tried to escape, but an enraged, paddleless canoe with a vengeance swam after them and flipped them while I finally sailed away.

—GEORGE MONTGOMERY

TUBING

Yesterday was absolutely terrific. I got to go tubing on the lake, and I had so much fun. While I was tubing, due to my light weight I bounced a lot, which I really enjoyed! I ended up going twice, and on the second time I lost grip and got flung into the water. The lake was warm, and I even enjoyed getting flung into the water! I hope I can go tubing again soon.

—KELLAN LOCKHART

FISH HANDS

It was a Tuesday and I signed up for swimming. We swam a bit but when I got out and was heading up the stairs I saw a live fish swimming right in front of the stairs, so I dived into the water and pulled up the fish! It was squirming in my hands. I couldn't believe what I just did! It was a big bluegill! So, I put it back in the water and it swam off.

—LANE WARNICK

PHIL'S SAGA

Phil was just like everybody else. He loved eating cheese and running through Den's rafters. But one day, he slipped from the rafters and fell into Eric S's area of Den. This was unfamiliar territory for him. It was dusty and littered with random pieces of garbage. Suddenly, he saw him. Eric, who had just come back from a strenuous three-day trip. He longed for a nicely made bed to sleep in for the night. Phil was terrified. He scurried under the bed and huddled against the wall. But out of nowhere, the bed was flung from the wall! Eric stormed towards the head of the bed and jumped back when he saw Phil. "AGGH!" yelled Eric, "Someone put a banana slug under my bed!" Phil took offense to this, for he wasn't a banana slug, he was a mouse. At this point Eric was lumbering over Phil. Like a tower he just stood there. Until he started to lift his leg higher off the floor. And: BOOM! Those were Phil's final moments. He was beloved by all in Den, even Eric, but he simply couldn't tell the difference between a mouse and a banana slug. And now, whenever we hear the sound of trumpets playing Taps at night, not only do we salute the fallen soldiers, we salute Phil as well.

—ERIC BECKFORD

AT THE TWO-WEEK MARK

Camp is crazy! We went on a long and tiring canoe/ hiking trip on Thursday. We are hearing The Hermit tonight from Mr. Hart and apparently it is scary. I am doing crew and axemanship as my Industries and I am loving both. I learned a new card game called Magic and it is very confusing. It has been rainy lately, but the weather is great today. We had Clubs today and I played basketball and gaga ball. Camp is great at the two-week mark.

—ARMEN KRIKORIAN

MOUNTAIN BIKING AND CANOEING

I love camp, mountain biking is the best. I love it. Canoeing is fun, too. I love camp. For our second trip we took out 500 pounds of pure canoe. It was called a war canoe, and we rowed those across the lake, then we did a one-mile hike, and then went back.

—NOAH FAHRENBRUCH

THE CRICKET

During the first week at night, I was reading one of my books when a cricket jumped from my pillow and landed on my book. I freaked out and hit it with my flashlight and said “There was a cricket on my bed.” I grabbed my bug spray and sprayed it. Then the next day it was gone, so we assumed it hopped away from Toomai.

—CONNOR THOEL

TRAIL CLEARING

On Thursday we had our first trail clearing hike. I really liked it. It was fun to move all those big branches. The view from the summit is something I will always remember. I hope my time at Mowglis will never end.

—ARI UNGER

JULY 4TH

Sunday morning was the 4th of July! A song with trumpets was the alarm and BOOM! A cannon was blast. Then for clubs I chose to be with Mr. Martinez and Mr. Lloyd's club. We played frisbee and I made a touchdown and so did my friend Cristobal. Then we played soccer and it was really fun.

—IKER MEDINA MORA

RAIN AND INDUSTRIES

I hate the rain. Every Sunday my hamburger gets wet. It's the worst. We go on a pack trip in three days. I'm having fun and I like doing Industries. I'm doing woodworking and riflery.

—DANIEL DROS

FUN WEEK

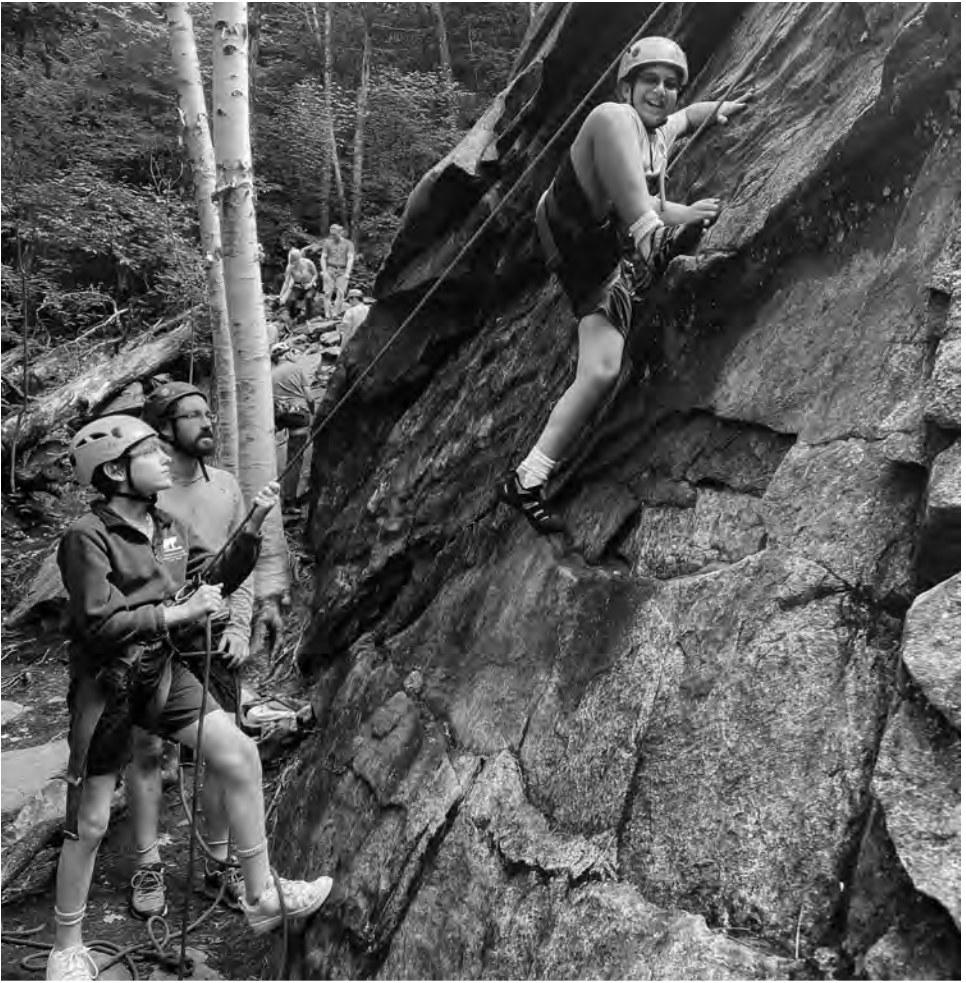

This week has flown by. On Trip Day we hiked Mount Crosby and picked a few pounds of blueberries. In rowboating on Friday, I got two requirements: learn to feather and proper form. I need two more requirements for my safety. This week was super fun.

—PRESTON MORGAN

AN EVENTFUL SATURDAY

Saturday was an eventful day. I swam a full Waingunga in 11 minutes to get my swimmers tag. In the afternoon, I went tubing for the first time. It was amazing! When you first feel the boat tug on the rope you tense up, until it speeds off pulling you and your friend behind it. I fell off of the tube but managed to pull myself back on, and from there it was a great journey gliding on the water.

—LUCIEN SHIH

CLUBS

I want to tell you about my clubs. In the beginning of clubs I played gaga ball. My shirt got super dirty and so did my pants because there was a mud puddle. Then I changed and they got dirty again. Then I changed for a third time and joined the music club instead of gaga ball.

—YURY MASLOV

THE MAHOOSUCS

We went on the Mahoosucs trip and it was pretty awesome. The first day was very long, but the summits were super pretty. The Notch was amazing, and the ice was sick. There were a few stragglers in our group, but we made it through the Notch, and we hiked our way up the Arm. Making it out of the forest and onto the dirt road was a relief, even though everyone had a battle scar or two. In the end it was an awesome trip!

—WILL GREVEN

A MEMORABLE WEEK

Today for Sunday clubs I did dodgeball. We did a whole tournament style, and it was so much fun. This past week I also hiked Nancy's Cascades, and it was kind of difficult. Once we got to our destination, we found a huge waterfall and jumped in the freezing water. This past week was very memorable.

—ARMEN KRIKORIAN

HIKING DAY, A POEM

Two mountains were hiked today.
 I am sure they were made of rock, not clay.
 One of the mountains was named Welsh, the other Dickey.
 I know the second mountain sounds very, very icky.
 We hiked up Welsh with some morale.
 We summited Dickey, with, perhaps, none at all!
 We finished our hike and waited for the bus.
 Some people thought that it had left without us!
 But it came anyway.
 Another great Mowglis Day.

—KAYSHAV N. MITTAL

THE MAHOOSUCS

The Mahoosucs were so fun. I was with Mr. Mac and Mr. Moya, the first day we hiked three mountains and six miles. We arrived at the first campsite pretty late, so we had to sleep in the Overflow tent site. It didn't rain the whole trip! The second day we hiked the Notch and the Arm. Mr. Mac saved two people - they were stuck on a steep part of the path and when we saw them, they asked for help. We brought their bags up and then Mr. Mac pulled them up. Ollie lost his contacts the first night and forgot his glasses, so we had to hike the Notch very slowly. It was really fun overall.

—SPENCER DRAZEK

GREAT WEEK

This week has been fun. I got my Golden Bowstring and my Pro Marksman. I also learned how to play poker and blackjack. This week's trip day was also fun because basically the whole hike was an incline.

—CASH LINDSLEY

GRADUATION FOCUS

Graduating might be a little more difficult, as I am realizing we are already so far into the summer and I haven't made much progress, despite graduation being my focus all along.

—JACK DROS

RED WHITE AND BLUE

This week, I decided I'm going to go for my Red White and Blue. Hopefully I can finish my fifth bar this week! I'm looking forward to a great rest of the summer!

—HORATIO WILCOX

THE COUNSELOR TRADE

Yesterday our dorm had a counselor trade dorms. Mr. D. is so cool. He is a great counselor and very nice.

