This year brings an exciting milestone, the 100th edition of the Mowglis Howl! The Howl was first published in 1907 and continued until 1942. Mowglis closed in 1943 and 1944 due to World War II, and the publication of the Howl did not resume until 1958. This edition represents generations of Mowglis, whose time at our beloved School of the Open was documented, in their own words, between these pages.

The Den of 2023

Front Row: Dan Dros, Iker Medina Mora, Hiro Nishino, Cristobol Gonzalez, Alonso Benavides Back Row: Mr. Drennan, Mr. Hall, Anton Falconer, Isaac Sprung, Jaime Perez, Diego Saenz, Myles Hernandez, Mr. Conklin, Mr. Nguyen

2023 PACK HISTORY

120 Years. That's a long lifespan for any organization, but the start of summer 2023 saw 115 campers arrive to walk the same trails and swim the same lake as the first Mowglis did back in 1903. While first impressions don't always give the full picture, Arrival Day kicked things off prophetically rainy, welcoming the pack back together under a gray, cloudy sky. The rain continued into the evening, forcing our first campfire to take place in Gray Brothers Hall, so we all gathered around a roaring fire as Director Nick read the opening chapter of the Jungle Book.

Little did we know, but the weather would continue to send us inside for campfires, calling to quarters during Industries, and running for cover during open periods and assemblies for the first several weeks of camp!

Not to be stopped by a little thunder and lightning, our first week kicked off strongly as 18 cubs fired 18 cannon blasts, signaling the start of Industries, duties, and trips which departed out into the wilderness undeterred by the rain. The Akelites packed up and paddled across Newfound to the distant Belle Island, while the Den tackled the Baldfaces, leaving the rest of the dorms to start earning requirements and building friendships back in Camp. After their return, and with the camp together again, we assembled during the weekend to join up as Athletic Teams for the first time, and so were born the Skittles Superior Sharks, the Caspian Kraken Kit-Kats, the Everchew Eerie Eels, and the succinctly named Ginger Saltwater Taffy Lake Quinn-Sigmund Lobsters.

As their first epic battle would have to wait until Landsports Day the following weekend, we continued with another regular Mowglis week. Now fully back in the swing of things after the first week, campers and staff dove into their many challenges and adventures with a persistent drive, still unswayed by the weather which seemed to grow more and more ruinous with each passing day. The Yearlings learned the ins and outs of being a counselor as they studied the staff manual in their free time between service projects and trips, and, in preparation of their skit, quietly began to make a list of the sights and sounds of the summer. Just like them, we all quickly learned to make the distinction between the hum of the golf carts carrying schedules, tools, and injured campers, and the powerful roar of Director Nick's unstoppable mini-bike as he flew up and down the hill. Well, almost unstoppable. It wasn't long before some campers provided their much-welcomed engine tuning expertise to keep it running in tip-top shape!

After the storms stopped our planned July 4th celebration, we welcomed friends and family from Camp Onaway a few days later to answer back with some thunder of our own, as Mr. Greenwell and Mr. Gulitti set off an explosive volley of fireworks from the waterfront.

Toomai, Baloo, and Panther traveled out to Cardigan, Cliff Island, and the fabled Franconia Ridge respectively, only to return just in time to join their Athletic Teams for Landsports Day. A much-welcomed respite from the storms saw a sunny day filled with Olympic-quality events from Javelin to Slip and Slide, except for a poorly-timed rumble of thunder to postpone the closing Tug of War. Despite that, we wrapped up a few days later as the Everchew Eerie Eels pulled off the first big win of the season.

Week three continued with campfires and stand-up comedy with Mr. CH and Mr. Aronesty, snakes with Nurse Diane, and life in Alaska with Ms. Arin, as Mr. Hart returned for his famous “Stump the Storyteller.” Mr. Conklin and his paddlers pioneered an ambitious new Mowglis Whitewater program, leaving camp each day to learn the ins and outs of life on the river. Our newer Industries of Blacksmithing, Fencing, and Mountain Biking proved to be incredibly popular, as the sound of a hammer and anvil, bikes ascending the hill, and swords being swung and parried, rang out through the wind and the rain. The Cubs, led by our new Cub Mom, Cat, braved their first overnight trip at the Cardigan Base Camp, while the Denites enjoyed their last, making their own mark exploring the CT lakes. Finally, the Akelites pioneered the Kinsman Ridge for the first Pack Trip of their Mowglis career. The Yearlings bid a solemn farewell to Mr. Rorke as the week drew to a close, looking ever forward to their graduation, and the coveted white-pocketed dress shirt of a Jr. Staff. The weekend brought Watersports Day, which made it all the way to the end this time in a classic, clear day culminating in one of the greatest finishes of any Watermelon Tussle ever to take place in Newfound Lake. Out of sight and mind of the opposing team—and even some of the judges—Anton Falconer broke away completely underwater to carry both the Watermelon and the Ginger Saltwater Taffy Lake Quinn-Sigmund Lobsters across the line to victory.

While the halfway point of the summer sits in the middle of the fourth week on paper, it feels as if the back half of the summer speeds up and hurries on with the increased momentum of Ribbons Earned, Squads, Crew Week, and special events. As Panther undertook the infamous Mahoosuc Pack Trip, the Toomaiites settled on Cliff Island, and Rock Climbing and Mountain Biking left camp each day to explore the rocks of Rumney and the many local trails. Soon, some of the Pack would depart for the summer, so everybody set to task making the end of the summer memorable for the Four-Weekers. Mr. Soukup led a star-struck talent show evening, featuring musical performances of all kinds, a hilarious Yearling skit full of spookily accurate staff impressions, songs from the famous East Hebron Madrigals Society, and a stirring rendition of It Was Friday Night When We Set Sail, as the Cubs serenaded our very own Lovely Mermaid (who looked an awful lot like our beloved Mr. Cosgrove . . .). The Yearling Program came to an end as they graduated into full-fledged Jr. Staff, and we looked forward to the close of the summer.

As coveted spots on the Gopher and Mt. Washington Squads were filled up, the time-honored tradition of a tour of the Presidential Range and visits to the AMC Huts continued again in earnest. Waterville Valley saw the arrival of the Balooites for their second overnight trip, as the intrepid new group of Cubs, so soon after their arrival to camp, took off across the lake to stay at Cliff Island. The third and final competition of the Athletic Teams, Woodsman’s Day, capped off the week as the whole pack took part in Timber Sport of all kinds, from displaying true mastery of the axe under the watchful eye of Mr. Hall, to cooking the perfect flapjack with Nurse Kathy. Perhaps the most Mowglis of Sports Days was a rousing success, accented by a Banjo and some good old-fashioned Cowboy Songs. As if on cue the thunder returned once more to put a damper on the final event of the day, right after the competitors had prepared for an epic Sled Drag of Mr. Cosgrove and the Jr. Staff across the field. While the day ended early, the teams would meet one final time before the summer was over to answer the question of Sports Team greatness once and for all. For now, the camp turned its sights forward to a competition of a different kind, as tension built up on Sunday in anticipation of the announcement of Crews and Boat lineups.

Mr. Aaron Cosgrove and Mr. Marcos Hall rose to the occasion as Red and Blue Crew Leaders, spearheading a week of spirit, competition, and sportsmanship. Now veteran Crew Coaches Messrs. Liam and Patrick Jenkins molded a new set of rowers, preparing them for the biggest event of the Mowglis season with the help of returning Coach Miss Mira. Days were full of cheers, posters, bandanas, banners, journals, practices, and most importantly—lots and lots of water. Progress towards ribbons seemed on hold as the whole camp got ready to swing together out on the lake. The Jr. Staff and the indomitable Trabajo Squad built a gargantuan structure on Grey Brothers Field during trip day, and guests began to arrive Friday evening as both crews met for the pep rally. Despite the best efforts of a deluge of rain the night and day before, like any good Mowglis fire should, the bonfire went up in a monstrous plume of smoke and flame. Racing Crews were introduced, Crew Shirts were awarded, and everyone turned in for a good night's rest before Race Day.

It wasn't long before the waterfront was filled with a massive crowd of friends and families from near and far, all gathered to see the six-man boats glide across Newfound once more. The mighty Blue Crew shot out of the gate with two early victories in the Third and Second Form races, presided over by veteran judges and trustees. The Red First Form broke the streak, and as the Racing Crews punted out towards the starting line, a hectic and contentious Cub Race took a detour into the Intermediate's Section and ended in another Red win. For a brief moment, the waterfront was quiet, as campers, staff, and guests waited with bated breath for the start of the main event.

As soon as the race began, the shore exploded with a chorus of cheers and songs, as the Red and Blue Racing Crews tore across the lake. After a powerful showing from both boats, a breakaway sprint decided the day and ended Crew Week in an RVD. The oar was raised, the Boating Song was sung, and as everyone removed their bandanas, we joined again together as one camp for an evening of good food and quality entertainment courtesy of the many talents of the Pack, and the return of the illustrious, death-defying, internationally-renowned Flying Zamboni Brothers. Camp Moogles was indeed pleased to welcome them back after their well-earned hiatus.

As the festivities wound down, the final week arrived, and the final accomplishments of the summer began to roll in. Camping Solos, Waingunga Swims, Music Recitals, and more saw campers complete ribbon after ribbon in the race to the finish. Mt. Cardigan was hiked in every possible way as boys and staff joined on the summit for the annual watermelon and photo. Thursday saw the Denites in all their finery as they celebrated their careers at the Graduate's Dinner, masterfully prepared by Chef Hardy. As the final days sped past, those vying for a seat in the Inner Circle finished Ribbons right under the line to make it in time for the induction ceremony Friday evening. Saturday saw the finals of a record-breaking string of tournaments: Tennis, Archery, Fencing, Ping-Pong, Riflery, and Chess.

The long-awaited final event of Woodsman's Day finally took place, as, despite losing a few members of their team along the way, the Caspian Kraken Kit-Kats won the Sled Drag, and the day itself. When all was said and done, however, and final scores tallied, it was the unstoppable Everchew Eerie Eels who came out on top. The Denites enjoyed their last soak by carrying out the now-yearly tradition of "stealing" the swimmer's raft and led the camp in a powerful chorus of the Den song as the final dinner in the dining hall drew to a close, reminding us all why we all long to be Denites tomorrow.

As we gathered under the candle-lit chapel pines one final time, the pack reflected on a summer that could not be stopped by rain or thunder or lightning. The Mowglis way is to push on, to lift up with spirits high to help one another strive for the next summit, no matter the challenge or hardship. If ever there was a summer to prove that to be true, it was this one.

Mowglis 2023, we salute you!

NO MORE TIME FOR EXCUSES

I cannot believe I am already in Den. My Akela and Panther years flew by. I am in my final year. There is no more time for putting things off til next year. There is no more time for excuses. I must work hard to accomplish my goals. I hope to finish this year having completed everything I have set out to do.

ISAAC SPRUNG

FIRST WEEK EVER AT MOWGLIS

My first week at Mowglis was awesome, other than homesickness. I almost have my first Blacksmithing requirement and am about one-fifth of the way to my Woodworking Ribbon—the Gold Ribbon. I like the idea of a relax period after lunch, so that the day is more spaced out. The food at Mowglis is wonderful and it is also peanut-free, so I don't have always to worry.

GAVIN LORDI

WATER EAGLE

I was doing the Canoeing Industry on Monday when Mr. Conklin saw a bald eagle, it swooped down, landed on a tree, and stayed there for 10 minutes. After staying there and talking with the other canoers, we decided to leave and go look for blueberries. Then the eagle flew away right as we were leaving and sadly, we did not find any blueberries, but the eagle made up for it.

PAUL SAROSI

AMAZING FIRST WEEK

This first week of camp has been amazing. The first thing that we did when I arrived late was to get driven over to Belle Island. Then we spent the night and came back the next morning. Then I had my first Industry period. It was in sailing and it was so nice to sail. The water is so warm, and I'm so excited to get back on the water tomorrow.

ALEX HAYDEN

TRIP DAY

Three days ago was Trip Day. we were going to climb Mount Stinson. It had rained the day before, so the hike was super muddy. after one hour in a van listening to music we put on bug spray and started hiking up the mountain. Since I had climbed the hike before, I knew there was super tall grass, so I tried to find a big stick. The hike was easy for 12 minutes. after that, we got to a crossroads. the sign pointed to the right said: HIKING TRAIL, the other one was The Tall Grass trail. We took the other trail up the mountain. I will say that the trail we took was not better, it was extremely steep, but we all pushed through. Once we got to the top, we all watched Mr. CH and Mr. P. Jenkins do 100 push-ups and enjoyed the view.