BLIND SAMURAI

Yesterday we came back from the Mahoosucs. The views were really nice, and the Notch was fun, but very slippery because it had rained. The first day was smooth sailing. It was the second day when things went crazy. I forgot to bring my glasses, so I hiked the second and third day with terrible vision. That's how I earned the trail named "Blind Samurai." After we finished the hike, we got donuts and pizza for dinner.

—OLLIE MCGREEVY

THE HERMIT RETURNS

Camp is great! I am really intent on getting my camping and canoeing ribbons and I think I will get my Canoe Safety this week. This week has been really fun and I got my triangle course requirement with Red Burns after four tries in canoeing. Also, Akela is 4000 % haunted. Two nights ago, at around 1 a.m., we heard someone struggle up the stairs, struggle to open the door, and then shuffle through the dorm. This event is almost identical to what happened in the hermit story Mr. Gulitti had told us the previous night. This was probably a prank, but I'm not sure. Anyhow, that's all I have for today. Until next time,

—ISAAC SPRUNG

BLACKSMITHING & POKER

Today I played poker during clubs. I didn't have the most chips by the end, but I still had fun. Right after that, I went to the forge to watch Blacksmithing. Even though since I wasn't in Akela or up, I couldn't participate, I was still allowed to watch. I learned some things as well, and I will come back next year in Akela and do Blacksmithing and poker as clubs.

—RED BURNS

EARNING RIBBONS

This week has been really fun. I'm close to my red ribbon and I'm about halfway to my green. When I get them, I will have graduated and have gotten my fourth ribbon for Inner Circle.

—CAELAN AKRE

TUBING

The other day, I went tubing with Cooper and got destroyed by the waves. Cooper and I were doing fine and we were surviving the waves made by Mr. Covarrubias, until... Whoosh! We were lifted up high into the air and the tube flipped sideways. Cooper and I both fell off laughing. It was painful, but I want to go tubing again!

—PJ MUNGAH

GETTING CLOSE

Camp seems to be going by much faster than I remembered. I can't believe squads is next week, then it's Crew Week after that. I'm confident I'll be able to graduate because I'm very close to my green ribbon and the only other thing I need is the axe test. Hopefully everyone in my dorm that wants to graduate will graduate.

—NICHOLAS VENTURA

FUN SUNDAY

Today it was a rainy day and we had a dodgeball tournament and I had a lot of fun! Next is lunch and hopefully it is good. And Chapel is going to be interesting and hopefully funny and fun.

—ALONSO BENAVIDES

CREW SIGNUP

On the 22nd day I signed up for crew. I went out on a shell that day! It was really fun and it was the first time I went out on open water, and I had a great time.

WAINGUNGAS AND GAZUNGAS

On Wednesday I swam a Waingunga. It was a Full Waingunga. I did it during sailing. After the Waingunga Mr. Hart took my group to the swimmers raft. We tried to do Gazungas. The only person who did the Gazunga was Mr. Hart.

—DHRUV MOHAN

BUSY WEEK

Today's club I was in dodgeball with Mr. Martinez. It was really fun. On trip day we went to Nancy Cascades, it was really fun jumping in the water and hiking the way up and down. But, suddenly Cristobal by accident knocked down a rock and Mr. Nguyen got hit with the rock. Then on Wednesday I think, it was a very special day for us because Mr. Gulitti told us the Hermit story, and when someone wanted to go pee they needed a partner because they were too scared to go alone.

—IKER MEDINA MORA

THE MAHOOSUCS

This week I went on the Mahoosucs. It was a tough trip, but also rewarding. It was my first pack trip. The Notch and the Arm, the most well-known parts of this trip, were easily the hardest parts. The Notch was just rock climbing, which was fun, and the Arm was a really steep part of the trail in which you walk up rock. In the end I will always remember this trip because of those two parts.

—RAFI UNGER

CLUBS AND CASCADES

Today we had clubs and I did the dodgeball club. We split up into different teams and we played a tournament - best out of three. My team made it to the second round but lost 2-1. Last Thursday we went on a hiking trip to Nancy Cascades and when we got to the top we swam in the cascades. When I was going up the mountain we came to a steep part and I slid down. I was fine but I got one of my cabin mates to help me get up. When we were hiking down we got to that same part and the staff that was leading had a big rock fall on their foot and slid down as well. The other staff helped him and we all kept going. When we were done hiking we took a bus home and had a lot of fun on the bus.

—CKYSON WEBSTER

THE MAHOOSUCS

A few days ago I went on the Mahoosucs and it was the best overnight trip that I ever went on. My favorite part was the Notch. Entering the Notch the temperature dropped and the vegetation started taking over. Towards the end of it Mr. Harvey let me lead the hike. I jumped from rock to rock every single time. We also saw lots of animals, like deer, bunnies, snakes, beaver, and even a moose. In my eyes, this trip really was the best one so far and I hope to do new ones next year.

—SEBASTIAN PHANEUF

A BITTERSWEET WEEK

Over the span of a week, I have had so much happiness and sadness. I was able to go to Belle Island and have quality time with my friends who were four weekers. I miss them so much and wish they had stayed longer. I also got to cook today, and I had a blast.

—ROHAN BHAGAT

DOING HARD THINGS

At Mowglis you do a lot of hard things. On Monday I did fire in the rain. I spent the whole period with my face in the mud, smoke pouring into my eyes, while trying to blow on the fire to keep it alive. On Tuesday I did the high wind triangle course for canoeing. The wind began to pick up on the way back from Onaway point and it was a struggle to move even a few feet. On Thursday we did our Den project at the Chapel, rebuilding the path and building a new staircase. This week was really fun, and I feel even more capable than I did last week.

THE CREW SHELL

I went rowing on the lake in the crew shell. I was in the bow seat. Our boat did pretty well and our only issue was balancing the boat. I had a ton of fun. I'm definitely going to try and go again this week!

—OLLIE MCGREEVY

SQUADS ANNOUNCEMENT

I can't wait to go on squads. Yesterday, the staff voted on the campers who will be on squads, and they will be announced today after Chapel. It is so nerve wracking waiting for the squads to be announced. I'm trying to get Washington Squad because it is a requirement for Wolf's Paw, and my Wolf's Paw is dependent on this vote. If I don't make Washington I'd be pretty disappointed, but in the end it's not my decision, and it is what it is. If I do make Washington I'd be pretty overjoyed, though!

—ERIC SOTO

WHITE CAPS

This past week I went sailing with Spencer in a 420. He is working on his ribbon and I got mine last year. It was so incredibly fun. We went super fast and hiked out for almost the whole sign up. Windy days are truly the best! There were white caps on the lake. A true sailor's dream!

—NATE GREVEN

TRIP DAYS

Have you ever wondered what they do at camp when you're away? Do they repair the toilets or do something even more sinister? For all we know they could be covering up signs of the Hermit returning, or the existence of other foul creatures. Maybe they could be building a super-weapon, or...just repairing the toilets.

—CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

TIMED TRIANGLE

This week I got my timed triangle course with my brother. We got it with 30 seconds left to spare in the time limit. I am enjoying canoeing in general and am working towards my safety. We also had Landsports Day this week, which was fun. I am looking forward to Watersports and Woodsmen's Days.

—RAFI UNGER

TRIP DAY THURSDAY

During the timeline of Wednesday to Friday the entirety of Baloo went on a trip to Belle Island. On the way there Mr. Ham's and Rohan's canoes capsized. Both Mr. Ham and Rohan lost their glasses, but we got s'mores, so all is okay.

—ZORIAN ARCE

RAP BATTLE WITH ONAWAY

On the second night of the Belle Island overnight, we realized that Onaway had an encampment on a nearby island, shouting distance away. We decided to do a Mowgli cheer, and they responded by doing an Onaway cheer. We sang "It was Friday Night When We Set Sail" and "The Den Song." We finished off with "Men of Mowgli," and after that, said goodnight.

—RAAGHAV MITTAL

TUBING

When I went tubing with Kayshav it felt like I was flying through the air. Then I did a back flip off the tube and went into the water! It was so fun.

—GEORGE SAROSI

TRIP DAY

On Thursday our trip was fairly easy; it was four miles up and down the mountain, then we walked an extra mile into town thinking a bus was coming to pick us up. We thought that it would be easier to have the bus pick us up in town, but then Mr. Mac, Mr. CH, and Mr. Harvey came and picked us up in the vans and we realized that we walked an extra mile for no reason. It wasn't that bad, though, because it was just the road.

—JOHNNY DEMOPOULOS

CREW TRYOUTS

Crew tryouts are this week. They're going through the dorms to test everyone's skills. There is going to be a lot of practice on my part. Mr Nguyen. I know you hear me, if you let me on a form, I will give you my dessert!

—JAKE MANNO

CANOEING

A few days ago I got my high wind triangle course requirement in canoeing. It was pretty challenging, but we all managed to get back to camp and all got the requirement. The next day my dorm and I went canoeing around Newfound Lake. On the way back we stopped at a beach and got ice cream. It was very good, but I miss Scoops and the owner of this ice cream shop was interesting. I had a good time and I can't wait for another 10 inspection points.

—SEBASTIAN PHANEUF

DEN DUTY DAY

Den duty day was dope. I got to go on a boat ride in the morning to drop off wood for Baloo. Theo gave me and Caelan an extra hershey bar for helping, and we got to ride in the back of Mr. Greenwell's truck, which I've always wanted to do. We finished our Den Project, and I fully graduated.

—COOPER DRAZEK

THE MAN AT THE FRONT OF THE PACK

He sets the pace, he leads the herd, he is the slowest of the group or he is the least able to continue. He will be the one pushed hardest. He will be pushed farthest beyond his limits. On rough hikes he will suffer the most, but like all others he will continue and with everyone he, too will prosper.

—DENTON MONTGOMERY

THE LAST REQUIREMENT

I'm bad at riflery, and Sharpshooters is the last Den requirement I need. Even though I only need five qualifiers to reach Sharpshooters. Also, squads are announced today and crew boats are already going out, which shows how time flies at Mowglis.

—SAM PEROZEK

SOLO HIGH WIND TRIANGLE CANOE COURSE REQUIREMENT

This week was very fun and eventful. We had fun campfires, did fun activities, had good Industries, but the thing that was the most fun was getting the solo high wind triangle canoe course requirement. It was so FUN! We had to start at the swimmers raft and then went to Paradise Point, which was a bit hard because I kept getting pushed in the direction of Loon Island. Then I went to Onaway Point which was easy, but then it got crazy. I flipped two times at The Hillside but then got back.