HENRY BOULD

RIBBONS

I am really close to getting my Arts & Crafts Ribbon. I have three more requirements to go. If I got it then I would have two ribbons. I hope I get it.

BEN WILCOX

TIMOTHY THE WAINGUNGA ANT

Timothy, the ant, was minding his own business and doing ant things when suddenly, a canoe crashed into the shore and frightened poor Timothy. Then he smelled something, a sweet, soft smell entranced Timothy and he began to search for it. Then the human flicked Timothy and he went flying into the sand and was bullied into the water by waves. Timothy struggled with all his might and touched upon the shore, exhausted. then he climbed up the human's leg again. The human, whose name was Jack, soon shook Timothy off and walked away. But not before Timothy tasted chocolate for the first time.

KAYSHAV MITTAL

THAT ONE RAINY NIGHT

Near the beginning of the Mowgli's year, one night, it rained very hard over the Panther tent. The rain started to get inside the tent a little bit, so as a result, we had to put the rain cover on. After we did that, everything was drying up nicely. Everything was good except for the loud, annoying noise the rain made while crashing onto the tent.

GORDON ANDREWS

TRIP DAY

On Trip Day Dylan, Ben, and Kingsley capsized and I had a good laugh. We stopped at a sand bar and played games. It was very fun.

NOAH JONES

DRAMA, TOOMAI, CLUBS, AND TRIPS

Drama was fun. We made fake cuts. I might get my first Ribbon. Toomai has the biggest writing porch and is the best dorm. I did games for clubs. I played chess, Battleship, and cheesetouch. And the trip was hard, that's why when you get to the top it is the best.

ANDREW JACOBS

MR. REDLING'S DESSERT

Today for clubs, I did tomahawk throwing. We just held three tomahawks in our hands and threw them at a wooden target. I am terrible at tomahawk throwing, so I decided "Why not, I'll try throwing side-arm." I thought that throwing side-arm would make it spin better. This strategy worked a little bit. Also, to make it more fun, Mr. CH said that the first person to get three in a row on the target would get his dessert. This kid who wouldn't tell us his name got the dessert. Mr. Redling said that the first person to get six in a row would get his dessert. Not a single person could complete it. The most I had gotten in a row was two. And then somehow, I managed to get three in a row, then four, then five. I was so close to getting his dessert, even if it's only watermelon. I threw the tomahawk and I somehow managed to hit the target! I threw the seventh throw and hit it again. The eighth throw I missed.

LOGAN WILD

TRIP DAY

We woke up and we went to breakfast. We got ready to climb Mt. Stinson. We began and we got there. Once we got to the top our counselors Mr. CH and Mr. P. Jenkins did 100 pushups.

STEVEN LUCARELLI

A SOLID FIRST WEEK

The first week at camp, despite the heavy rain, has been valid. The mix of returners and new campers has led to new friends and growth in Baloo; just like it was my first year as a camper in Baloo in 2015. The similarities between then and now are unreal, as I sometimes see myself in younger campers, and more rarely, remind myself of counselors I used to have in my attempts to emulate them. Every time I return to Mowglis, it genuinely feels like I was just here, despite being away for almost a year. It's like a time capsule - an escape from a busy life at school. Looking forward to next week.

MR. HARDING

CLUBS

I chose to make jumps for mountain biking. It was really fun. We went across the street and made jumps. We brought two bikes, and when it was done, I hit one of the jumps and it was fun.

DALTON FRAZIER

PHOTOGRAPHY

This week I got my Photography Ribbon! My Photography Ribbon is my third ribbon. I am trying to get my Inner Circle this year, but I know it will be hard.

HEYWARD WILCOX

DRIED MANGO

In the first howl of the year, I want to talk about the best food on pack trips, the dried mango. if you haven't tried it yet, it's a sweet snack with so much flavor in it that gives you a lot of energy while you are hiking. Hiro Nishino always says that I eat all of it on each trip, but that is not true. I hope you all try it because it's delicious.

DIEGO SAENZ

TIME

Time. Sometimes it goes really quickly and sometimes it goes very slow.

D r i p p i n g l y slow. Dripping, dripping. That's how Mowglis goes. The days can be very short or they can drip, drip, drip for an eternity. That's what makes Mowglis special.

JULIAN CLARK

BIP

This week, on Friday, Akela got a BIP. A BIP is a Belle Inspection Point. Starting on Wednesday and ending on Friday, Akela went to Belle Island. On Friday, as we were leaving, Mr. Greenwell arrived in the Starcraft. Mr. Z said if there were zero pieces of trash on the Island, we would get an inspection point. After a long, meticulous scanning of the Island for trash, and Mr. Greenwell being the inspector, we got the inspection point!

JACK LEARY

RAIN, RAIN, AND RAIN

This week had a lot of rain. No tennis, but at least the water in Newfound was warm. I'm already working towards Graduation. I might even get Inner Circle this year! Overall, I'm excited for the year to come.

CARTER YEATMAN

PACK TRIPS

Overnight trips are cool, but coming back to camp after them is even better. You are released from the backpack that you have been carrying for three days, and finally get to take a hot shower and have good food for dinner. However, the best of it is how everybody is so happy to see you after being away for just a few days.

MR. BRAVO

MY FIRST WEEK

This is my first week at Camp Mowglis. I am having fun even if I am a bit homesick. My Industries are Crew and Camping. Last Sunday night it was raining hard, and we told stories. I am in the tents. It was loud—the rain.

KABIR BHOJWANI

MOUNTAIN BIKING CLUB

Today for clubs, Mr. CH, Ms. Pi, and I went across the street to make a jump for mountain biking. It was wet and cold and it rained a lot. It was soooo cold, but the jump came out good.

THOMAS CALLIE

BELLE ISLAND

This week we went to Belle Island. We set up our tents in the pouring rain. Then, it stopped raining and we played manhunt. The next day, we canoed to Wellington and waited for Alex... and waited... and waited. He still didn't come, so we went swimming then we played football and went on the nature trail and after all that he still was not there, so we went swimming then he came and we went back to Belle.

PRESTON MORGAN

AN EVENTFUL FIRST WEEK

The first week of Mowglis 2023 has been eventful. There are many new kids this year so meeting all of them has been fun. Also, the first day of clubs for the summer was today, and I was really looking forward to it. I was frustrated though, because in the morning it was raining, and Mr. Robbins said the rain wouldn't stop. But when clubs were announced, I was excited because there was a workout club. I decided to go to it and it was a lot of fun. I got to work out with my friends and overall, it was a good time.

GYAN CERWINSKI

PEPPERONI PIZZA

Last night we had pizza. it was so good it tasted like heaven in your mouth. like really good pepperoni pizza. that's why I wrote about pepperoni pizza.

NICO NOBLE

BELLE ISLAND

This week I went on a trip to Belle Island. Me and my friends all played Manhunt and went on walks. I hated sleeping in the eight-man tent. I also learned that I was better at climbing rocks and trees.

CYPRIAN MCINTOSH

WHITEWATER KAYAKING

On Tuesday, I went on my first whitewater trip. It was one of the best experiences of my life. We went on Class 1 and Class 2 rapids, and although I thought I was going to tip a couple of times, I never did. I got injured once the entire trip, and it wasn't even from kayaking. It was a cut on my hand from bringing the boats back. I had lots of fun challenging the rapids, and the trail lunch tasted ten times better.

CHRIS LOCKHART

THE BONDS

We are already one week into camp, and everything has been quite good. We went on a three-day trip with Mr. Bravo and Mr. Aronesty. We started pretty hard because we were basically in a shower going up the mountain. The next day we hiked up the Bonds and we all helped the weaker hikers go up the mountain, as we are a team. Finally, we arrived at the van and came back to camp. It was a pretty nice trip.

JAIME PEREZ

TUBING CLUB

Today I woke up and it was raining. I got dressed and then went to breakfast, which was bagels and hard-boiled eggs which was very good. Then we had clubs and I did tubing with Mr. De Velasco and Mr. Cosgrove, and it was very cold. After tubing, I went back to Toomai and fell asleep.

MAKUA FERRY

BELLE ISLAND

This week Akela went to Belle Island. Canoeing to Belle Island was very tiring for some people, but it was all right for me. People played games and talked. We ate noodles on the first night, it was a great meal. After a few days, we went to Wellington Beach, the view was great and the hike was fun. Belle Isle was one of the coolest places I've ever gone to.

YIFAN CHEN

HERE IS A DRAMATIC POEM

Weightlifting is hard, Mr. Conklin is chill. That kind of sums up the day.

JOE SPRUNG

CLUBS

Today I went tubing with my friends Blake, Steven, and I tubed together. It was fun. It was raining a lot and the water was cold.

VITIEN ALEM-MBELEM

FIRST WEEK'S HOWL

On Wednesday, my dorm (Akela) went on a three-day and two-night trip to Belle Island. We went on aluminum canoes and a war canoe. When we got there, it started to rain, but we had to make the tents. We all worked together and in a few hours we were done. The next day we went to a trail in Wellington Beach. I thought it was a hike, but it was just a short walk. The last day was my birthday. When we got back, we had missed lunch with the others but we had lunch later. Then at dinner, the kitchen prepared a delicious cake for me. That was my week.

MATEO MEDINA MORA

READING CLUB

Today, I had the pleasure and honor of attending the reading club with Ms. Boone. It was really calm in Kipling, listening to instrumental pop music and hearing the fire crackle while reading my book. Once the fire died, I built another one from scratch that burned for the better part of an hour and I am still proud of it. Later, I played pool with my brother and enjoyed the peaceful environment. I thoroughly enjoyed reading club and would go again.

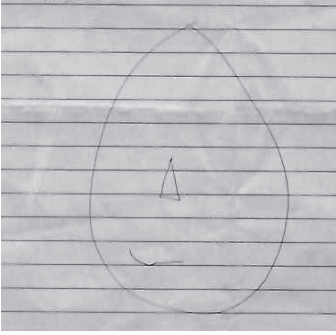

KELLAN LOCKHART

THE CAPSIZING

On Thursday, we went on a trip to the Cockermouth River. On the way back, Mr. L. Jenkins and Mr. Harding ordered us to capsize the boats in front of us because they passed their canoe. We were paddling very hard, and for the past few days, my arms felt like they were falling off.

AUGUST HENRY

SOMETHING SCARY

It's pouring on this day and it's pretty bad. One of the people in Toomai showed me something that was kind of scary, so here is how the story goes. He was in Cubs and he went to the Green Room and he saw a piece of chalk on the floor. Then the chalk moved to the wall, and there was a picture next to it and it went up on the wall and drew a face that looked like this, and I saw it. It's still there.

THAD BURNS

BELLE ISLAND

We went to Belle Island this week, the trip started on Wednesday. I was put on the war canoe and everyone on it was convinced that the old boat would flip and sink to the bottom of the lake, taking us with it. But we actually made it to the island faster than anyone else. It was very rainy the first day, we found out a few things too, like that Mr. Z makes a good tent pole.

CHRISTOPHER CONDON

PANTHER'S NIGHT OFF

It was the first Wednesday of camp, June 28. It was around 9:45 p.m. when Mr. Moya and Mr. Garcia went out to do 10 o'clock inspection. Mr. Schmetzer was on the trip with Den. And finally, Mr. Lloyd was asleep. Of course, as the best dorm and the loudest dorm, we were bored. So we got this idea to tell stories. We went to where Lyon's bed was, and for the first 10-15 minutes Donovan told us a funny story. Then, "Creeeeekkk" we hear the floorboards moving, we turn around to see what is going on, and Lyon isn't on his bed but on the floor, with his sleeping bag. He was slowly creaking his way toward us and it was really scary because if you got near the predator he would jump on you and start attacking you. We instantly stopped telling stories and focused on the monster. Someone had to keep watching it or else it would jump on you. The monster stopped moving for five minutes so we thought it fell asleep on the floor. Boy were we wrong. Later the monster/Lyon started climbing the ladder to Peyton's top bunk. Peyton let out a shriek and kept hitting the monster with a pillow. Later he retreated and went to sleep. We thought it was over. Then we kept seeing flashlights outside and thought it was the counselors and ran back to bed, and at the end, we ran back to our beds and enjoyed our night off.

JOSH YUN

TRAIL CLEARING

Thursday was Trip Day. My friends and I went trail clearing and summited Plymouth Mountain. It was hard carrying all of the tools and our packs up the mountain, but the view from the summit was nice. The lake looked so far from the top of the mountain. On the way down from the mountain, Donny and Zorian were using the swizzle sticks as golf clubs, so Gyan and I ran ahead so our legs didn't get chopped off. It was kinda boring, but it's cool knowing that people in the future will have an easier time hiking the trail we cleared.

SEBASTIAN LAFONTANT

TRIP DAY

Last Thursday was Trip Day. My dorm went on a canoeing trip to the Cockermouth River. Everybody went in separate canoes. It was three people per canoe. I went with my friends Ben and Dylan. We were about a solid five minutes in when we stupidly decided to canoe ahead of the counselors. They were talking to fellow canoers, and those canoers were charging at us and we suddenly stalled. Then they T-boned us and all of our stuff got wet. Then they had to T rescue us. The trip was good overall.

KINGSLEY NWAISE

WOODWORKING

I tried out the Woodworking Industry, and it was awesome. Mr. Nguyen helped me make a hinged box. Mr. B. was very nice to me. It was a great industry.

YIFAN CHEN

FIREWORKS

There were fireworks on Friday, and they were originally supposed to be on Tuesday and Onaway was coming over. We had to cancel but then the next day Mr. Robbins showed us that lightning struck Onaway Point and we rescheduled. On the day that we were going to do it, there was thunder but thankfully, it cleared so we had the fireworks. Overall, in the end, it was fun!

MYLES HERNANDEZ

BIG RED BOAT

One day, I walked down by the waterfront and saw my good friend George Sarosi at Kaa. "I'm soloing the 420 today," George said. (For context, the 420 is the biggest, most complex sailboat on the waterfront.) "Great!" I respond, happy that he is making progress in sailing. "You are, too!" George says. OH NO, I think to myself. Twenty minutes later I am sitting in the big red boat known as the 420. Ms. Arin is rigging the boat for me. Suddenly, she jumps out and says "Remember, the helm is stubborn."

Then I begin to panic as the boat starts drifting. "Am I unclipped from the buoy?" I yell. "Yes! You've got this!" says Ms. Arin. OH SHOOT, I think.

I grab the tiller extension and main sail, cleat the jib, and begin to move forward. With the wind in my hair, I felt a sense of peace, even though my task was bigger than anything I had ever done before. In the end, I sailed successfully and returned to camp a changed man.

KAYSHAV N. MITTAL

CLIFF ISLAND

This week we went to Cliff Island. On the first day there, we swam a lot and I mean a LOT. On the second day, we hiked Mt. Sugarloaf, and on the last day, Logan and Henry saw a black bear. After that, we all scared it to the mainland. It was so much fun!

NOAH JONES

ARCHERY

I will write about the most aggravating thing. The bad luck of shooting 80 instinctual. The first try is not real, you will always get 78-79 before getting it. It happened to me, a 78 then 79. Time was up each time I missed one arrow. One 80 instinctual is three arrows for each target. You have two seconds to aim and fire at least five points on each. I will conquer this and get my ribbon.

LYON COURTNEY

CLUBS

Today for clubs I did bouldering which is rock climbing without ropes. It was fun and I liked it. I would do it again.

JACK ZAITZEFF

BILLY

Billy is a duck. I think he's a Captain Duck, but Mr. Bravo calls him a "Sherriff Duck." Mr. Bravo is his owner for now, at least. Mr. Bravo is moving out of Baloo. He is leaving Billy with us for a week. I told Mr. Bravo if he doesn't move back into Baloo he will never see Billy again. Me, Will, Dru, and Chris will protect Billy with our lives!

ADRIAN MORGAN

THE CAMP

The first day it was calm. But the second day it was Trip Day. And when we got to the top of the mountain, Mac was scared that he was going to fall or roll down the hill. On the last day, we were going back to camp, and it was the best time of the second week. But not for Mac.

MIGUEL MEDINA

MISSION IMPOSSIBLE

It was the 4th of July (also known as three days later). We were all waiting for the fireworks and me, Peyton, and Cyp's past plans of making it over had previously failed. Mr. Conklin, Mr. Zesty Aronesty (Tarzan), and Rafi Unger had deterred us from our dreams, but then... Cyp made a plan. We decided to act like we were going to the hydro, then ran through the woods and sneaked onto the main path. And into the "other side." Like the smart Mowglis Men, we put the project into motion, and IT WORKED. It was a miracle and we befuddled Mr. Tarzan after walking past Hope to Be triumphant, we took one small step for man, and one giant leap for Mowglis kind.

DONOVAN COOKE

CLIFF ISLAND

The last trip to Cliff Island was really fun! The counselors fed us well and we had an amazing hiking trip. One day, my friend and I were just sitting eating, and out of the corner of his eye (Logan W.) he saw a black bear. I screamed "Bear!" The whole group around us got up and started trying to scare the bear away. They did it, and at the end of the day, nobody could stop saying that Baloo was just trying to visit us.

HENRY BOULD

JULY 4TH FIREWORKS

I'm surprised they didn't try to hide it this year. Usually, the Mowglis staff try to lie about the fireworks with an excuse like "Oh, we forgot to buy them" or things like such, but this year they were pretty upfront about it. They admitted to it (well, some didn't) and those who didn't used the excuse of an explosives license (they said Mr. Hart was the only one who had it and they needed one). When the time came to actually set off the fireworks, the rain gods clearly had a problem with it because as the Onaway girls were on their way, it started pouring and thundering. The fireworks then got rescheduled for three days later. It almost rained hard again that day, but the rain gods gave up and the fireworks went off successfully and everyone was happy.

VICTOR MA

A VIEW FROM THE PORCH

The best thing happened this week. So, while the fireworks show was happening, I saw people struggling to get onto the porch, and then I heard two Pantherites talk about a plan to get to the other side of the porch. Then I told them my plan, which was sneaking around the hydro near Waingunga, through the woods to Kaa. So we asked Mr. Zesty to go to the hydro, then our plan started. Me, Donovan, and Peyton ran past the hydro, through the woods, past the rifle range, and to Kaa. While we were walking past Kaa, I saw tons of fireworks blow up in the sky. This week was so much fun.

CYPRIAN MCINTOSH

THE FINAL STRETCH

As me, Adrian, and Arnold were racing to the finish, paddling as hard as our arms could go, we reached the first sailboat. But then Adrian forgot to steer and we went straight to the rocks and we were going to crash. With the counselors closing in and going to beat us, Adrian jumped out of our canoe and rushed toward the counselors to stop them, so I hopped out to help him, leaving Arnold to have to get out of the rocks as me and Adrian fought back the counselors. I looked and saw Dru and Chris coming in hot, so I rushed back to help Arnold and pushed the canoe toward the shore, our canoe hit the sand first, signaling that we won!

WILL SCHLACKS

FRANCONIA FALLS

We went on a three-day pack trip to Franconia Falls. It wasn't a long hike the first day and we set up tents before dinner. However, on the second day, the counselors were sick, so we went to the nearby river. Mr. Jenkins, one of our counselors, had been on this hike before and he knew of a cliff-jumping spot. After some climbing, we made it to the spot and stayed there for a couple of hours. The third day was a quick hike back to the parking lot where we made it three hours ahead of schedule.

TJ LIM

TRIP DAY

Last Thursday was Trip Day and we canoed to Cliff Island. When we first got there we could do whatever we wanted to do, so I went swimming, then my friends made our tent. On the second day we canoed to Wellington Beach to hike Little Sugarloaf and Big Sugarloaf. The hike was tiring; thankfully we got to swim after the hike. On the third day we packed up everything for breakfast. We had chocolate chip pancakes. I looked over my shoulder and heard Henry scream "There's a bear!" Everybody started to charge and scream at the bear until we scared it off onto another island. Mr. Soukup decided to call non-emergency services.

KINGSLEY NWAISE

MOUNT CARDIGAN

On Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday we were at Mount Cardigan basecamp. On day one we set up our tents and they got really dirty. On day two we hiked Mount Cardigan. The last half was sheer rock. I was very tired and hot. We got down the mountain and had some very good food. My shoes got soaked overnight. On day three we packed up everything and went back to Mowglis. I was so happy to be back!

JULIAN CLARK

CAMP IS THE BEST

The food at Mowglis is the best! Mr. C.H. does 100 push-ups in 20 minutes. Camp is the best!

GOALS

As camp starts to get into high gear my most important goal is to get my White Ribbon. Today, Sunday, I did Ms. Pi's lifeguarding club. I loved it and can't wait to do more.

ALEX HAYDEN

WHAT A MEAL

On Wednesday, we went on a base camp trip to Cliff Island. I wasn't too excited about the food, but I was soon surprised. That night we had spaghetti and meatballs. Absolute five-star meal! One of the best meals I have ever had.

CHRIS LOCKHART

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

I tripped on a rock and lost my right Croc. Now the thing is, last year I lost my right Croc in Franconia Falls. So I learned history repeats itself. And now, not only do we salute our fallen soldiers during taps, we now salute my two right Crocs.

JASON YUN

PADDLE, SLASHING, AND FUN. WAIT - BOAT IN? GOT TO RUN AND MOUNT CARDIGAN

I went stand-up paddleboarding for clubs. It was fun and I fell off a lot. I also went on the Mount Cardigan trip. The tents got wet and dirty really fast, the sleeping situation wasn't good either. The food was great and I was glad I was sleeping in the four-person tent because in the eight-person someone went to the bathroom in it. It was a disaster!

CIARAN CLARK

THE LONG JOURNEY HOME

So, after a long journey to Cliff Island, it was time to return back to Camp Mowglis. The journey back was long and harsh. The whitecaps of the waves were forcing us in the middle of the lake. It took us a whopping three hours to get back to Camp. After, we ran into Baloo at Cliff Island, but that's a story for another time.

NICO NOBLE

TRIP DAY

This Friday was Trip Day and my dorm Toomai hiked Mt. Cardigan. It was some of my dormmates' first time hiking it, but it was my fifth time. My dorm wanted to hike the Holt Trail and Mr. CH was fine with it until he realized we were in Toomai, and we would die hiking it, so he decided to put us on the Manning Trail. It was a long hike but really fun and easy. When we got to the summit the view was great and Mr. CH and Ms. Pi made us pizza.

PAUL SAROSI

WATER BROOK

This week, part of Panther hiked Franconia Ridge. There were two groups. I was in group 1 with Mr. Nunez, Counselor Cat, Isaac Sprung (because he is working towards his Brown Ribbon), and a few other Pantherites. The plan was for the two groups to start on opposite ends of the trail, meet in the middle, then go our separate ways. Fast forward to day two, we had lunch with group two, and most of us were out of the water. Mr. Moya and Counselor Cat, along with me, Donovan, Cash, Sebby, Justin, and Isaac, decided to make a quick trip to a hut nearby to fill up everyone's water bottles. It was a mile away, but we were able to make it there in fifteen minutes. We filled up the water bottles, filled them into the backpacks, and headed back. I swear that the mountain became steeper because it felt like we were hiking Everest. But overall, it was a great experience.

DHRUV MOHAN

PADDLEBOARDING CLUB

Today for clubs I went paddle boarding. It was super fun and we went to Baloo Cove and flipped each other.

MAXIMUS SAXTON

BLACK AND ORANGE

This week, I finished a spoon and two nails. I am on my way to getting my Blacksmithing Ribbon and I hope I can get the easier stuff over soon to get to the hard stuff sooner than later. I am planning on doing my folding knife and hatchet. I've got to make a pair of tongs as well. I don't really want to go to Connecticut Lakes because it means I'll only be able to Smith on Friday of that week. I hope I can finish it soon.

SUNSETS AT MOWGLIS

On the Cliff Island base camp trip, Baloo had two great sunsets. The first night, we had another camp staying on the north side of the island called Kingswood. One of the counselors set up their one-man tent right near the cliff, which was frustrating as it's the nicest part of the island. When we went over, we found a counselor who I already forgot the name of, but he was nice and fun to talk to as he told Mr. Redling and me the style and structure of his camp Kingswood. It was fascinating to see the similarities between the camps, like the Industry system and the all boys style we both shared. It was awesome to have a conversation like that as it made me feel really appreciative of how our camp is unique.