—ALEX HAYDEN

DEN PROJECT

This week the big Den did their Den Project. We decided to renovate the Chapel path to make it easier to walk on, and to protect the trees around the path. On Thursday we stayed back instead of going on a trip. We had to move tons of rocks, gravel, and logs. Finally after a day of hard work, the path had been renovated with a new surface of gravel and brand new steps. I'm very proud of the work we did, and I hope that it is appreciated and used for years to come by campers.

A CHALLENGING WEEK

On Wednesday in canoeing I did my high wind triangle course. It was really hard and took us all an hour because there were white caps on the lake! It probably took us 30 minutes to just get from the Onaway buoy back to camp because we were going into the wind and traveled at about 1' per 2 minutes! I have been at riflery a lot lately and I'm trying to get my 5th bar, but I haven't been shooting well. P.S. I hope I make a squad!

—HORATIO WILCOX

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Yesterday we started Crew tryouts and today Squads are announced. It's hard to believe camp is over in only three weeks. Hopefully on Monday I'll get my axe test or at least get very close to it. I can't wait for Crew Week because it's my favorite week of camp and I'm very confident I'll be able to graduate in the next three weeks.

—NICHOLAS VENTURA

PACK TRIP

This week we went on our first pack trip. It all started in the van. While driving I find a bag of tuna in water, it smelt so bad that I passed it to Anton, then Cristobal grabs it and yells “Weee” as he throws it, then it pops all over Isaac. After that setback we finally carried on with the trip. We get to the start of the trail and start hiking. Nothing happened that day other than rain and Cristobal saving our fire. The next day we woke up bright and early to eat breakfast. After breakfast we started hiking, nothing really happened on the hike. When we finally got to the campsite we saw the other group and ate some summer sausage. Later that day we hiked the Horn. The view was so nice. After that we went down the Horn and ate dinner, then we slept. The next day we hiked back to the road and we got donuts on the drive back.

—RICHARD O'DAY

PING PONG PORCH

The Ping Pong Porch is the best place. I go there whenever I have free time and it's where I got good at ping pong. If I come back as a counselor I would try to make it a ribbon.

—YANG SHEN

THE FOURTH WEEK

Today marks the end of my fourth week of my Den year. Camp has been going by way too fast. I thought I had more time. All I need to graduate is five more targets above 35 in the Riflery. What I'm more worried about is Wolf's Paw. I now need my weather, hiking, and nature. I have made decent progress in them, but still. Squads get announced tonight, too. I hope I make Washington, I feel like it's possible. And racing crew gets announced in a week. Again, I think I can make it, but nothing is for sure. That's all that's going on.

—ERIC BECKFORD

BELLE ISLAND OVERNIGHT

We took an overnight trip last week. It took three hours to get to Belle Island by canoe. When we got to Belle Island we explored and found thousands of big blueberries. We probably ate all of them. On day two we canoed to Wellington Beach and took this small, easy nature hike. Then we spent the whole day at the beach. We had lots of s'mores at night. We went stargazing also. On day three we couldn't canoe back because the wind was so strong, so Mr. Robbins drove us back.

—CASH LINDSLEY

FUN WEEK

Today I went mountain biking and it was muddy, but we made a giant line and hit so many drops, and tomorrow we will go to Plymouth Mountain. This week we went backpacking on a ridge, and the four weekers left (my brothers).

—JONAH FAHRENBROOK

WORKING ON RIBBONS

I'm trying to get a lot of ribbons this year to be the best Soukup yet! However, it has been a slow start, swimming is really difficult and the axe test that is required for graduation has taken a while. I rowed very poorly in my first tryout, I was too tall for 5 seat (I think Soukups are genetically built for bow), and I was rusty as I haven't rowed in a while. I hope everything goes well, though.

—COLIN SOUKUP

THE THUNDERSTORM

A few things have happened this week. A huge thunderstorm came through at 11:30 PM and all of Panther watched the night get illuminated by lightning on the writing porch. Also, I'm one requirement away from my canoe safety. And if it could stop raining that would be great!

—NATHANIEL BERGEN

A TON OF FUN

This week was fun. On Wednesday we started our first pack trip, Kilkenny. On the first day we hiked 3.8 miles to the first campsite. It rained all day and we couldn't start a fire. On the second day we hiked 2.1 miles and met Mr. Soukup's group. On the last day we hiked 3.3 miles and Mr. Harvey gave us donuts. That night we had Casino Night. On Sunday I went on the crew boats for the first time this summer. I had a ton of fun.

—HIRO NISHINO

THE BEST TRIP EVER

We went on a camping trip! When we got there Mr. Garcia cooked up burgers on the grill and after that we had s'mores. The day after that we had bagels with oatmeal. After that we went to Wellington Beach! We went on a nature hike and after that we had fun on the beach and swam in the water. This was the best trip ever!

—D.J. MARSH

COME ALONG FOR THE RIDE

Squads are being announced tonight. It is a very nerve wracking experience. I want Washington Squad, so when and if this Howl is read out loud I will either be very happy or disappointed. Other than that boats are going out and these next weeks will be hard. Camp is becoming exciting and I can't wait to come along for the ride.

—THOMAS BOULD

A DIFFICULT RIBBON

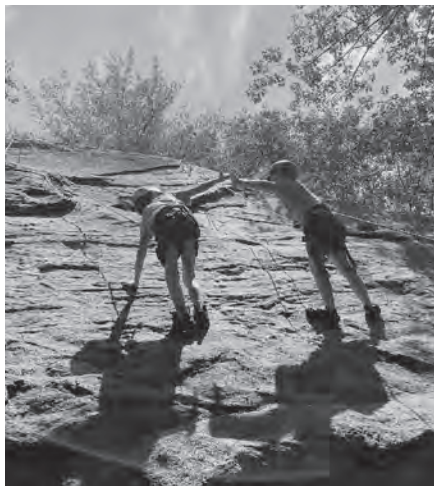

This week I finally got my rowboat safety after a week of being stuck on sculling. I hope the other half of the ribbon goes by a bit easier or I might not be able to get my ribbon.

—EVAN LAI

COXING

Today I did some Crew coxing. It was pretty overwhelming, but I think I did pretty good. We also did our Den Project and I am pretty proud of it.

—LUCAS CERWINSKI

EXCITED FOR CREW WEEK

Yesterday the four weekers left and I was sad to see them go, but my spirits were immediately lifted by Kung Fu Panda and from the time I spent in the Crew boats today. I can't wait until Crew Week!

—THOMAS PATINO

COOKING CLUB AND PACK TRIP

For Clubs today I did the Cooking Club. We made blueberry cake. Akela went on their first and only pack trip. On the last day we didn't eat breakfast or lunch, so Mr. CH called Mr. Hart, and we went to McDonald's. P.S. Mr. Hart, thank you for saying yes.

—MYLES HERNANDEZ

RED RIBBON

I am going to get the red ribbon this year. I am really excited to go on the trip. Canoeing looks simple (and it kind of is), but I really enjoy it. I did the solo high wind triangle course with the rest of the kids in the Industry, it was really hard. We almost didn't make it back. Alex Hayden flipped two times, but he was really persistent and kept going. One of the hardest requirements I've done.

—TYLER GOSS

RAIN AND RACING CREW

Why does it rain? You get wet, cold, and sick. Plus you can't do some Industries and such. But, that's besides the point. Next week is Crew Week. Meaning forms are announced. I hope I make first form or racing crew. Good Hunting!

—ZANE TULLY

A PRETTY GOOD WEEK

This week was sick! On Monday I got my canoe safety and on Tuesday I got my solo portage requirement. On Tuesday we also began packing for our pack trip. I was in Group A and the trip was great. However, it had a rough start. It's a long story, but basically on the van ride to the trailhead I got covered in rotten tuna water. Other than that, everything was fine. We had great weather, great food (courtesy of Mr. Beckford), and good company. Mr. Harvey picked us up with a box of donuts. So, yeah, I had a pretty good week.

—ISAAC SPRUNG

SQUADS WEEK

Next week is Squads Week, and as the four weekers leave there is more and more aspiration/excitement. As much as I wish I made Washington Squad, the more I think that I made Gopher Squad. However, I wish the best to the rest of my Dorm, as I wish that everyone could make Washington.

—PJ MUNGAH

DEN PROJECT

Today is the 25th of July and not much has happened this week beside the Den Project, but that's alright. Our Den Project was adding steps into the Chapel Path (which looks pretty cool). I know last week when we read Howls Mr. Hart read my Howl about me being concerned about graduation. On that note, I'd like to mention that I got my axe test. However, it hasn't been announced or marked down yet. I got my last requirement—First Aid. Graduation seems closer now.

—JACK DROS

THE SWEEP

Yesterday, a massacre took place at Water Sports Day. Cardigans Cunning Coyotes bulldozed through the competition. We've already won Land Sports and Water Sports Day, and with a victory at Woodsman's Day the Coyotes will have a sweep on their hands. Will the dynasty live on or will the Coyotes be stopped? Go Coyotes!

—SAM PEROZEK

CREW HQ

Today is the start of Crew Week so Mr. Hart had the JS clean out the Crew headquarters, and it was nasty. There were four mouse nests and because it's been two years so it also became storage. There were beds and wood everywhere covered in mouse droppings and dust. It's "clean" now at least. So, happy Crew Week and go red, go blue, but always go green!

—MR. SAM HECKER

THE GREATEST WEEK IN CAMP

Tomorrow is the beginning of Crew Week. The Camp will split into two, red and blue. It is the biggest rivalry among the campers. The rowers show off their form's bandana with pride. Then there is Racing Crew. The best form you can make, but with the most pressure on you. May the best crew win, but let's get an RVD!

—OLLIE MCGREEVY

CREW TRYOUTS

Crew tryouts were nerve wracking and fun. I have worked really hard this summer on crew. Fast forward: Last day. Boat signing day. 5:45: Restless, can't sleep, constantly thinking. "Am I going to make a form?" I said in my head. One hour later: "Good morning Toomai! Shower time," said Mr. Nguyen. When I get to the shower, constant thinking x 2. Fast forward to boat signing. New Red Third Form. Here we go boys...