The second sunset was with our entire dorm. We tried to have a moment of silence, but the boys struggled to keep it together. We sang the "Outdoor Goodnight Song" and gave a final goodbye to the amazing Cliff Island. This will be a trip to remember.

MR. SOUKUP

CLIMBING

I am very excited because I am one requirement away from my Climbing Ribbon. This week, Lizzie and I were the first ascenders of the Climb "Rama on the Run."

DRU ROBBINS

CLUBS

Today for clubs I played soccer. It was really fun! I ran around for an hour and a half and I scored 10 goals! I cannot wait for the next clubs!

THE BEAR

On the morning of July 7th, I was waiting in line for pancakes and my dormmate yells, "Bear!" I thought that they were joking until I saw this tiny, black bear on the other island.

TRIP DAY

Today was Thursday and every Thursday we have a Trip Day. Akela was split into two groups. the Mount Crawford group and the Nancy Cascades group. I was in the Crawford group, it was an easy hike but it was a hot day and that made me tired. The hike was about 2.5 miles. At the end we went to a river that was cold but refreshing. It was a good hike.

MATEO MEDINA MORA

GREASY WATERMELON

This intense game requires courage, momentum, physicality, and strategy. And so the 2023 Watersports Day was successful for the Lobsters because of strategy. If you have the watermelon in your hands, push it down into the water so that no one knows where it went, then hide it and run with it all the way to the end zone. Perfect.

ANTON FALCONER

BIG BUSTA

Big Busta is the bird that lives on Akela's writing porch. After observing her we learned that she has three kids: Terry, Barry, and Derek Jr. She feeds them a lot and when the majestic Big Busta flies into her nest everyone is in complete awe. Sometimes people get a little too close and she flies away. I think she's the best (and only) pet bird I've ever had.

JOHNNY DEMOPOULOS

CLIFF ISLAND

On Friday, which was the last day of Cliff Island, Baloo the bear decided to pay us a visit. As soon as Mr. Redling laid eyes on the bear he started to scream at it until it ran away and finally it swam away.

SLUGMA THE SLUG

We went on our first pack trip this week. Akela was split up into three groups, and I was in the third group, so we left the day group one got back. The first day was by far the easiest, and we got to the campsite with many hours to spare. The second was harder, and we summited two mountains. On the third day, we were walking, and I was carrying a pot attached to the side of my bag. During a water break, I looked to the side where my water was, and I saw a slug in my pot. I named it Slugma and decided to carry it the rest of the way. Once we finished the hike, I let it go. I also found some other slugs that I named Slugma II, Big Orange Bork, Gooba, Joe Mama, Rolly, and Olly.

SCOOPS

When we got 10 inspection points, we went to get an ice cream shop that WAS NOT Scoops! But, it was surprisingly good. It was definitely worth it.

WATERSPORTS DAY

Yesterday was Watersports Day. I signed up for three activities, but my personal favorite was the crazy watermelon. We beat the Sharks in the semifinals and moved on to the final against the Lobsters. We slowly advanced towards the other side, and for a second, I was alone with the watermelon. But suddenly, Carter scared the life out of me and the watermelon slipped out of my hands. We don't talk about what happened later.

RAFA MORENO

CLUBS

Today for Clubs I went kayaking. While we were working on wet exits and hip snaps, Mr. Goss and Mr. Phaneuf were trying to get the stove to work. They saw a spider and started freaking out and Mr. Goss dropped the propane and grabbed a shoe to smash it. Mr. Phaneuf stopped him and said, "What if I just grabbed a shoe and started hitting you." I forget what happened after that, but it was chaotic.

WATERSPORTS DAY

Watersports Day is great and all, but what if you can't swim? When I signed up for events all I could do was the canoe portage. I ended up judging gazungas and cannon balls, but the best part was the greasy watermelon, and I got to blow the whistle for the staff game.

GEORGE MONTGOMERY

SCOOPS OR NOT SCOOPS

On Monday we went to get Scoops. Except, it was not Scoops. We went to another place because Scoops' hours were changed.

CLUBS

I did the working out club today. It was awesome as usual and it feels good to still be able to work out even at Mowglis. I also lost my shirt, which was annoying, but it's fine. The Eels only got 2nd place in the greasy watermelon contest, and they didn't even do it like true Mowglis men. Instead, they just kinda went around sneakily. Anyway, camp is amazing as usual.

MR. NGUYEN

Mr. Nguyen wakes up super early, goes to the office, comes back maybe 30 minutes before reveille, then he brushes his teeth, then he goes back to work before breakfast. Then he comes to breakfast, then goes back to the office for the rest of the day.

MYLES HERNANDEZ

THE GHOST SHIP

On the night of July 14, 2023, Mr. Moya woke me, Adrian, Heyward, and Ben up super early for fishing. The other night he woke us up on the wrong night, so we all knew this was the right night to go fishing because Capt. Bartlett was coming. So, we packed up the boat and went fishing. Adrian caught the first fish then I caught two, then three, and pretty much everybody caught a fish. We were catching so many fish, seven in fact. So, we headed down to the next spot and I got to drive, but then we saw a random boat just floating. It was a nice one, too. So we drove up to it and there were no people on it. So we took it and hooked it to the Swimmer's raft. Then we kept fishing and headed back.

WILL SCHLACKS

CT LAKES

This week Den went to CT Lakes. This was our last trip together. The first day was very rainy. The second day was sunny and we went canoeing. Iker and Isaac enjoyed it a lot. We ate delicious sausages and sweet potatoes. On the third day, we woke up at 4:00 to watch the sunrise. We got to see a moose but sadly it ran away because Jaime yelled "AAHH IT'S A MOOSE!"

HIRO NISHINO

KINSMAN RIDGE

Yesterday I returned from my first-ever pack trip. It was on Kinsman Ridge. I immediately learned on the first day that backpacks are heavy, and it was going to be a long and slow trip. The first day's hike was pretty easy, and we got to the campsite really early. We played Mafia where I got put as doctor two games in a row, which was funny. Then we ate dinner, but after we heard the sound of what the counselors said were planes (jokingly-not sure?). They were mistaken, and we went to bed with a thunderstorm over our heads. The second day started with me using leaves for toilet paper, followed by a very steep upward hike. We made it to the top of S. Kinsman, where a cloud passed through us. Soon after we rushed to the campsite due to a thunderstorm that happened hours later. Day three involved stepping through muddy bogs and climbing a false mountain, and as we arrived at the summit of Cannon Mtn., I saw a tram and suggested we go on it. But we ended up climbing down, and as I arrived at the parking lot, gaunt and tired, part of me thought the trip was alright, but the other part never wants to backpack again.

THE BIRD BLUES

Derek Jr. was afraid. His bird brothers were already flying with his mother, Bug Busta. He just sat on the nest, chirping every hour now and then. Larry and Barry called for him to jump. His mother looked at him expectantly. Then, Derek Jr. spread his wings and jumped. He fell fast, but began climbing elevation. And that was how Derek Jr. learned how to fly. Little known to Derek Jr., however, is that he would be put in history through this howl.

MAXIMUS SAXTON

CONNECTICUT LAKES

This week we went on the Connecticut Lakes to go canoeing. The first day it rained a lot and Mr. Drennan, the former McDonald's fry cook, grilled up the burgers that Greenwell sent us with. The second day, we went canoeing and I got 95% of my canoe safety done with Mr. Conklin. Isaac and Iker fell into the lake and everyone was trying to flip each other's canoes. That night, I slept terribly as my sleeping bag was still incredibly wet. The third day we woke up (not me, I didn't sleep) at 4:30 to go see the sunrise and saw a moose. The third day made it very apparent that the trip had been on par with other boating trips. I had been sunburned.

DAN DROS

TRIP DAY

On Trip Day, Panther hiked Mt. Hancock. Our plan was to summit, eat lunch, and then hike back down to drive back. During the hike, we realized that our pace was a bit too slow to summit, hike down, drive back, and get back in time for Soak. So, we stopped about $\frac{3}{4}$ of the way there and ate lunch. Then, we hiked down and after a while, we made it back to the van. It turned out we made it back about 20 minutes before soak, so it was a good idea not to summit!

GORDON ANDREWS

CONNECTICUT LAKES

Last week we went on a trip to Connecticut Lakes. It was a three-day base camp trip, which I enjoyed a lot. The first day was a little bit crappy, but the next two were really good. Mr. Drennan made awesome food and Mr. Conklin took us to awesome places in the lakes. We even saw a moose! I really appreciate this experience and I hope everyone else did!

JAIME PEREZ

SCOOPS

We went to an ice cream place (not Scoops) this week and it was fun. It was chaos, too, and I got Oreo cookie ice cream with rainbow sprinkles (small scoop) and I got so much. I got maybe four scoops for a small. Crazy!

 He bit me while I was asleep
 The future is looking so bleak
 I'm tossing and turning and cannot sleep.
 I need something sharp to itch
 The bite from the little twitch.
 I now fall into restless sleep
 Because of that insufferable little bleep.

PLAYING PIRATES WITH MR. REDLING

During rowboating, Jack, Mr. Redling, and I were in the Silver Ribbon boat and challenged Ari, Dhruv, and Carter to a race. Of course, I beat them, but they used the bailer so we took the bailer, chased them down, and fired what could be a water canon. Then we went to bigger targets. We darted towards TJ in the 420 as he rushed to safety after seeing the previous battle, but it was too late. There was no wind and we fired. Next was Sebastian. He gave up when we caught up; our firepower was so much that he capsized.

PEYTON ELIE

FIRST PACK TRIP

This week we went on a pack trip, we hiked 13 miles in three days. We summited three mountains. The first day we hiked four miles to the campsite and chilled the rest of the day. On the second day, we did six miles, and summited two mountains, South and North Kinsman Ridge. On the third and final day, we summited Cannon Mountain and then finally got back to camp. It was my first pack trip and I look forward to more in the future.

CANOE ALONG

Canoe along, canoe along... It was five in the morning. Early morning fishing was happening. Cash, Lyon, Raaghav, and Dhruv were with me and we were with Mr. Redling and Capt. Bartlett. The morning went by quickly and Dhruv caught a crappy. A small one, but big enough to eat. I was using the yellow rod. The special rod for reasons. I kept saying that I had all the luck. And, I proved to be correct. I caught the biggest bass to enter that boat. My fish was almost double the size of Dhruv's fish. His fish was about the length of this piece of paper [eight inches], maybe a little bit longer. Anyways, later when we were heading to shore the fuel ran out a little past Waingunga buoy. The thing that told how much gas was in the tank (gauge) was broken. It said we had tons of fuel before we started to paddle the boat back. I would like to give the most credit to Cash, Mr. Redling, and Dhruv for paddling back. Anyway, it has been an experience to canoe along.

JOSH YUN

PADDLEBOARDING

Today, I went paddleboarding with Mr. Conklin, Mr. Z, and Ms. Ellie. We waited for the Cavites to get dressed, which took so long! Once we got out to the water, the battle began! We all started ramming into each other. I fell off my board at least twenty times. I only knocked off a few people. Mr. Z completely destroyed Ms. Ellie with a sneak attack underwater. I loved it. We came back for boats and went back to the dorm.

The Howl I should have written about 57 years ago, in 1966

AKELA WATERWORKS

This week as we were walking through the woods we noticed a large pile of gutters that appeared to have been used on Akela, but had been taken down and discarded in the woods. So we set about thinking about what we could do with them. Someone came up with a great idea. We can use them to flood the Panther Hydraulics!

We carefully lined them up from the pipe by the side of the Akela writing porch which is the drain for the basin on the wash porch, to the Panther hydros, using rocks and sticks to ensure that the gutters were aligned properly to ensure the water would run downhill.

Just before lunch, we turned on the water so that it could run the whole time we were at the dining hall. When we returned for relax we told our counselor that the water faucet was broken and that the valve wouldn't turn off. Eventually, during clean-up for inspection, the water was turned off. But by that time we had sent so much water down the hill that the Panther Hydraulics was FLOODED and STINKY for the rest of the season!

MR. MORGAN

CHAPTER 1: THE SHAVING CREAM MAN

There has been deep unrest of who this shaving cream man is, and great outrage that Akela lost a sacred point over him. I don't know much, for I was unconscious during this great fiasco. This is how the story starts. The dorm was perfect and we heard footsteps approaching. We quickly silenced and the door was thrown open. Ake- was the last thing I saw before the stool slammed into my head and darkness, but not before I saw him. The Shaving Cream Man. I will tell you what the others accounted for.

Chapter 2: Alex POV

After Preston was hit with the stool the Shaving Cream Man who looked surprisingly like Preston heard the COD Mr. Redling walking up. He quickly shoved the unconscious body under the bed. The Shaving Cream Man quickly blew through the commands and then, brainwashed the rest of us and made us crowd around Redling chanting, "Give us Scoops, give us Scoops." Mr. Redling was being battered by all of us be we could do nothing to stop ourselves. He fell to one knee, then forced himself up and ran out the door. After we all blacked out we then woke up to the dorm a mess...

Chapter 3: Preston

I woke up under the bed, everyone was gone. I staggered up to the dining hall just as Mr. Redling announced...Akela lost a point. I sank to my knees and sobbed. Noooo! I went up to Redling and begged him to change his decision and listen to my story, but his decision was concrete. We all cried. I will always remember this day and if I ever find him again, that Shaving Cream Man, I will extract my revenge.

Now you know my story. Keep an eye out for the Man, tell me, and I will destroy him.

PRESTON MORGAN

MAHOOSUCS

This week Panther went on the Mahoosucs pack trip. The hike was really nice and exciting. It was probably the most fun hike of my life. On the third day, we had just summited our last mountain and were going to our last campsite. On the way, there was a huge bog. Most people went around it, but Peyton thought he could make it through it. He slipped on a rock and fell waist-deep into the mud and we all died laughing. We all did the Mowglis pose and Mr. Garcia took a picture. Overall, the trip was great, and I had a lot of fun.

GYAN CERWINSKI

BIGGEST REGRET

One of my biggest regrets as a Denite was not writing more good Howls. My Den was lots of fun on the writing porch so only a few good Howls were written. Something I have been looking forward to as a counselor is running lacrosse club. I think it was a great success running with Sebastian.

SMASHING CLAY

Mr. Slater let us smash the four-weekers' clay, so I wrote a poem about it:

The blobs and lumps and leftover clumps.

We flung and mashed and beat and bashed and all the clay was gone in a flash.

And now I will wait for the terrible fate of the next great smashing of clay.

ODE TO BOG

O' deep and mighty bog. Squishy ground that sinks so deep. Trails tucked within the fields of peat. A seemingly endless muddy scene. Hidden amidst the colossal Mahoosucs lies the mystifying bog. With a magnetic force that sucks down any man with conceit. Every step a rock, is that a plank or will you find yourself waist-deep in the abyss? O' wondrous bog with stench unmatched. Thy odor parallel only by week old trail lunch forgotten. With every squelching step, I embrace your eerie charm. A home of many creatures, even smelling so rotten. Within thy murky depths lies a hidden world beneath my eye. Endless critters within the brush. A snake slithers away back into it's mush. O' Great and muddy bog. A space within my mind you will always hog. Without your cold and wet embrace. I must move on and find a new place.

FRANCONIA FALLS

This week for Trip Day Akela went to Franconia Falls. After a short car ride, we arrived at the parking lot of the falls. We realized the hike was more of a walk along a path by a river. For some the hike was never-ending but to others it was incredibly easy and short. We got to the falls, ate our lunch, and changed to go swim, but quickly noticed that the water was cold, very cold. However, like true Mowglis Men, we didn't care and everyone went in. Even though it took longer for some to get in than others. We had to get out every 10 minutes because the counselors didn't want us to get hypothermia. During the second shift, we all decided to play whitewater. We all took turns diving into the frigid water and it was a lot of fun. The hike on the way back was very muddy due to the rain, but it was a great trip overall.

THE SUMMER HAS FLOWN BY

The summer has flown by. It seems like yesterday we were arriving to Nurse Kathy checking your hair for lice and seeing lots of returning campers. Some new ones as well. We settled in—the first days aren't always the best—while we wait for Industries starts time flies by. Week two we start our trip to Cliff Island, that was an adventure. My team the Eels won Landsports Day. The third week was our first hiking trip, it didn't go the best, but the Eels got second place on Watersports Day. Now it's week four and everyone's got back from parents weekend. I only left for like 3 ½ hours. We had open waterfront then ice cream, then I left and came back. That night in the dorm the four counselors outnumbered the three campers, Me, Will, and Kingsley. The next morning everyone came back. I can't believe Crew Week is only a week away. I want to try and make 5-seat on Second Form. I can't wait for the rest of the summer!

ADRIAN MORGAN

FRIENDS AND MEMORIES

I've been here for four weeks and these four weeks have been so great. When I first got to camp, I wasn't sure what to think because the first day was kind of boring. I've had so much fun, I've made a lot of good memories and have made a lot of good friends here. Next year, I hope I can make more great friends and memories here at Camp Mowglis.

HARRY LEBLANC

WEEK FIVE

This week went as expected since week five is Squads. I got no requirements but it's fine because I don't have that many Den Requirements left to Graduate. Sunday they announced Squads and I got on Washington. We left on Monday and got back on Thursday. On Monday the Hut we went to was Mizpah Springs Hut. It was in a cool spot and had a decent amount of good weather. The second Hut was called Lakes of the Clouds. It was a really big Hut that surprisingly smelled really bad or maybe it was just us that made it smell bad. At the end of the day half of us went to a rock on a cliff to watch the sunset. On the third day we summited Mt. Washington and got some fine merch. I got a jumper with Mt. Washington on it. It was extremely cold and no view because of all the clouds. That day we went down to Madison Hut which was my favorite Hut of them all. On the last day we hiked down and went back to camp. That being said Squads week is now over so now that leaves us with the beginning of Crew Week. I hope everyone has a good Crew Week and an unforgettable one for the year 2023.

ANTON FALCONER

THE BRASS CHOIR

I woke up at about 6:33am to get ready for the annual Brass Choir trip to Laconia. When I was ready, I walked up to the dining hall for an early breakfast. Then, we left camp and got to the church. We played the hymns, and after the final prayers, began to greet the people. Blake ate so many cookies that he was vibrating and running laps in the grass. Eventually, we went back to camp.

KAYSHAV MITTAL

DOUBLE FULL WAINGUNGA

This week I did my double full for the second time. The first time was 30 minutes and the next was 27 minutes. I have to shave down two minutes still. I'm close to my White Ribbon and I hope I can get it.

PRESTON MORGAN

FRANCONIA FALLS

This week for Trip Day we went to Franconia Falls and it was super fun. The water was super cold so it was like pins and needles when you jumped in. On the way back it was raining and we were jumping in puddles the whole way, it was super fun.

JOHNNY DEMOPOULOS

GOPHER SQUAD

Gopher Squad is the most amazing pack trip I've ever gone to. The Huts, the counselors, the food, the views, the campers, along with so many other things made Gopher my best experience at Mowgli so far. Thank you Gopher Squad.

RAFA MORENO

ALMOST THE LAST WEEK OF SUMMER

This week is Crew Week which is the best week of camp. But then it's the last week of the summer. My hopes for this summer are to get my Photography Ribbon, to make 3rd form powerhouse, be Graduates Dinner waiter, and Mrs. Holt's Day speaker.

PAUL SAROSI

SOLO

This week I did my Solo for Camping. It was probably the most uncomfortable night of my life. First of all, I was put very deep into the woods at a shelter. My group then met up to play games. I tried to go to sleep in my sleeping bag, I got bit by at least 20 mosquitos and then a salamander fell on my face, I was so scared. After all this, I got completely into my sleeping bag so that no bugs or animals could get me. It was so hot it felt like 120 degrees in there, I was sweating so much. Somehow I made it through the night but when I woke up I was in a puddle of sweat. I'm so happy I don't have to do the Solo again.

GYAN CERWINSKI

FUN WEEK

This week has been really fun. I made Mt Washington Squad and it was awesome. Woodsmen's Day was also really fun. After winning first place in all the axemenship events. Crew Week is about to start, I'm so excited for it, and I hope I make Racing Crew. Love Camp. Love Washington Squad '23.

COOKING CLUB

At camp, I did the cooking club. Some other people and I made a cake. It was so much fun! After that, we went to Gray Brothers Hall. We heard some music so we went to it and it turned out to be the Cubs and staff playing pickleball. I am having so much fun at camp.

JACK VIVES

DRAMA RIBBON

This week I got my Drama Ribbon and I can't believe that there are only two weeks left in the summer. Crew Week is coming and it will be an RVD. I have a lot of friends in Toomai. Camp is fun.

ANDREW JACOBS

GOALS

I went on Gopher Squad this week, it was awesome! I can officially say I've climbed Mt. Washington, which was definitely a goal of mine. Boats get announced tonight, I hope I make Racing Crew. I've only been training all year for this. This week has been pretty great and I can't wait for Crew Week.

REVILLE

This Sunday I blew Reville 30 minutes early. Fearing the wrath of the other campers in my dorm, I was thankful to be able to flee onto the Brass Choir trip to Laconia where we played at a church. It was a great time and Ben and Jerry's afterwards made it even better.

Sorry about Reville.

KELLAN LOCKHART

SKEET SHOOTING

Today for Clubs I did skeet shooting. We had 410, 20, and 24 gauges. I used a 410. I shot three times and missed every time. When Officer Travis showed up he got three shells and hit two out of three. Mr. Mida said whoever hits the most clays would get his desert. I guess Officer Travis gets his dessert.

CLUBS

Today we did clubs. Clubs are the best! I chose kayaking. Kayaking was very fun, I loved it, It's my favorite. We kayaked to Baloo Cove then we swam on the mat. It was very fun. Then we had to go back.

QUINTIN MUNROE

THE LOG INCIDENT

Yesterday we had trabajo because some people were banging up the dorm and destroying the floor boards. After hauling the logs up to Mr. Greenwell's truck we hiked down to the Gray Brothers field to unload the logs. When we were done with the trailer we had to take some off the actual truck. There was this long piece only needing two people, Carter pushed the log so that it could slide off smoothly landing right on my toe. It still hurts and it hurt to have the blood drained from underneath the toenail.

JULIAN LEON

SOLO REQUIREMENT

This week in camping, after colors some campers including me were going for our Solo Requirement. When we got there I started to gather big, medium and small sticks. When I finished my shelter I went straight inside to try and sleep as fast as possible but that didn't happen. A bunch of mosquitos were buzzing in my ears and they wouldn't let me sleep. That was the most uncomfortable night in my life but I got what I needed, My Solo Requirement.

MATEO MEDINA MORA

WAINGUNGA

Today I did my Double Full Waingunga. I woke up at 6:30am along with Julien, Preston and Josh. We were as quiet as can be all the way down to Waingunga. We got in the water after tagging in and went over to the swimmers raft and got ready. After everything was set we got Mr. Mida to give a countdown 3, 2, 1, and off we went. I stared at the dark green water and Josh and before I knew it was on my last lap, I pushed hard past the boats and almost vomited, but I finished and in the end Josh and I got the requirement.

TRIP DAY

This week during Trip Day Akela was in two groups. My group summited Mt. Pemigewasset. It was a nice hike about two miles up and down. We spent a lot of time at the summit. We ate our lunch at the summit which was basically a cliff. We played many games of Mafia before going back down the mountain. We only waited for half an hour for the other group who was on Mt. Liberty.

VICTOR MA

CREW TRYOUTS

During swimming sign-up, I was working on my Bronze Ribbon and I was knocking out requirements. Then, I hear the motor boat and see Mr. L. Jenkins and he quickly asked me to come, and I hop on the boat and he drives me to the Crew boats. I hopped in and we got to rowing. Then it starts to rain and rain harder and harder until it was pouring. Then we hear a loud crack and we see lightening. We immediately start bolting it back to camp. Dru called for power 10s, so when we got back to the dock we saw that we had left the other boat in the dust. Overall, it was a fun tryout.

ARJUN MOHAN

CASCADES

On Trip Day we hiked to Nancy Cascades. It was 4.8 miles round trip. The cascades were beautiful, the water was very cold. I can't wait for Crew Week. I misplaced my bandana last year and couldn't find it at home. I hope I don't do the same thing this year. I like how Mr. Z, Mr. Cosgrove, and Mr. Mida select the howls that are read at campfire. I hope they read this one.