—JAKE MANNO

FIRST CREW WEEK

It's Crew Week and I haven't ever been here for Crew Week because I was a four weeker in Baloo. I am literally the only left-handed person in the camp. I hope I get on Blue Crew, but let's see.

—ANTON FALCONER

WASHINGTON SQUAD

This year's Washington Squad trip was definitely the hardest trip I've ever been on. It was 34 miles of canoeing with a 1.5-mile portage after the first day. Although in the moment it felt pretty rough, I'm proud that we finished it. When Sam and I flipped on the second day, I thought I was going to lose my mind, but all the bad things that happened made the end even more satisfying. Overall, the trip might not have been the most fun but it was definitely the most memorable.

—NICHOLAS VENTURA

HOPING FOR THE BEST

When this Howl is read, I will know what boat I made. I have done my best but it is not under my control anymore. I am currently hoping for the best.

FISHING

This week I was on the Washington Squad trip to Moose River in Maine. At breakfast on the third day I decided to do some fishing, and I caught two fish. After this event I decided to spend every second possible fishing. If I was at the bottom of a rapid waiting for the canoes behind us, I was fishing. If Cooper wasn't making sure I was paddling, I was fishing. At the end of the day, I caught 14 fish.

—CAELAN AKRE

FORMS

Today they are going to announce the boats at campfire and I am very excited to know what form I am making. To be honest I will be happy no matter what form I make.

—SEBASTIAN PHANEUF

FUN NO MATTER WHAT HAPPENS

This week I was fortunate enough to go on Washington Squad, and looking back on it now it was not that bad, but while canoeing the trip felt like hell. It was very monotonous but other than that the trip was relatively pleasant. We were given good food, made good jokes, and just hung out. Other than that, Crews are announced later today and I am very nervous because Mr. Nguyen has only given me one practice. I am very apprehensive, but I know that Crew Week will be fun no matter what happens. Good luck to everyone who wants to make a boat.

WATERSPORTS DAY

Yesterday was awesome! It was Watersports Day and there were so many fun activities, and I participated in the junior cannonball competition and my team came in first place. At the end there was the greasy watermelon event. I was pushing as hard as I could to get the watermelon to the other side. Somehow my team managed to come in first place, and we're in first place from every other team!

—DJ MARSH

ROCK CLIMBING INDUSTRY

I finished my rock climbing industry. We repelled and climbed Artist Bluff, plus we repelled off a 90-foot bridge. We climbed more cliffs. We had a secret surprise at the end...an INDOOR CLIMBING GYM! YAY! We had chocolate and granola bars every day. It was delicious. Thank you Mr. Lottman. I hope I can go again!

—JOSH YUN

GOOD DAY IN THE RIFLERY

Today during Riflery I shot a 45 and 46. Me, Alex, and Abdi shot a 46 in the same round!

—MYLES HERNANDEZ

CREW

About two days ago I was trying out for Cox. I was confident and I was thinking I did good. It was easy and hard. My friend said I was loud. I want to get a form.

—RYLAND CASE

CREWS AND BOATS

On Thursday we had a nice hike up Stinson Mountain. Today is the day when they announce crews and boats for Crew Week. Some of my friends are trying for third form, so I hope they get it because they've worked really hard. Also, the crew coach from 2019, Ms. Mira, came for Crew Week. I'm excited for all the fun things Crew Week brings, and I'm hoping for an RVD.

—JOHNNY DEMOPOULOS

AN ADVENTUROUS WEEK

This week was an adventurous week. On Monday, I went rock climbing with Mr. Lottman and Mr. Moya at a 40-foot cliff at Rumney. It was only 25 minutes from camp, yet it had two amazing routes with lots of handholds. On Tuesday, I went on a 40-minute drive to Franconia Notch, where I rappelled and climbed a 65-foot cliff. Some people got scared and wouldn't rappel, but I did. On Wednesday, I went to the same area as the day before, but a different part. This time, I rappelled off an 80-foot bridge. Mr. Moya even jumped off it for an astounding 20 feet! That same day I also got Point of Aim in Archery. On Thursday, I went back to Rumney and scaled a 90-foot cliff. It also had a secret handhold that you could use to lean back really far. On Friday I went to a rock climbing gym and climbed a 5.7 grade climb and got a requirement. 5.7, by the way, does not mean feet and inches in this case. On Saturday, it was Watersports Day. My team got second place, but I still had fun. Finally, today I went mountain biking during clubs. I rode down to the waterfront twice and took some good jumps. Overall, this week was a blast and was awesome.

—RED BURNS

CREW WEEK

I am super excited for Crew Week. I am nervous for the announcing of boats. I want to make racing crew, but I think I am going to make first or second form. I hope that it is a BVD this year!!

—HIRO NISHINO

CREW TRYOUTS - 2 SEAT

We did crew tryouts on Friday - I hope to get third form. They will announce it tonight at campfire. I want to row in seat 2 or 4. I tried out for it many times for practice, mostly on the ergs. I did music club today and it was fun. I can't wait to see if I get on a boat with my friends. I think I got it because of how hard it was trying out. I can't believe we have almost two weeks left as of tomorrow. Also, I feel much better because we took a shower today. I can't wait for Crew Week. Hopefully Red wins this year.

—DANIEL DEVINE

GETTING TOWED

This Friday, me, Eric Beckford, and Zane went rowboating. It was pretty normal until Eric tried to get his deep-water entry and exit requirement. The wind started to pick up as Eric was trying to re-enter the boat. It was then that we realized that we were slowly but surely drifting out. When Eric finally got back into the boat we were already past the buoy. We tried rowing back, but it just seemed like we were staying in place. When we finally rowed past the buoy and reached Waingunga Rock, we were overjoyed because the one and only Mr. Gulitti came out on the Starcraft and towed us back in.

—EVAN LAI

CREW WEEK RISING

I'm very excited for Crew Week. Although it is my last year as a camper, I am excited to pass on Red Crew traditions to other younger campers. My entire dorm has been amped up, as we all have been waiting and discussing about it since week one. I hope the better boat/crew wins. Good luck to all.

—PJ MUNGAH

WASHINGTON SQUAD

I feel really honored to be able to be selected for Washington Squad with the Denites. I have wanted this since I started working at camp in 2018. So grateful for everyone to have trusted me to do this trip, and to allow me to experience this journey.

—MR. HENRY HARVEY

MOUNTAIN BIKING

Today, I did mountain biking for the first time. I love going downhill really fast. Anyway, I can't wait to go mountain biking again next year!

—JULIAN LEON

FUN WEEK

This week was SO FUN! We did so many fun things, let me start with the most fun thing that happened. Tryouts for Crew! It was so fun, I hope I get third form.

—ALEX HAYDEN

ROCK CLIMBING

Rock climbing is really fun! We go on tons of trips and go climbing every day unless it's raining. My favorite thing I have done at rock climbing is rappelling off of a bridge. It was amazing. On the last day of rock climbing we went to an indoor gym. Rock climbing is sick.

—MYLES DUCKETT

GOLDEN BOW STRING

This has been a very fun week. I earned my golden bow string. It took a while and I had to work hard for it. Soon I will get my silver arrow. I also made a big Thor's hammer and I am making a box for it. Then I will present it in the art show.

—ROHAN BHAGAT

FIRST TIME MOUNTAIN BIKING

Today was my first time mountain biking! I hit jumps and raced down hills. I jumped off boulders and rode over roots. What fun I have at Mowglis!

—JUSTIN LEON

ANOTHER GREAT MOWGLIS DAY

A lot happened this week. On Wednesday, I coxed for the first time in my life. On Friday I did crew tryouts for coxswain! And yesterday was Watersports Day. I did three gazungas and the urchin toss. Gazungas are belly flops, but you yell gazunga and inflict as much pain to yourself as possible. Urchin Toss is where you lay down and one person picks up your legs and one person picks up your arms and they swing you into the air over the water and you make a big splash. The Coyotes won the day, with us in second place. Another great Mowglis day!

TIME FLIES

I can't believe it's already Crew Week, I can't wait for forms to be announced, wondering what I will get. Gopher Squad was definitely an experience, not sure if I ever want to do it again, but at least I can say I did. We went to Cardigan and then slept at the Crag Shelter. The second day we hiked 14 miles while trail clearing. It was not the normal Gopher Squad. We finished at Wellington Beach, on a Thursday, so we almost saw Panther hiking Sugarloaf. Crazy how time flies here.

—SPENCER DRAZEK

CREW

This week has been good. I went into the Crew boats for the first time, and I almost have my canoe safety. I hope to make first form, but I'll be happy with second form, too. I can't wait for Crew Week, and all the fun that it will bring.

—ARI UNGER

THE DEN OF '21

Den '21 is coming to an end. I feel we still have so much to experience and laugh about, although time runs short. Squads were tiring and not what I hoped for, however I feel it will be a memory forever. Because during the lowest moments our group pushed through, we turned the most strenuous trip at Mowglis into the trip I will remember for the rest of my life. Crew Week starts in a few hours, although our dorm will be split by crews, we'll still seem to get along! I love my Den group and am sad it's nearly over. I will remember those that made my experience so great and want everyone to make the most of the surprisingly short seven weeks at Camp Mowglis!

—COLIN SOUKUP

A POEM ABOUT HOWLS

Oh to write a Howl...
It can make a man scowl.
For me, it is an annoying chore,
It can really be quite a bore.
Though, I did do some fun stuff this week,
Of this fun stuff, I will give you a peek.
I acted in a play in Drama,
And for some reason, I also drew a llama!
This I did, and much more,
I am enjoying camp even more than I did before!

—KELLAN LOCKHART

BLACKSMITHING CLUB

Today was clubs and I chose Blacksmithing. If the club is available next week you should join! It is tons of fun! I made a hook which was really fun to make and looks really sick! I am super excited to see what the summer holds and also to get my Den requirements out of the way. P.S. Panther is the chilliest dorm.

—HORATIO WILCOX

IN THE WILD

In the wild, I can feel so free
Unbound against my right for humanity
I can run with the foxes
And I can creak with toads
Make a hiss from a snake
And it couldn't matter from what snake
All it matters it is me
With the running water streams
And the thud of raindrops, gently one by one,
The big oak trees do not stammer
For it is only the woodpecker's hammer
And for all creatures to come to rest
Where the crest moon is shining
And then the Jungle says good rest.