CHRIS CONDON

OPEN WATERFRONT

This week was fun, we had open waterfront and me and Iker went out in a canoe. We flipped our canoe and we called Ms. Ellie over to help rescue us. On her way over I told Iker we should flip her too. I then swam to the front of her paddle board and flipped it over. In the end we all laughed about it.

ALONSO BENAVIDES

FUN WEEK

This week was fun. In Lone Wolf, we talked about global warming, so please, save more dolphins. I also made Mt. Washington Squad, it was an amazing trip! I'm very excited for the Crew Boats to be announced.

ALONSO BENAVIDES

CHEF HARDY'S SLIDERS

Chef Hardy's sliders take you on a magical journey. The perfect blend of flavors makes me so happy every time I see them in the dining hall. If you haven't had them you need to try them and understand what I'm saying.

GEORGO SAROSI

WATER RUN

Panther was on an overnight backpacking trip on the Franconia Ridge a few days ago. It was a fun but really hard hike. We met a group from another camp and it was the same group we had seen on our last trip. On the second day on the Franconia Ridge, we met up with the other part of our dorm on the Summit of Lafayette. We were running out of water, so Dhruv, Cash, Justin, Isaac, Donny, and I went down to Greenleaf Hut to fill up water bottles. It was one mile down and we got there in 25 minutes. It took longer to get back up with three backpacks full of water, but everyone was thankful for our efforts. The rest of the trip was also a lot of fun.

SEBASTIAN LAFONTANT

KNIFE TESTS

It was a cold and rainy night in the Panther tent the other day. It was very loud and hard to sleep. At one point, we were all awake in the middle of the night. This week, we got our knife tests but a few people quickly cut themselves so the knives were taken away. I hope we get them back soon.

LUDWIG SCHNORBUS

SCOOPS HOPEFUL

This week we were on a base camp trip with a river that was very cold, but it had slides you could go down and there were small eddies. I hope we get to go to Scoops before the four weeks finishes, I think some people in the dorm are trying to think of a prank for the four weekers.

ARNOLD MOSHI

TRIP DAY AND CLUBS

For Trip Day we went to Franconia Falls. We swam in the freezing cold water and almost got hypothermia, as often happens on Trip Days, it started pouring rain. It was still pretty fun. Today I did the shotgun club. Although I didn't hit anything it was fun and then I was able to shoot the 20 gauge. It was fun.

ELLIOT LUCAS

TRIP DAYS

I like Tennis and Trip Days. I have put a lot of effort in for Tennis and I was able to get my ribbon. Trip Days are fun, the views on the tops are so beautiful. One Trip Day we went to a river that was so cold and we also got rained on while hiking back to the van.

LALO GONZALEZ

THE BEST TRIP

Wellington is the best trip I have ever done. We got there in the Mowglis boats in about 40 minutes. I was pretty tired but I did it. After we parked the boat in Wellington, I was brutally tackled into the water. After that we played futball, it was so fun. We got out of the water and the lunch was ready. We had chicken sandwiches, it was so good (thanks Chef Hardy)! They gave us Gatorade and contro. After that, we got back to camp and did our time trial. It was not that good but I'm still proud. Thanks, Blue Crew for this awesome week!

PATRICIO GARCIA

CREW WEEK

Crew Week just ended. I made Red Racing Crew coxswain and we got to row to Wellington Beach. It was fun. P.S. It was an RVD.

DRU ROBBINS

AUGUST 6, 2023

My three years here have been magical. Exploring the White Forest, doing Industries, and hanging out with some of my closest friends are experiences I will never forget. As my final week here begins, I reflect on the great time I have had. Yet, there is still work to be done. I must earn my Orange and Brown Ribbons, and complete my Wolf's Paw requirements to say that this summer has been a true success. I wish my days with my brothers didn't have to end, but I am excited to graduate. Den of '23, I salute you.

ISAAC SPRUNG

HAPPIEST MOMENT OF MY LIFE

Yesterday was the happiest moment of my life, it was Crew Day and I was extremely nervous for the final race since I was on Racing Crew with Peyton, Carter, Isaac, Dru, Diego, and Anton. We had been prepping all week for this and it had finally come to the moment of all moments, the Race. The boat had rowed out there silently since we were too nervous to talk, after what felt like forever we finally made it to the line and got ready to row our hearts out. Then, "Attention Rowers...Row!" We were off, rowing full power every stroke, Isaac had fallen but like clockwork, he had recovered in less than a stroke. It felt like five hours but five seconds at the same time, and that's when we heard the finish. It was amazing, half of us were crying from happiness while Peyton had almost flipped the boat after falling out of his seat while screaming with joy. We had put our name on a plaque and it felt awesome, from that point on I felt truly great and it's easily one of my favorite memories.

DONOVAN COOKE

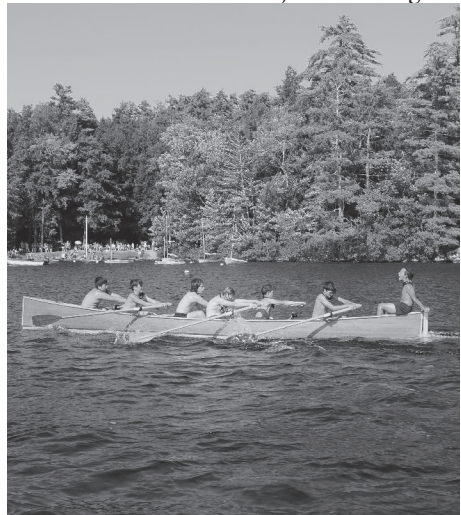

THE LAST HOWL

This is going to be my last howl, and because of it, I come to think of my time here as a camper. This Den year has been the best by far. With all of the trips I got to go on and the forms that I got on, I think I did pretty well as a camper. Washington Squad, Winning Racing Crew, Inner Circle, Graduation. I only have seven days left so I'm going to use it wisely. Overall, this year has been good and I'm excited to see what the staff job will bring.

ANTON FALCONER

CREW WEEK

Yesterday was Crew Day and Crew Week this year was the most fun of the summer. At the start of the week, my name was announced in First Form, and the rest of my boat was pretty good, so I was excited. Throughout the week, I loved the competitive spirit that Crew Week brought. When Crew Day finally came, the energy was intense and I was excited. Blue won the 3rd and 2nd Form races, and everybody on Blue was happy. I lost my race though and so did Racing Crew, so I was kind of disappointed that Crew Week had to end without a BVD. But, I'm excited for Crew Week next year and I hope I can make Racing Crew next year. This Mowgli year has been fun and I'm looking forward to my Den year.

GYAN CERWINSKI

SKEET SHOOTING

Today I did skeet shooting with Mr. Mida, Mr. Redling, and Mr. McGreevy. I missed the clay pigeon. It was so fun.

JACK VIVES

THE DOUBLE FUN, THE DOUBLE FULL

It's 6:00 AM. The morning is cold. Jump in to start the long trip again and again, stroke after stroke. The first, second, and third lap go by slowly. Front crawl, then breaststroke, switching off. Then, the last lap comes, and my mind begins to numb. The final sprint. Putting everything into the last 200 meters. I finished the last lap in a little over five minutes, but it was two minutes too slow. I will soon defeat the oppressing double full.

PRESTON MORGAN

A YEAR TO REMEMBER

This is my last howl of Mowglis 2023. This year has flown by with all of the fun activities we have done, like Landsports Day, Watersports Day, Woodsman's Day, the countless Industries we have done, and so much more! I enjoyed Crew Week and watching the races even if my crew didn't win. I will never forget my time at Mowglis this year.

GORDON ANDREWS

TIME FLIES AT CAMP

Crew Week is over, camp has gone by so fast, and I can't believe it's almost over. This year, I got my Inner Circle, so next year in Panther I will sit there. I want to get started on some other Ribbons, so I can finish them next year, like blacksmithing and maybe camping. I love this camp and will definitely come back next year.

JOHNNIE SOUKUP

THE BEST EXPERIENCE

Crew Week ended and it was an RVD. Making Racing Crew and winning was one of the best experiences of my life. But now that it's over I realize that I can never be on a boat with most of those people again. The time that we spent together at Wellington and HQ is over. But, I'm happy that it happened and that I got to row with them.

PEYTON ELIE

THE BEST DAY

Yesterday was Race Day for me, one of the most exciting days at camp. It was a regular Saturday morning (mostly), but the afternoon was wild. We orchestrated a parade down to the waterfront, where I nervously waited for my First Form race. Minutes after, I sat into the boat, calmly rowed to the starting line, and started the race. We thankfully won, and Red Racing Crew also won their race. This was one of the best events at Mowglis and I am so happy to have been part of it.

RAFA MORENO

LAST

Crew Week was really fun. Writing my last howl as a camper is hard. I don't know if I will come back as a staff, but I will think about it. My three years as a Camper were so fun, and I have lots of good memories. I will never forget camp. In a few years, camp will be infested by Medina Moras. I will be very happy about it. After being the second generation, I will be very happy that there will be more.

IKER MEDINA MORA

CANOE CHAOS

This week we went to the Cockermouth River. I was in a boat with Ciaran and Jack. When we got there, we saw a sign that said you cannot beach here, and we beached a few times. Then, we passed a road and saw the Cubs in a van, then Quintin stopped and stood on a log and his boat left him there. Then we got him and we also saw a turtle and a shoe, then we stopped to eat. After that, we went back to stop at a sand bar. It was so fun.

ANDREW JACOBS

THE LAST HOWL

We are entering the last week of camp and Crew Week is over. It has been my best summer in camp and I'm a little bit sad that everything is ending. But, I get that not everything lasts forever. I also thank everyone for the time I've had at Mowglis and the way everyone has treated me over these two years. So, with this, I finish my howl and I hope to see everyone next year!

JAIME PEREZ

GOPHER SQUAD

Last Sunday I forgot to talk about Squads. I got Gopher Squad. The hut was great but the hike was long and it was raining the entire time. When we got there we had hot cocoa. It was an amazing time there. The next day we hiked Mt. Washington.

MYLES HERNANDEZ

SUMMER GOES BY TOO FAST

I can't believe this is my last Howl of the year. This summer has gone by so fast. I got my Green Ribbon this year and won my First Form race. I am excited for Cardigan and Mrs. Holt's Day.

JUSTIN LEON

LOOKING FORWARD TO NEXT SUMMER

It's crazy that it's the last week of camp. Crew Week flew by and the summer is almost over. Camp has been super fun and I'm excited for the final week. I'm also excited for all that comes with next summer.

JOHNNY DEMOPOULOS

LAST HOWL

I want to talk in my last howl as a camper about my experience here. My first year here was in Baloo 2019. In the first weeks I felt a bit homesick, but as soon as I met people, like Diego Larrea, everything was better. Next, for two summers I couldn't come because of COVID and I missed camp. When summer 2022 came, I returned to camp in Panther. Last year was awesome because I got to see my old dormmates again, and met Ckyson and Jaime. I was fortunate to be on Racing Crew, but we lost so I wanted to come back for Den and win. This summer was incredible, my dormmates, counselors, Den requirements, trips, and finally... Crew Week. Thanks, Mowglis, for making my summers memorable.

DIEGO SAENZ

GOING BY IN A FLASH

I can't believe it's already the seventh week of camp, Crew Week is over, and everyone is going to be picked up in a week and resume their normal lives. Ribbons are going to be given out, Denites scrambling to Graduate, and tournaments are starting. Cardigan assault is on Wednesday.

HEYWARD WILCOX

CREW WEEK

Crew Week this year was one of the best weeks I've had. I made Blue Racing without expecting it, and it was great. We ran some campfires, I did a few practices and planned the Blue Banner. Then came Wellington, with hours of practice, barbeque, and contro. Finally came the race. Though we lost, it was worth being on Racing Crew.

GEORGE MONTGOMERY

THE LAST HOWL

So far, camp has been really fun. I love canoeing and riflery. I also loved going to Cliff Island and Cardigan. It's been a blast and I hope to come back next year. I have made friends and had a lot of fun. Mowglis has been such an experience. P.S. Mr. CH should get a raise.

HENRY BOULD

A SUMMER TO REMEMBER

This is my last week and last howl as a camper. This year has been really fun. I hope to get my Wolf's Paw. I will remember this summer forever.

HIRO NISHINO

CAMP

After weeks at camp, I feel I have accomplished a lot. Woodworking is going soooo slow. But, I've had fun. I got Gopher Squad and First Form. I enjoy camp and hope I will get more done next year. My goal of getting the Golden Ribbon is achievable, but I have one week of camp, and I plan to use it. I love Camp Mowglis.

LYON COURTNEY

SUMMER IN A FLASH

This year has flown by! I can't believe there is only one week left in camp! We get Scoops tomorrow, I'm pretty sure. Crew Day was yesterday, and my boat won by 30 seconds, but sadly, it ended up an RVD. Last night, since we had such a big day on Crew Day, we got to sleep in until 8:15! I'm excited for the last week of being in Baloo.

ADRIAN MORGAN

LASTS

This is my last howl before I become a Denite, and I feel like I accomplished a lot this year. I got my Photography and Camping Ribbons, worked on my Blacksmithing Ribbon, and made progress in many other Industries. Panther '23 was very fun and I hope my Den year is even better. Good Hunting all!

RAAGHAV MITTAL

CREW DAY

Last week was Crew Week, I was in the Red First Form boat. We did all the regular Crew Week stuff, like Capture the Flag and poster making. Then came Saturday, Race Day. We were all ready. Third Form went out and Blue won, then Second Form Blue, then I, First Form, went out and it was a win for Red. Then the Cub race, Red, then Racing Crew got the Red. It was a good Crew Week.

ZORIAN ARCE

RVD

Crew Week was really fun, especially because the Red Crew won. I had a really great time watching and cheering on my team, even though I didn't get on a form. Better luck next year.

DYLAN HAUGHTON

THE FINAL WEEK

This summer flew by, and I can't believe I'm writing my last Howl of the year. Crew Week was fun, and I'm excited for the final week. I plan to get my Inner Circle, so hopefully I can finish up my last few requirements to do so.

KELLAN LOCKHART

MR. DRENNAN

The campfire burning was Mr. Drennan's remake of the bonfire. It was so fun. Mr. Drennan is the best.

BLAKE SOLTYSIK

LAST HOWL OF 2023 RECAP

This is my last howl of the summer, but I won't forget all of the great things that happened this year. Week one was good because I got to see all of my friends that I haven't talked to in a while, and got used to the Mowglis schedule again. Week two I did a base camp trip at the Franconia Falls, but the next day my group didn't hike due to some sickness Mr. Jenkins had. Either way, it was nice to chill at the river. Week three we did athletic teams and Landsports Day. Even though I did one sign-up, I ended up winning the tug of war. Week four was a big week. I did my first pack trip and the first day was rough, but hiking Goose Moose, a.k.a. Full Goose Mountain, was a nice mountain to hike and the view was nice. The worst part of the trip was Kellan opening a bag of tuna when my group was in the van trying to relax so we had to smell the tuna for a good chunk of the ride. Week five and Woodsman's Day were nice. I was watching the intense chopping and splitting competition. We were going to do the sled with the JS on it until it rained and we couldn't do it and my athletic team still never got to do it. Week six was Crew Week and it was filled with Red and Blue. I was sad for my friends who didn't make the form they wanted, but it was all good. Yesterday was the races and the night before that with the bonfire was cool. Even though my crew lost, I still won't forget the week I just had. The talent show was also really cool (good job with the drumming, Gordon). And now, I'm here writing my last howl as a Pantherite. All the memories and the friends I made will last a lifetime. Thank you Mowglis Summer 2023.

D.J. MARSH

THE REAL "LAST HOWL"

This is the time of the season that gives you the opportunity to think about all the good things that happened in the past seven weeks. This summer has been awesome! I've had some of the best times in my life and I've made a lot of memories. I'm very pleased that I was able to get the opportunity to be part of the pack for two summers. The things I've learned, the many times I've pushed myself forward, and many more things that made my time at Mowglis worth it! I'm going to remember this place for the rest of my life: the experiences, friends, the places I've been, and just everything. I hope I'll be able to come back sometime and remember my time here and the impact this place has made in my life, which I'll remember forever!

JAIME PEREZ

CREW WEEK

This week was Crew Week and it was an RVD. I wanted a BVD. I won my Second Form race. I called the sprint before Baloo Cove.

LEO PORTO

MY LAST HOWL

This will officially be my last Howl of my Baloo year. I'll miss this place and all the memories I've made here. I'll for sure miss the delicious food and I can't believe the camp year has already come to an end.

KINGSLEY NWAISE

THE END

The end is here and I have to write a Howl so I will just start by saying some things to sum it up. The summer has been so fun and I can't wait for the next! It has been so eventful and I only want it to go longer. But I can't lie, it will be nice to take a shower when I get home.

WILL SCHLACKS

FINAL WEEK

This last week was very eventful. I earned my Axe test and Swimmers, completing my Graduation Requirements. I also earned my Black and Orange as well as my Silver earning a spot in the Inner Circle. During the Inner Circle Ceremony, my fire was so good that Anton and Iker were getting smoked out the whole time. It's been a great week.

DAN DROS

DEAR HOWL

This is the last Howl before my Den year. It's crazy how fast camp has gone. It feels like the four-week mark was just yesterday. Camp has been such a great experience. Getting my Camping and Rowboating Ribbons, winning Racing Crew, and making Gopher Squad(ish) have all been so much fun. I can't wait to come back next year!

CARTER YEATMEN

MOWGLIS BROTHERS

Tomorrow is Mrs. Holt's Day and I've had so much fun at camp and made so many good friends. I'm happy that I'll see them next year. Brothers all we hunt together.

ADRIAN MORGAN

THE BEST YEAR

This year has been my favorite year out of all three. I have loved the adventures, the counselors, the trips, the dorm, the dust trap, the tetherball, inspection, the ribbons, and the Industries.

HEYWARD WILCOX

LAST HOWL

It is the last day of camp and I am ready to go home, but sad at the same time. I had a lot of fun here.

DYLAN HAUGHTON

FINAL HOWL

This summer has been one of the best in my life. I got my Golden Anchor and my Rowboat Safety. I shot well to get my Marksmen 1st Class and Sharpshooters. I met up with old friends and made new ones. We went on our first pack trip and we are finally able to do all the Industries. Akela 2023 was a journey with ups and downs but overall it was a great summer!

GEORGE SAROSI

THE LAST WEEK

When I found out about camp, I wasn't sure how it was going to go. I was nervous the first day, it felt really weird, and I didn't know anything. The first week I met a lot of amazing people and staff. This summer I was trying to have fun so I went to Industries that I really liked, like Axemanship, Riflery, and Camping. I got my Camping Ribbon, a really fun ribbon. This summer was a really good summer. I really like this camp! Thanks to the people that helped me make the friends I made and I will see you all next summer!

ANDRÉS CERVERA PEREZ

THE LAST HOWL

This is my last Howl in my Toomai year. Thankfully I have achieved everything I have aimed for. Getting my Green, Purple, and Lavender Ribbons and helping my brother achieve his Wolf's Paw. Mowglis 2023, I salute you, and Good Hunting for the next season.

JOE SPRUNG

ACHIEVEMENTS

This year everyone in my dorm including me has achieved many things. This year for me things like Inner Circle, Gopher Squad, and Racing Crew. I've truly never had this much fun in a summer. I can't wait to come back next summer in my Den year!

DONOVAN COOKE

AN AWESOME SUMMER

I have one last Howl to write this summer and one last thing to say. It's been a long summer full of fun, friends, and requirements. But the best highlight of the entire summer was my dorm mates, new friends, and accomplishments. So thank you for making my summer awesome everyone!

CIARAN CLARK

LAST SUMMER

This summer has been the best summer I've had at camp. I got to canoe the CT Lakes and I got to hike the Presidentials on Washington Squad. I also got Racing Crew and achieved most of the goals I set. I will miss being a camper but I will never stop coming back.

HIRO NISHINO

A BITTERSWEET GOODBYE

Today marks the last full day at Mowglis. I am excited to see my parents and friends back home, to sleep in my bed, and watch TV. But leaving behind all the great friends and fun activities makes me want to stay back at camp. I am going to miss the competition, the energy, the community, jumping into the cold waters of Newfound Lake, the campfires, the songs. I am going to miss everything about Mowglis, besides the 7:15 wake-up. Goodbye Mowglis and see you next year.

CASH LINDSLEY

FUTURE GOALS

This year was my first at camp. There have been ups and downs. I am extremely close to my Golden Arrow and I already got my Swimmers. Having the ability to go into all three areas has been really fun. After learning mostly everything about Mowglis I have set some goals for the future summers. Get into the Inner Circle, Graduate, and get the swimming ribbon.

HENRY ANTHONY

THE PANTHER SWAMP

This year it rained a lot. Outside of Panther, the rain made a swamp near the stairs for the writing porch. It was just a swamp. People have lost many items in the swamp and only after half the summer did we get a bridge. It ran from near the tetherball court and along the tent to the dorm. It didn't help much though.

GEORGE MONTGOMERY

THE LAST CHANCE

Dear Howl, this is the last chance I have to write you. Thanks for all the good times I have had in camp. Like when we went tubing, and splitting my first log, and a lot more. I remember my first day at camp in Akela and I was very nervous of what it was going to be like since it was my first time to Mowglis and to be so far away from home. But coming to camp is the best decision I made in my life. Camp makes me realize that I can do more than I thought and bring me to my limits. There are many good friendships and experiences. Thank You Camp Mowglis!

CRISTOBAL GONZALEZ

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

As the summer of 2023 comes to an end, I have so much to appreciate this camp for. Especially as a Denite. After all the talks I've been told about being a Yearling and a JS, it makes me want to come back next summer. With all the privileges that we earned this year, I hope that there will be more next year. Fast forward to today, the final day, we just practiced for Mrs. Holt's Day. I reflect on the time I've been here from Baloo to Den, Graduation, Inner Circle, Winning Racing Crew and so much more. I think I have accomplished what I was looking for since the very start. As my last Howl comes to an end as well as my camper days, I look forward to being a staff and no longer a tableboy. All jokes aside I do appreciate this year and so for that Den of '23 I salute you.

ANTON FALCONER

MY FAVORITE SUMMER

This year has been my most favorite summer at Mowglis. This year I earned my Yellow Ribbon and I went on the Red Ribbon Trip, which was awesome! I hope everyone has achieved their goals this year. Everyone stay safe and have a great off-season.

JACK LEARY

LAST HOWL

Today I write my last Howl of 2023. I think I did a good job. I got my Rock Climbing Ribbon, my first Ribbon. I loved rock climbing, it was really fun, the best thing I've ever done, and I had the best year possible. P.S. Best year every year.

QUINTIN MUNROE

MY LAST HOWL AS A CAMPER

This is the last Howl for the summer and the last as a camper. From my first year at camp in 2021 I was in Akela, then Panther in 2022, and now Den of 2023. The memorable things I did through these past three years will be remembered by me and all those whom I have shared these past three years with. The Den of '23 was really fun and has been one of my greatest experiences of my life. After earning the Red, Green, Silver, and Orange Ribbons I have made it into the Inner Circle adding yet another Medina Mora into it. Den '23, Thank You Camp Mowgliis.

IKER MEDINA MORA

SUMMER'S END

The summer's almost done
Thinking back, it was very fun
The things we accomplished
And the challenges we have overcome
We all worked our hardest
And tried our very best
The ribbons we completed
Are better than I would have guessed
So this year has been amazing
That couldn't be more true.
So all I want this poem to say is Akela 2023, I salute You!

JOHNNIE SOUKUP

PRANKS

Yesterday night we heard an axe chopping right outside Akela. Our dorm was sick of the axe prank at this point so we all burst out of the door and it turned out to be Mr. Mida. We were all still relieved it was just a prank. Later that night we heard a blood-curdling scream from the woods behind Akela. Two of the staff went out and found nothing which is very creepy.