—LYON COURTNEY

TENNIS RIBBON

On Tuesday I got my first ribbon! It was my tennis ribbon. It was really hard, but it was fun. Mr. Lloyd helped me, and Mr. Harvey did also. It took me six weeks to get it. The hardest requirement was the fitness test! It was hard because we had to do a minute plank, then we had to run to Hope to Be, then we had to do fifty push-ups in two minutes! I am so happy I got my first ribbon!

—MYLES DUCKETT

CANOEING

On Tuesday we went canoeing on the Coppermouth River and we hung out. On the way back we all flipped over a bunch of times and our stuff got wet, but it was really fun. Today we are going to Scoops.

—JONAH FAHRENBRUCH

TALENT SHOW

The Crew Week Talent Show was AMAZING! First, Mr. Litalien was head banging to George's violin performance, and Ned was about to do his dance. Suddenly, a bat started flying around and freaking everybody out. A minute later, it flew out the door. Then Ned came up to the stage. After that, the Zamboni Bros., LLC performed, and they were the true stars of the show. HUP!

—RAAGHAV MITTAL

RACE DAY

You line up at the start. Your start sends you off. Adrenaline is pumping. Our Cox calls the sprint. The final stroke is here. One crew cries and another rejoices. This was Crew Day 2021!

—ZANE TULLY

ALMOST OVER

I can't believe it, camp is almost over. But, I'm really happy with all of the stuff I've done. I'm gonna have my red and green ribbons by the end of this week. Me, Zane, Thomas, Cooper, Peter, and Sasha formed the high consul. I did get my canoe safety this year, and that was pretty cool.

—NATHANIEL BERGEN

SECOND FORM

This week was so exciting, it was Crew Week! This year I made a boat, I made second form!! I can't believe that I got second form! It was so fun, and I even won my race. Unfortunately it was an RVD, but it's ok. BVD all the way!

—ALEX HAYDEN

CLOSE RACE

Crew Week was amazing, the racing crew race was so close. The sprint by the red crew was super fast. I really thought it was going to be a sweep until that point. I'm glad that I could row and win in second form. Thank you to everybody who made it possible.

—ADDISON CALLUM

MOUNTAIN BIKING

Today I did mountain biking for the first time. I went down a hill safely. I tried doing a trick but I fell on some grass, but it was not painful. I tried again and I did it! Then we went down the hill where all the dorms were, and it was very fast but fun! Mountain biking was very fun.

—DJ MARSH

CREW WEEK

Yesterday we had the races of blue and red crew, I was second form for blue crew and we won. Third and first forms won too, but racing crew lost. But it was a fun day. Then on Thursday we went out in canoes for Trip Day and it was really fun. On Friday I saw the biggest bonfire in my life, it was awesome. And on Sunday we are going to Scoops!

—IKER MEDINA MORA

THIRD FORM

Third Form, the first time I've been in third form! Sadly blue won third form, but red won the race. Go red!

—JULIAN LEON

ONLY ONE MORE WEEK

This week was Crew Week and my team won aka Red Crew, the best crew. I'm really excited that there's one week left.

—DANIEL DEVINE

COMFORT

Camp has been great, my favorite part of camp is the moments of comfort between the buglar's alarm and revelry. Unfortunately, my least favorite part of camp is when revelry is played and you need to leave comfort and enter the cold world again.

—THOMAS CHAMBERLAIN

TIME FLIES

Camp has flown by. There is only one week left. Crew Week was very fun. I won my crew race, but it still ended up an RVD. I also got my intermediate and I no longer use my beginners. Also, on Trip Day we hiked Mt. Morgan.

—PRESTON MORGAN

DIVING CLUB

Today we had diving club! It was perfect weather and it was amazing to soak up the sun! I hope to dive/tan again soon!

—NATE GREVEN

THIRD FORM

This Saturday was the race, I was so excited but at the same time nervous. At breakfast Zach gave me a part of his steak and it was very good. When it was time to race I would almost say “I don’t want to race” but no, I didn’t do that. The race started, and at first the other crew was a little bit further ahead than us, but then we did “Power 10” and then after a few strokes we went ahead and we won!

—CRISTOBAL GONZALEZ

THE LAST SUNDAY OF CAMP

Today is the last Sunday I will have as a camper, it’s the definition of bittersweet. I get to graduate along with all my friends, but odds are this is my last week seeing most of them. To all the younger campers, this seems cliché, but cherish your time here and make the most out of it. I salute you, Den 2021!

—YANG SHEN

NEARING THE END OF CAMP

This is one of the last Howls I will ever write. It’s nearing the end of my Den Year. I have now under a week to finish my Wolf’s Paw, but I think I can finish in time. Once that’s done, I’ll have made the most of my camp experience. I’ll have graduated, Inner Circle, Washington Squad, Winning Red Racing Crew, and Wolf’s Paw. I’ll definitely miss being a camper, but I think I’ll come back as a Yearling and a JS. Mowglis has left a significant impact in my daily life, and that’s why I think I’ll keep coming back, even when my camp days are over. Den 2021, I salute you.

—ERIC BECKFORD

THIRD FORM RACE

I am bow seat for Blue's third form boat and—"Buzz"—I pull exactly like the person in front of me. And in what felt like five seconds it was over. When I got back, I asked Mr. Robbins who won and his reply was that "Blue won third form!" BVD.

—GEORGE SAROSI

THE SANDBAR

On Thursday we went on a canoe trip for Trip Day. When we first started to canoe we were heading to the sand bar and we ended up at a dead end on the river where there was a road and a few houses. We turned around and after 20 minutes we got to the sand bar. When we got to the sandbar we played football and canoed around the area we were hanging out at. When we left the sandbar everyone started to capsize and all our stuff got wet. Around 3:30 we headed back to camp and put our canoes back. Overall the trip was very fun and I am glad that I got to go on it.

—CKYSON WEBSTER

GOALS

Now that Crew Week is over, there is not much time left in Camp. All my goals are coming together and I think I will be done with Inner Circle and graduation by Friday or Saturday. Right now I don't want to leave, but I think when my goals are complete that will change.

—LUCAS CERWINSKI

A MEMORABLE WEEK

Crew Week was really memorable and even though I was on the winning side I learned more than just victory. I know I learned something important this week, and I'm proud to say it was an RVD!

—SAM PEROZEK

INSPECTION POINTS

We got 20 points and now we get another Scoops. I hope we get two scoops or at least real Scoops. I'm very happy that our dorm actually wanted to clean and I think it paid off.

—WILL GREVEN

THE DISASTER ON THE LAKE

On Thursday for Trip Day, we went on a canoe trip. We were supposed to go down the Cockermouth River but there was a tree blocking the way, so we went to a shallow area and chilled. Then we started to get ready and paddle around the lake. We decided that we wanted to flip our canoes. So, we put our stuff in a dry canoe and flipped ours. I was in a canoe with Anton. Richard was in the dry canoe and he was going to T-rescue us. We were doing well and we told Anton not to get on the side of the flipped canoe because it would flip. But of course, Anton did that which caused Richard to fall out of his boat, which was the dry boat. Then since Armen was trying to level the boat all the weight was on one side, and he flipped the dry boat. All our stuff got soaked. It was funny.

—HIRO NISHINO

GOTTA CATCH THEM ALL

I can't believe how many things I have done here at camp, but one of my favorites is how Mr. Hart turned us into Pokemon. The way he did this is by writing what Pokemon we are and what our power levels are. I am a level 36 Fryalligator and I keep on begging for protection.

—ZORIAN ARCE

MOWGLIS CREW

There truly is nothing like Mowglis crew. I wish I had been doing it since my first year here. Now that it is my last year the loss hurts even more, but at the end of the day I am just grateful I got to be a part of Blue Racing Crew. The bond that I have formed with those on racing crew has been strengthened tenfold.

—LUCIEN SHIH

HIGH HOPES

Crew Week has just finished! Even though Blue won third, second, first, and Cubs, Red won racing crew! This stole the sweep from blue crew and turned it into an RVD!!! Though I lost in first form this year, I have high hopes next year for racing crew and I plan for another RVD!

—THOMAS PATINO

FUN AT CAMP

Wow, camp is going by so fast! We are already done with Crew Week and thankfully it was an RVD! On Thursday my dorm went canoeing on the Cockermouth River. It was awesome! The best part, or should I say the most interesting part, was when I stole Mr. Lloyd's paddle and he flipped my canoe. Race Day was great. Even though Blue Crew and second form wiped the floor with us, it's okay because Red Racing Crew won. I can't wait to see what the last week of camp has in store for me!

—ISAAC SPRUNG

FIRST FORM

Crew Week just ended and I think that this year's Crew Week has been the best. I made first form stroke. Sadly this year first form lost, but the day ended in an RVD.

—RICHARD O'DAY

IT'S OFFICIAL

It's official. I am Red Crew. You know what is also official? It's an RVD, and do you know one more thing that is official? The last week of camp! I think I will try crew outside of camp so I would have a better chance at racing crew in Den.

—CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

THE MOWGLIS SPIRIT LIVES ON

It's such a privilege to be at camp, few can experience Mowglis and I'm so grateful I've been able to spend six years here. It's crazy how for seven weeks my dormmates are my best friends, but after camp ends I go back to my friend group at school. I love the way of camp, it sneaks life lessons and morals into the fun Industries and everyday life. I've learned so much and when I come back as staff I hope to carry the Spirit of Mowglis into the next generation of boys.

—COLIN SOUKUP

GONE BY IN A FLASH

It's the last week of camp. Only seven more days with your friends. Crew Week just ended and it feels like this summer has gone by in a flash. It has definitely been the fastest summer I have been here by far. It's crazy how we won't see our friends for a year! At least our dorm (Panther 2021) hit our goal of 20 inspection points. Panther 2021, I salute you.

—OLLIE MCGREEVY

A GOOD DAY

Crew Week was awesome! I made third form and won my race. I'm blue, by the way. First, second, and third won. Racing crew we lost. It was still fun, though. I also liked the food. That day was delicious. Snack and dinner and dessert were killer. Yeah, that was a good day.

—JOSH YUN

THE FASTEST YEAR

This year has flown by the fastest out of all my years at camp. With this being my final year I want it to end on a high note. I leave with no regrets. With this being the final week of camp, everyone is nervous about meeting with the goals they set at the beginning of the summer. If I want to accomplish my goals this year, I'll have to work my butt off to earn my Wolf's Paw. Everyone is on crunch time. Reflecting back on the summer, every day at Mowglis is precious and everyone among us tries to make the most of it. Next year when I'm staff I'll be helping others find their place at camp and make the most of their time here, but for now I'll enjoy my final week as a camper.

—ERIC SOTO

CREW WEEK

Crew Week was great. Although blue lost, I still had a lot of fun during the open periods, and the race day meals were awesome!

—ALEX PETERS

CRUNCH IT ALL OUT

Now seeing as this is the last week of camp the feeling of harshness has begun to set in. I have an RVD, working towards Rifle Team, and am working towards all my ribbons. While I think I can make it and earn everything I want, I am still scared. I just have to crunch it all out. It will be a fun week.

—THOMAS BOULD

MOUNTAIN BIKING

Today I joined the mountain biking club and rode a bike for the first time. Thanks to Mr. C.H. and Mr. Paige I was able to learn how to ride a bike. This was the best club I've ever joined. Big shoutout to Mr. C.H. and Mr. Paige.

—EVAN LAI

CREW DAY

When the races finally came, third form was first. Blue launched first, and when the race started blue was in the lead, and third form brought home a BVD. Then it was time for me in blue second form. When the race started we were so far ahead we could see the boat while rowing. BVD. Then first, BVD. Everybody was hoping for a clean sweep, but at the end of the race, red won. RVD.

—GEORGE MONTGOMERY

CREW WEEK

Crew Week ended yesterday. It was fun, with activities ranging from Capture the Flag to poster making. I didn't make a form, but at least my crew won.

—RED BURNS

FUN WEEK

Today we went to Baloo Cove, it was my club and it was fun. Last week was Crew Week and it was an RVD - yay!

—ZELLAN TULLY

CREW WEEK RVD 2021

So much has happened this week. I got third form coxswain and Crew Week was a blast. We had a spectacular bonfire, two energetic pep rallies, and an awesome race day. There was also a talent show with the Zamboni Brothers (aka the staff) and some practices with my boat. Props to red third form: me, Charles and Thomas Chamberlain, Justin and Julian Leon, Daniel Devine and Zellan Tully. Thank you Red Crew and Blue Crew.

—KAYSHAV MITTAL

A VERY WET DAY

Crew Week has just ended, and the end of camp is coming. Yesterday Blue Third, Second, and First Forms won, but Racing Crew lost. The day overall was lots of fun. I also raced in the third form race. It was fun and I was kind of nervous. For dinner we ate very good ribs, and it was a very memorable meal. Before Crew Week on Thursday we went on a canoe trip, almost everyone capsized their boats to do a practice T-Rescue. Our boat of Richard and I tried to T-Rescue Hiro and Anton, but Anton pushed down on our boat, which forced the boat with me and Richard to capsize. All our bags were floating in the water. Let's just say there were a lot of soggy sandwiches. That day was very, very wet.

—ARMEN KRIKORIAN

THE LAST WEEK OF CAMP

This week has been pretty good. I'm enjoying my time here, and I'm sad that it will come to an end. Crew Day was really fun, and an experience that I won't forget. I'm almost done with my campfire bench in woodshop, and I'm excited to see what this last week of camp will bring.

—ARI UNGER

Mrs. Holt's Day

LAST DAY OF CAMP

It's the last day of camp, I am so tired. On Monday I got my swimmers. It's so cool to be on the swimmers RAFT! On Wednesday we went to Mt. Cardigan, it was fun because all of the camp was there. And I was playing in the Tennis Tournament and won my first game vs. Thomas Chamberlain. And in the quarterfinals, I lost vs. PJ Mungah. This is my last Howl. I am going to enjoy the last day of camp.

—IKER MEDINA MORA

A MAGICAL PLACE

This week was a good week for me. I finally got my seventh bar and am going to get my RWB ribbon in my Den year. I'm going to miss this place. I'm definitely coming back for my Den year. Despite all of the injuries I had this year, it doesn't match up with all of the fun I had. This place is magical.

—PETER NATALE

BITTERSWEET ENDING

Camp ending is always bittersweet with Mrs. Holt's Day upon us. Looking back it's been an interesting year. The masks at the start of camp. The ribbons in the middle. And the awards at the end. Camp is always special, even in these times.

—ADDISON CALLUM

AKELA SUMMER

My Akela summer has been a special one. It started with me meeting many new people. Another thing that made my summer great is that I learned many things. I learned axemanship, crew, and many other things. Something else that made my summer great was the trips. The trips were a lot of fun, whether it was an overnight hike or just a day hike, they were still a lot of fun. But hands down the best week of camp has been Crew Week. Crew Week was so much fun, I made first form, but sadly we lost. Akela 2021 has been a special one.

—RICHARD O'DAY

THE BEST SUMMER OF MY LIFE

This has been the best summer of my life! I have made so many new friends, had so many memorable experiences, and tried so many new things. Here are my favorite trips:

1. Nancy Cascades: A good hike with a freezing—but amazing—cascade to swim in.
2. Cockermouth River: Lost chips and capsizing.
3. Kilkenny Ridge: Tuna mobile. Enough said.

Best new experience: TUBING.

New friends: Everyone in my dorm.

—ISAAC SPRUNG

READY FOR NEXT YEAR

I can't believe this year is already over. This year I made Inner Circle and I now have five ribbons. I enjoyed every trip, especially the Mahoosus. Overall, I really enjoyed this year and I can't wait to come back next year.

—SEBASTIAN PHANEUF

THE PANTHER ART SHOW

It's the last week of camp and Panther got their second Scoops trip. With our 20 hard earned inspection points spent we decided to have some fun. Each person in the dorm made their bed in an amusingly unorthodox way. Some simply flipped their beds around with the pillow facing the hallway. Yet others made the bed sheets sideways and won the award for most uncomfortable bed to sleep in. Will, whose bed was a large crib (for some reason), draped his sheets over the edges of the bed railings and proceeded to place Nahtaniel's bed on top of his. Some made the blanket fold go all the way to the foot of their bed and I removed my bed's frame and made my mattress on the floor. Everyone had a good laugh after inspection.

—DENTON MONTGOMERY

A FUN YEAR

Camp is almost over. It's been really fun. Racing crew, axe test, canoe safety, and more. I want to thank all the staff and hope that they have a good rest of the year. 2021, I salute you!

—ZANE TULLY

HAPPY AND SAD

It's the last full day of camp. I am sad and happy to leave camp. I am happy that I get to see family and all the stuff back home. I am sad that I won't get to do the things that I can do at camp until next year.

—CASH LINDSLEY

TIME TO SAY GOODBYE

The summer was very fun, but it is time to say goodbye. We did a lot of things, we learned a lot of things, and most importantly we made a lot of friends. Like the song says "And foremost in memory Akela will stand." And that's it for all Mowglis. I had a lot of fun. Thank you Mowglis!

—CRISTOBAL GONZALEZ

THE LAST DAY

We will all be leaving tomorrow, but I am still happy. I have made so many friends and learned so many things, and I am ready to take this new knowledge and skill home and use it. But I also can't wait to go home and catch up on everything and sleep in my bed. Farewell Mowglis.

—THOMAS CHAMBERLAIN

FUN EVERYDAY

This is my last time writing this summer. I will really miss camp and my friends. I loved this summer, there wasn't one day when I didn't have fun. I love it here and hope to be back next year!

—COOPER BENGTON

ROCK CLIMBING RIBBON

I got my rock climbing ribbon this year! Two years of hard work. I can't wait till next year so that I can try Crew. This season flew by. Well, bye Mowglis!

—JULIAN LEON

AN AMAZING PLACE

Today is the last day of camp. I had a lot of fun here. I got one ribbon this year, and I am close to my red ribbon, and I have my yellow ribbon. I made a lot of friends here. This camp is amazing because we get to do different things! I love this place!

—MYLES HERNANDEZ

KNIFE TEST

The time I have had at Mowglis has been awesome. I know next year will be even better. Plus, I will have my knife test.

—ROHAN BHAGAT

MR. L. JENKINS

Today is my last Howl. Camp has been so fun. I have gotten my pro marksmen, marksmen, and first-class marksmen. It took a long time, but it was worth it. But, the biggest thing is that I made a friend. Mr. L. Jenkins. My best friend and the best JS ever. He got me to second form, he gave me tips. He was the best. Mr. Jenkins, this Howl is for you!

—JAKE MANNO

A SURPRISING SUMMER

The summer has been very surprising. Ribbons are the most encouraging thing you should do this summer if you are staying for seven weeks. I feel good after getting my Grey and Yellow ribbon, and it feels important to me. This was a special summer. Shoutout to Mr. Muchacho and Covarrubias.

—ANTON FALCONER

Red Ribbon trip

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

I have done everything I have wanted to do. I got my red and orange ribbons and got Inner Circle. This summer has gone by so fast and I can't wait till next year. Den is going to be awesome.

—WILL GREVEN

A GREAT SUMMER WITH MR. JENKINS

This year has gone by so fast. Mr. L. Jenkins is the best JS. He helped me so much with crew and I hope he comes back next year in Baloo. I hope everyone had a good summer. I'll be happy to get my ribbon tomorrow, black and white ribbon to be exact.

—DANIEL DEVINE

LE HOWL DE FINALIS

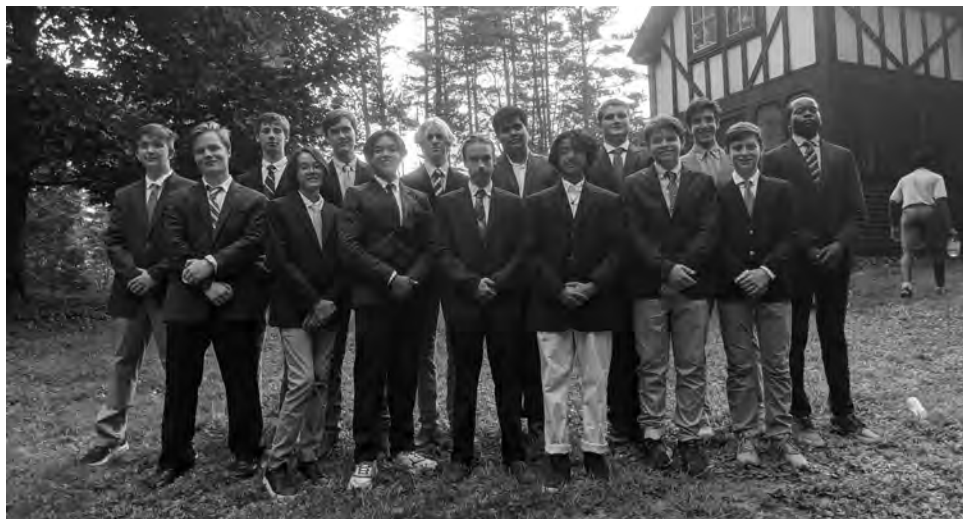

This is my final Howl of the summer. As I reflect on what I have done, I notice a few things. All the things I did were more fun because of my friends. Also, I accomplished a lot, and have actual goals for my next years. This summer has flown by. GOOD HUNTING ALL!

—RAAGHAV MITTAL

THE BEST SUMMER OF MY LIFE

So much happened this summer. For one, I got better at tetherball. I made Third Form Red Cox. Red Crew won, I got my crafts ribbon. Candlelight ceremony is tonight, and tomorrow I leave. Today is Woodsman's Day. I learned how to play BS, slapjack, blackjack, doohead, and slamwitch. I made some new friends and met up with old ones. We didn't get Scoops. Bummer. I want to thank Mr. Robbins, Mr. Hart, Ms. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Leafé, Mr. Z, the nurses, Mr. Hammond, Mr. Nguyen, Mr. Slater, Toomai, Mr. Beever, and the Toomai staff: Mr. L. Jenkins (best JS), Mr. Drennan, Mr. Redling, and Mr. Williams for the best summer of my life!

—KAYSHAV MITTAL

Graduates' Dinner

2021 CUB HISTORY

Cubland was quiet when I first arrived. It had the eerie stillness of a theatre before the actors arrive or a classroom before the school year starts. I sat in the quiet, contemplating what it would look like bustling with children laughing and playing. I sat hoping that I could teach them something and that they would be happy this summer.

The staff arrived; all but one of the Cub counselors were new, like me. Their nerves and excitement matched mine. We all wondered what the summer would bring and quickly got to work cleaning, organizing, and getting to know one another as a team. We held an incredible duty to the Cubs to make sure they were safe, cared for, happy, and having fun. We quickly bonded over this shared responsibility and anticipated the day they would arrive.

The day when the Campers descended upon Cubland came quickly. The counselors set to work immediately teaching and guiding Campers to their bunks, encouraging them to sit and unpack with them; our duty to teach independence and self-sufficiency had already begun in our first moments with the kids.

Unpacked, the campers immediately fled to the gaga pit to make new friends and rekindle friendships from previous years. The excitement in the air was palpable, and you could feel the kids' craving for the social interactions melt away as they played name games and icebreakers on the field.

The first day flew by, as did the first few weeks. Campers learned quickly that reveille was the signal to arise from their bunks, and many Cubs promptly joined in with Mr. CH and Mr. Paige's "GOOD MOOOOORNING MOWGLIS!" call for those who weren't roused by the bugle. Sheets were quickly stripped, and some bunks were hastily made as the kids prepared for the eagerly anticipated Soupy call. Breakfasts were scarfed down, and Industries and sign-ups were decided. Plates were cleaned and passed down the table before heading back to Cubland for bunk-making and duties.

Cubs enthusiastically and eagerly reported to their Industries and sign-ups, favorites being Riflery, Archery, Tubing, Arts and Crafts, and anything involving being in a boat of any kind. Hungry for knowledge and adventure, the Cubs dove into each industry with fervor. Confidence grew each day with each new skill and word of encouragement from Industry leaders and older Campers from the Pack.

Thursday Trip Days were met with mixed reactions. Many were enthusiastic and spirited; others were timid and nervous. Steep mountain trails and intense physical challenges were intimidating to many, and many tears were shed. This is where the Cubs were significantly tested for their perseverance and resolve. Step by step, with cheers and words of encouragement from peers and Counselors alike, each Cub ascended the peaks of each physical, mental, and emotional mountain, and Mowglis Men were made.

Crew Week descended upon us, and camaraderie and friendly competition ensued. The Cubs were thrilled to work hand in hand with the Pack and show off their Crew colors. Crew Day came, and anticipation was high as each Crew crossed the finish line and winners

CUBS 2021

*Front Row: Ned Hanrahan, Armand Phaneuf, Dru Robbins, Paul Sarosi, Blake Soltysik, Steven Lucarelli, Ben Wilcox, Brian Sharkey
2nd Row: Ian Matteson, Adrian Morgan, Max Rudolph, Alex Lottman, Forest Phelps, Heyward Wilcox, Andrew Jacobs

were announced. Disappointment and elation were the emotions of the day, and Cubs learned how to lose with grace and win with humility. At the end of the day, the oar was raised, bandanas were removed, and body paint was (mostly) washed away.

The end of summer arrived, favorite memories were shared, and promises to return were made. Cubs packed their bags with Counselors in a beautiful mirroring of the beginning of summer. Once bags were packed, Cubs fled to the gaga pit to solidify friendships for next summer. Tears and hugs were doled out as Campers greeted their grown-ups after long weeks away. Counselors, teary-eyed, smiled and waved as our Cubs drove away. Bittersweet emotions racing as the responsibility to keep kids safe, cared for, and happy was lifted. These children, who were strangers seven weeks ago, had become family.

Cubland was quiet as I got ready to leave. It had the eerie stillness of a theatre after a show or classroom at the end of a school year. Echoes of laughter and singing still ringing in my ears. I sat in the quiet, hoping that my Cubs would have a good school year and that they learned something that they could share. I sat in the quiet and smiled, knowing next summer we would all be together and we would be able to do it all again.

—ABBY BOONE

COOL OLD THINGS

So far camp is a blast! We got to see a really, really, really, really old car. It was super, super rusty and it was breaking down. It was over a hundred years old. Peter also found a really old gas can that was 80 to 90 years old. And we also found the old ropes course. There were rusty ropes, bottles, wood, rungs, and old nails. It was so cool!

—CIARAN CLARK

TOILET AND TAIL LIGHT

Today is Sunday. Sunday is the day when we do clubs. I did a club with Mr. Hart. We fixed the tail light first and it was really fun. Then we fixed the toilet. Today is July 4th.

—ADRIAN MARK MORGAN

THE FIXER UPPERS JULY 4TH

Today I got to fix a tail light on a car. Mr. Hart taught us a lot of things and tools. Then we fixed a toilet! He showed us how a toilet works. Then we fixed it. We were supposed to fix a mirror, but no time! Although I had a great time and experience.

—WILL SCHLACKS

JOAQUIM'S HOWL

What I liked was that I climbed a mountain. I also got to ride a kayak. I went on a trip and found an early 1900s car.

—JOAQUIM FONTANA

PAUL'S LIST

Favorite counselor: Mama Boone

Favorite friends: Blake, Joaquim, Xavier

Favorite meal: hotdogs

Favorite Activity: Riflery

Today we made a puppy party. The cat always sleeps in my bed. My favorite is Xavier.

—PAUL SAROSI

FAVORITES

My friend's name is Paul and my favorite counselor is Mr. Santos and my favorite food is the pizza.

—XAVIER MARTIN

CHILL CLUB

It was Sunday Club and I chose the chill club. We played music, chilled out, and danced. We even rick rolled our neighbors the art club. It was awesome! Mr. Santos is the best at hosting clubs and the art club danced with us!

—GRAHAM MCADAMS

BEST.CLUB.EVER.

Today was club day! There were so many clubs! There was ultimate frisbee, art, board games, etc. But there was one that stood out to me the most. The nap club! Wow, that club was cool! BEST! CLUB! EVER! With the best counselor, Mr. Santos.

—CHRISTOPHER LOCKHART

SUNDAY CLUBS

Today is Sunday we had clubs and I joined the puppy club with Azelia and Boyd and I met a counselor that is the coolest staff ever. His name is Mr. Lou aka Cam. He makes me laugh. He's smart, kind, athletic, and strong. I had the best day ever at Mowglis and the counselors are the best.

—KINGSLEY NWAISE

MY HOWL

I like swimming at soak because we get to push each other off the mat. And we splash each other.

—GRANT WEIDMAN

NATURE'S ADVENTURE

Today we saw a car from the early 1900s we also found the rope course from 30 years ago. The car was all rusted up and there was nothing inside it. The rope course was still in pretty good shape in some parts, other parts were not in shape.

—MAX PETERKOSKI

BLAKE'S PUPPY PARTY

We played with Mr. Hart's and with Ms. Boone's dogs. Mr. Hart's dog's name is Boyd and Ms. Boone's dog's name is Azalea. We played catch.

—BLAKE SOLTYSIK

"NAP" CLUB

Today is Sunday. For clubs, I did nap club with Mr. Santos. There were only three people, me, Chris, and Graham. We chilled in our hideout behind Gray Brother's curtains. There were some laundry bags from Friday, so we could sleep and relax on them. But, it wasn't necessarily a nap club. We borrowed a speaker from Mr. Robbins and we played pop songs. The other kids missed out. It was a ton of fun.

—VICTOR MA

STEVEN'S HOWL

I loved the puppy party. And I also loved archery, shooting, and swimming.

—STEVEN LUCARELLI

OLD CAR

Today we went on a trip. We found an old car. It was like 200 years old, and I found a box for oil. It was very old and metal.

—PETER MASLOV

IT'S A REGULAR MOWGLIS DAY

Well, not exactly yet. It has been an intense first week here at camp. The Cubs have all completely moved in and there are a total of 18 little fun Cavites here having the best summer ever. It surprises me how much each of them wants to go swimming! They are all brimming with courage to get into the water and jump on the water mat. With the rain and thunder we've had so much time to relax, play with toys, and enjoy beautiful, long sleep relaxes. By the end of it, we all were hoping for the long sunny days instead. Now that we have no more Covid-19 tests for campers and everyone is negative, I hope that we all can have fun.

—MR. ZACHARY PAIGE

RIFLERY

Another day in Cubs... aaahh. What industry do I get? Riflery! Oh, that sweet sound of a rifle firing...It makes my ears tingle..RIFLERY, riflery, riflery! I shot five bullets and got a high score of...2. Shoot! Darn! But it's better than...zero!

CLUBS

This week we did clubs. There were a lot of clubs, so there were a lot of choices. I picked Mega Mystery Club and basketball club and it was a lot of fun. We played basketball and gaga ball. I won six times. And a teenager who was much older than me only won two times. Basketball was really fun too.

—CIARAN CLARK (A CAVITE)

FORT BUILDING

I hope Mr. C.H. lets us build the rest of the fort. It is big. It is made out of BIG sticks. I love it.

—BLAKE SOLTYSIK

GOOD DAY AT RIFLERY

I had a bullseye and got a 34 score. The next time I shot I had a zero.

—PETER MASLOV

CARDS

I am really excited for fencing. In the meanwhile I am going to be playing Kings in the corner.

—NED HANRAHAN

THE BULLSEYE

Today was checkup so no Industries but there were sign ups. So I did archery and on my um I think third round I got a bullseye! I got 26 points with it. My high score is 36. I must keep trying.

—WILL SCHLACKS

TUBING

Tubing was so fun. At first we went level one then level two. At level one I didn't fall off. But at level two I did. I was on the tube with Joaquim and the driver was going super fast and my hands slipped off but Joaquim was able to get my arm so I got back on. Then I fell. It was raining so it hurt our faces. It was soooooo fun!

—ADRIAN MORGAN

TAKING PICTURES

I took pictures of Rowdy the cat. I also took pictures of Rigby the dog. I also like taking pictures of birds and the waterfront.

—XAVIER MARTIN

TETHERBALL WITH TOOMAI

I was running to the tetherball court and a Toomai decided to play me. We played for a few minutes until I said "tether." Soon I played another Toomai. We played for about 15 MINUTES. I let him win since it was taking too long. P.S. I was in Cubs and monkeys like corn flakes.

—GRAHAM MCADAMS

MY HOWL

I liked making s'mores at Kipling. We roasted marshmallows. I burned mine, and lit it on fire. Then we put chocolate and graham crackers on. It was messy but worth it.

—GRANT WEIDMAN

JULIAN'S HOWL

My favorite things that I did. I have done a lot of things like riflery and archery. I love riflery a lot. We got to shoot real bullets. It was awesome!

—JULIAN CLARK

TUBING

I was having the industry of tubing and at first we did level one and it was normal. At level two we went a lot faster. At the second level one of my friends fell. After the first level he almost fell, his hands fell off but then I held him so then he didn't fall and then he crawled up again. And I probably am going to do three more levels.

—JOAQUIM FONTANA

THE AMAZING FORT

Today we built a fort. It was pretty big. It has a thin side and a wide side. The thin side is for the dogs. The wide side is for us. Tomorrow I'm looking forward to finishing up the fort.

—MAX PETERKOSKI

THE BEST DAY EVER

Today was the best day because I got two bullseyes and 37 points and in riflery I got a 20 and I went tubing with my friend Adrian and we went the fastest and at the end he fell off and I couldn't stop laughing!

—KINGSLEY NWAISE

FUN AT CAMP

Camp is so much fun. I went blueberry picking and had ice cream. I hope you are having fun and I can only send letters to you on Monday.

—MAX RUDOLPH

STEVEN'S HOWL

I saw Ned and Heyward playing tetherball with baseball bats. Azalea had to go home on Wednesday. We picked blueberries this week.

—STEVEN LUCARELLI

BLUEBERRIES

Two days ago, we went blueberry picking. We picked 12 gallons. The cooks made blueberry crisp. It was really good.

—FOREST PHELPS

GOING BLUEBERRY PICKING

Today we went blueberry picking. I am 100% sure that I picked more than my body weight. We picked 12 gallons. It was so fun.

—BEN WILCOX

THE END GAME

It came so soon when I had to go...why! Why! Why! So many things to catch up on. (Sigh) I must keep fighting for foood! Too Bad. I will see you. What, oh yeah, I hope I can come next year.

—WILL SCHLACKS

ARCHERY

Today in archery I got six bullseyes and I can tell my arm is getting a lot stronger.

—NED HANRAHAN

THE ICE CREAM PARTY

Luckily I was a Cub who came for the last four weeks and everyone else had nine inspection points so if we got one more we would get an ice cream party.

—HEYWARD WILCOX

ANIMALS

Today I had fun with bunnies and goats and ducks and chickens. They were funny!

—BLAKE SOLTYSIK

THE TIMBER TREE

Last week a huge storm came. In the morning, we went outside and saw that a huge tree fell down. It was really cool because there was a cave in the base of the tree.

—IAN MATTESON

ROWDY DUTY

Better give Rowdy food, or else he'll snack. Oh no, please help me Mr. Paige. Okay Rowdy, here's food.

—ARMAND PHANEUF

CAVITES ON TOP OF THE WORLD

On Trip Day we went to Mt. Cardigan. My best friend Xavier fell down, but when we got to the top we got oatmeal with chocolate.

—PAUL SAROSI

ICE CREAM PARTY!

I love ice cream. The flavors were vanilla chocolate and strawberry in one tub and we had cookie dough! Mmmm and one more kind! Mint chocolate. I got sooo much whipped cream, sprinkles, chocolate sauce, and a cherry on top. We usually go to Scoops but didn't because of the whole COVID thing. The first three weekers got to nine inspection points but not ten so the new kids only needed to get one inspection point! But they got the inspection point!

—ADRIAN MORGAN

RIFLERY

It was my first day and then I got to shoot and went out and then in the next round I got nothing. I must come back next year.

—ANDREW JACOBS

AN AWESOME WEEK

I went blueberry picking. We picked 12 gallons of blueberries and for clubs I went to cooking club and we made a cake.

—DRU ROBBINS

BLUEBERRY

We got to go blueberry picking. I got one of those beastly blueberries. They were one of the juicy berries.

—ALEX LOTTMAN

BRIAN'S HOWL

We hiked around Belle Island and did a lot of fun things. We found three cool spots to hang out. Can't wait to go back!

—BRIAN SHARKEY

STEVEN'S HOWL

I played go fish with Blake. We went to Belle Island. We also roasted s'mores.

—STEVEN LUCARELLI

BELLE ISLAND

A few days ago I went to Belle Island. We explored the island, I found a clearing, and I started to make it a relax spot. But then a lot of people came and I made traps but they didn't really work. Well I guess better luck next time.

—IAN MATTESON

THE AWESOME TRIP

I went to Belle Island. We swam so much. We went in the red and blue canoes. On the way back the red got a head start but blue caught up, but red got to camp first by a couple miles. RVD.

—DRU ROBBINS

GO TO BELLE ISLAND

Today we went to Belle Island. We went hiking. It was fun but everybody was so hungry, but it was worth the view. It was amazing. It was so fun.

—BEN WILCOX

CLUBS

Clubs are similar to Industries but they are on Sunday and you get to pick from the options. I picked soccer today.

—FOREST PHELPS

CREW WEEK

It's Crew Week. I hope blue wins. I'll have fun with my cousin. So that's the end.

—ARMAND PHANEUF

MR. RAFFERTY

Mr. Rafferty is the mountain biking instructor. He has the best dog. He is fun. He also has a cat.

—BLAKE SOLTYSIK

MUSIC K-POP

Alright first off k-pop is AWESOME but... Mr. Jenkins disagrees. The reason I like it is because it's a great dancing thing.

—NED HANRAHAN

MAX'S HOWL

Camp is so fun. I took a red war canoe to the island. On the first day I explored the island. Second day I hiked Little Sugarloaf and got charcoal tats and got a six pack.

—MAX RUDOLPH

THE AWESOMEST SUMMER

This summer I went rock climbing, it was fun! I climbed the tallest biggest climb and I hiked a mountain. It had the best view and I also went to riflery.

—DRU ROBBINS

CUBS

We just got back from a trip to Belle Island. It was rainy but still fun. We hiked Little Sugarloaf but we did not hike big Sugarloaf. We used the war canoes to paddle there. It was fun.

—HEYWARD WILCOX

2021 YEARLINGS

I was a Camper at Mowglis over 25 years ago, a fact that consistently reminds me of how time flies. I was fortunate enough to return to Camp this past summer to work with the Yearlings as they transitioned to Junior Staff. As I walked onto the grounds, smelled the white pine, and saw the shimmer off of Newfound Lake, I instantly remembered how magical the Mowglis experience was to me then and how much it meant to me now.

To be sure, I had spent a long time away from Camp. Nearly 15 years after my Akelite summer, I returned to Mowglis for an Alumni Work Weekend. I knew the minute that I set foot on Gray Brothers Field that I wanted to have Mowglis in my life again. Several times after that initial Alumni Weekend, I returned to help with trail clearing, campus maintenance, or really just to do whatever Mr. Greenwell needed help with. But until this summer, I had not had the chance, more precisely the privilege, to be a part of Camp while the Campers were around. And what a journey back to that atmosphere it would be!

After a couple of weeks with Staff getting to know what has changed at Camp, and re-learning all that hadn't, I noticed that I was unconsciously back on the Mowglis schedule. I also had embraced a new role – I had been a Camper, I had been an Alumnus, but now I was a Staff member. It dawned on me at some point that over three decades I had now seen this Camp of ours through three different lenses, and I only hoped I could be helpful in working with the Yearlings, who were suddenly moving themselves from Camper to Staff.

On meeting the Yearling group, I had a strong feeling their transition would be successful. Despite our time together being somewhat impacted by the pandemic in terms of what we could do (for instance, our safety procedures prevented us from some activities outside of Camp), the group grew immensely over three weeks. They developed leadership skills, demonstrated proficiency in leading Industries, and repeatedly demonstrated integrity. They worked together to build a literal bridge for the Campers, learned wilderness first-aid principles, led campfires, and most importantly learned how to put the safety, well-being, and experience of the Campers first.

As Yearling Coordinator, my role is finished after these Yearlings graduate to Junior Staff. And though I returned home after that graduation, I heard a great many good things about our Junior Staff during the remainder of the summer. I hope to see them again as Senior Staff. I am confident in their abilities, and we even occasionally had fun together! And even though, as they have surely come to know by now, the days are long and can be arduous for Staff at Mowglis, in the end it's fun. I enjoy watching Campers have fun—it's about them. I enjoy watching the Staff have fun—many of them used to be Campers.

Mowglis courses through the veins of Staff, Alumni and Campers alike. My greatest realization has been that fact. A long absence and I had almost forgotten what the Mowglis experience meant to me. It was a long road back, but I am happy to be a part of it again. For that reason, my suggestion to Campers, Staff and anyone who is interested is to keep coming back, stay involved. If you're like me, you'll miss it, and we will miss you.