MICAH ELLIOTT

A VERY EVENTFUL WEEK

This week has been pretty eventful. It started off on Monday with the Gray Ribbon Trip. We went to Loon Mountain and rode some pretty fun bike trails. Some of us got a little scratched up but we were all fine. Then on Tuesday, we left for the Red Ribbon Trip. When we got there we did some practice stuff to get ready for the next day, like ferrying, swimming the rapid, and T-rescues. Then we went to set up our tents. Peyton and I helped make dinner, spaghetti and ground beef. It tasted pretty good. After that, we got hot chocolate from Mr. Greenwell and then we started roasting s'mores and finally, we all went to bed. The next morning we ate breakfast sandwiches which were amazing and got ready to start paddling. We got on the river and headed downstream. The rapids were really fun and I was in a boat with Peyton. We got to a big rapid and ended up getting swamped. This was mostly due to Peyton's inability to listen to directions. After the trip, we came back to camp, eager for Graduates Dinner Waiters and dishes to be announced. I ended up getting Graduates' dishes. We had evening soak and headed off to bed. The next morning was the last opportunity for me to earn my Inner Circle. I worked hard all day and had earned both my Red and Green Ribbons, with little to no time to spare. Graduates Dinner was fun and I got a lot of candy. Also somewhere along the way I earned my Rowboat Safety, How's that got the last week at Mowglis?

DHRUV MOHAN

A LETTER TO MRS. HOLT

Dear Mrs. Holt, I have done a lot more than just learn skills at Mowglis. I have made lots of memories. Most recently on Wednesday's Cardigan assault. Thursday I earned my Gold Ribbon and was a Graduates' dinner waiter. On Friday I earned my Golden Arrow and Black and Silver. This made me get my Inner Circle—just five minutes before lunch. Saturday is Candlelight Chapel and Candleboats. Sunday is your day, forever preserving your dream. Your camp has taught me to sail, how to shoot a bow, to woodwork, and to make friends. Thank you Mrs. Holt. I love your gift and I promise I will come back.

2023 CUB HISTORY

My very first moments at Camp Mowglis had me winding my way by the woodshop and past former Director Bob Bengston, who greeted me with a smile. He not only provided a very warm Mowglis welcome, but a sincere proclamation that the Cub Mom is the hardest job at Camp. I replied with a nervous laugh: "How hard can it be!? It's camp!" Was I up for the challenge? Absolutely! Did I know what I was getting myself into? Not quite.

What I do know is that the summer flew by, easily the fastest season of my life. I was told on more than one occasion, "The days are long, but the weeks are short," and that could not have been more true. During one of our weekly staff meetings, Director Nick passed around pieces of paper with the famous Muhammad Ali quote: "Don't count the days, make the days count." I hung this above my desk in Ford Hall to serve as a friendly reminder.

I can proudly say we made the most of each Mowglis day, whether we had bright sunny skies to romp in, or torrential downpours that saturated our overnight camping trips. The Cubs are a resilient and fun bunch! Getting our group from point A to point B often felt like herding cats, but we always made it where we needed to be, usually by (aptly named!) "Cub Time."

The most rewarding part of being with the Cubs is that much of what we did was a "first" for many of them. Rock climbing and rappelling with Mr. Lottmann is one such first that comes to mind. Not only was it the initial rock climbing excursion for the boys, but it was also the first time the newly established route was traversed—the Cubs were part of Mowglis history being made as they scaled Rama on the Run! It was so rewarding to see how willing these Cubs were to try new things and meet challenges with eagerness and excitement! The ropes course swing with Director Nick was another favorite, sending the kids flying out over Newfound Lake! Hoisting each Cub took quite a bit of Mowglis manpower and definitely a lot of teamwork! The hikes were by far one of the most challenging activities. Often met with a bit of kicking and screaming, quite a few bathroom breaks, and boatloads of encouragement and camp songs, we still managed to summit the mountains. The joy and sense of accomplishment that the Cubs exuded far surpassed the tribulations to get to the top. They also enjoyed picking blueberries at local farms this summer, representing our Camp well, and demonstrating kindness and respect in the greater community.

Being responsible for 18 boisterous boys for seven weeks is quite the task. It absolutely takes a village and I couldn't have done it without the help of Cub staff and former Cub moms, Mama Boone and Ms. Amanda. On Mrs. Holt's Day, I was able to share words with outgoing Mowglis President, Tomo Nishino, who further reassured me that the Cub Mom role is one of the hardest at Camp Mowglis. Was it hard? Of course. Was it worth every minute? Absolutely! I am beyond grateful I had the opportunity to witness the Cubs fully embody what it means to be unplugged and authentic—accessing the outdoors as their playground, connecting with peers, and developing integrity, empathy, resilience, and leadership. I am confident they will carry forth these values as members of the Pack, at home and in their broader community. Mowglis Cubs 2023, we salute you!

CUBS 2023: SESSION 1

*Back Row: Mr. Carlos, Cristian Valdez, Zach Jones, Pierce Querry, Cub Mom Cat, Serge Geier, Jem Ossyra, Bowen Wilson, Miss Smith, Pax Fahrenbruch
Second Row: Mr. Israel, Walker Parisi, Samuel Sunday, Steven Patino, Clayton Hill, Theo Burns, Mr. Paul
Front Row: Derek Ma, George Frazier, Ryder Jin, Raife Goyette, Oliver Sunday, Max Lawton*

CLUBS

Camp is fun. We did clubs. It is chapel today. I did art for clubs today. I made a dragon.

GEORGE FRAZIER

FIRST CLUBS

I did clubs today. For clubs I did tubing. It was so much fun! We bounced around a lot! When we were coming back the rain was really hard.

SERGE GEIER

RIFLERY

On Friday we had Riflery. I was SO excited! My score was sadly three, but next time I will try better. And I got to clean out rifles today.

PAX FAHRENBRUCH

CAMP IS FUN

Today at camp we did tubing. I had breakfast. We are about to have lunch. Yesterday we did a counselor hunt and my team won!

JEM OSSYRA

TUBING

Tubing was fun and I went 35 miles an hour. I got to see Theo go and he was scared. In all tubing was very fun.

ZACH JONES

FUN FIRST WEEK

My first week of camp was awesome! I learned how to play Gaga ball and I have been table boy twice! I've joined the sword club. Again, my first week of camp was awesome!

SAMUEL SUNDAY

THE SAND BOX

We played in the sandbox today. We found a moth in the hole that we dug and only for a second it was alive. Then we put little toy army soldiers in the pretend waterfall that was connected to the hole and when we poured the water in the little toy army, soldiers got washed into the hole.

OLIVER SUNDAY

TUBING

Today I flew out of the tube and I did a belly flop. I hurt a lot but I did not have to go to the Lodge but it was red where it hit. I hope I do it again.

BOWEN WILSON

A CRAZY WEEK

This week we went on our first hiking trip, but every time we went up we went down right after. Today we did our first clubs. Also, it was raining!

RAIFE GOYETTE

A WEEK OF FUN

At camp, I had lots of fun and I also won my first game of Gaga. On Saturday I watched a movie. Yesterday we did a staff hunt and I found someone and I am proud of myself.

STEVEN PATINO

CLUBS

Today we had clubs. I decided to do arts and crafts. I got an early head start on making a candleboat. At the end, my hands were tired, but anyway, we are Mowglis Men. I am working on a candle holder.

Here is a story I created:

Aron the Ant

Aron is a small craft shop ant. Every day he would roam around the table. One day DEREK came in. Aron's greatest fear, humans! Derek was working on some wooden thing. This was interesting. Suddenly Derek looked at him and BOOM. The end.

DEREK MA

SUMMER FUN AT MOWGLIS

My favorite club is arts and crafts. I love the food. I love to swim at Baloo Cove.

PIERCE QUERRY

TUBING

In tubing my toes got wet. I really want to go do it again. My friend Clayton fell off.

RAIFE GOYETTE

BEE WARS, BOOK FOUR, THE HORNETS LAST HOPE

Yesterday, we found a hornets nest and Bowen got stung. The eyes of the hornets were at peace, but then Mr. Greenwell came with his spray bottle in hand. He destroyed all of them. There was one hornet left, it was on the ground, and that second Mr. Greenwell's foot was hovering over the hornet. Mr. Greenwell stomped and it was gone.

BY ZACH JONES

TRIP DAY

On Trip Day we were canoeing to a beach, but it started to flood so we turned around and we drove there. We had popsicles when we got there.

WALKER PARISI

THE BEE AND HORNET ATTACK OF 2023

I got stung before we found the bee and hornet nests. Now when I got stung I had to go to the Lodge. It hurt a lot but I was okay. The end. Yay!

BOWEN WILSON

THE MARATHON

On your marks, get set, go! As I ran I felt the horizon on my forehead, then I realized I was in second place and about two yards away from first, but already super tired and hot, even half way there. As we ran I was out of breath, so I walked for three seconds and third place passed me, then we started to turn downhill and I got past the finish line in third place!

STEVEN PATINO

THE NEWFOUND BACKFIRE

We went on a canoe trip in the war canoes! I was in the red canoe. My captain was Raife Goyette. Now it is time for the bad part. The blue canoe was taking on water! We could barely see them! And that is the end of the story.

CLAYTON HILL

I SURVIVED THE BIG BLUE MONKEY

I was walking at the waterfront and I say, "Something is in the water!" It was moving fast and then a 25-foot blue monkey jumped out of the water. He looked hungry, then he ran at me. My life flashed before my eyes, and he tagged me.

THEO BURNS

WASP WARS: REVENGE OF THE WASP NESTS

I was a Cub and I was in Ford Hall and I saw a wasp and I looked around Ford Hall and there they were, up on the ceiling. There were 12 wasp nests and Mr. Greenwell Sprayed them.

OLIVER SUNDAY

CLUBS

Clubs were super fun. I went paddle boarding. I kept tipping over. I splashed people, it was fun. I also jumped in the water. It was a super fun day!

DALTON FRAZIER

CUBS 2023: SESSION 2

Back Row: Miss Smith, Mr. A. Unger, Mr. Paul, Mr. Carlos, Cub Mom Cat, Mr. Gabriel, Mr. Phaneuf, Mr. Goss, Mr. Israel
Second Row: Derek Ma, Charlie Baldwin, Will Ventura, Steven Patino, Jeremiah Figueroa, Serge Geier, CJ Cate, Sterling Shangraw, Jack Bould, Zach Jones
Front Row: Benjamin Grey, Ryan Hayden, Raife Goyette, Ryder Jin, Andrew Rolfe, Pierce Querry, Thomas Baldwin, Eliot Falconer

THE WELLINGTON DISASTER (NO, NOT THE STEAK)

Last week we went to Wellington Beach. We were going in the war canoes. The red boat got a head start and my only thought was “boo Red Crew!”. We got to Paradise Point, but then...we started sinking! It turned out there was a crack in the boat. We panicked and went to the cove like we were gonna die. We made it and listened to “Believer” while we drove in a van to the beach. If you ask me we had a sweet overload. First, we had Hershey’s, then we had Starburst popsicles, and finally, when we got back, we had s’mores. Though it was a disaster, we had a fun day.

DEREK MA

THE HORNET INVASION

During Relax a couple of days ago we (the hornets) invaded a modern building full of humans, and when they evacuated the building, about five minutes later, a man arrived in a metal creature and sprayed my family and all my friends but I escaped.

JEM OSSYRA

ABOUT THE TUBING DAY

When I went tubing I went first with Serge. Serge fell off. It was so much fun! I almost fell off. Serge fell off on purpose.

GEORGE FRAZIER

CLUBS

I had clubs. I went paddle boarding. It was fun. I flipped over.

SERGE GEIER

NUTELLA

One of my Cavites was running down the path from Cubland to the Jungle House and wiped out hard in the mud. He popped up and said, "I feel like a piece of bread smothered in Nutella." I've never heard a more accurate statement!

CUB MOM CAT

ARTS AND CRAFTS CLUB

So today I did arts and crafts and Mr. CH gave me an axe handle. I used a lot of spray paint and had lots of fun, until...I saw that I had lots of silver spray paint on my leg. It will come off soon.

BOWEN WILSON

THE WORST HIKE EVER

Last Thursday we hiked Mount Cardigan and I barely made it, but Cub Mom Cat helped me get up and when we got to the top, we had dried mango and a Hershey bar.

OLIVER SUNDAY

CLUBS

Today we did the arts and crafts club. I made a candle and a sword. Then I sanded them and I made this Howl.

CLUBS

Today I did arts and crafts for clubs. It's the last week for me here and I am pretty sad that I'm leaving.

THEO BURNS

CAMP IS FUN

I like the camp and love the sports. The trip was good. It is so natural that hiking was pretty hard.

CRISTIAN VALDEZ

SHOOTING CLUB

I did shotgun shooting today. I was the only one that shot the clay pigeon. It was my first time doing it.

SERGE GEIER

RIFLERY CLUB

Today for my club, I went to the Riflery range and Mr. Z taught us how to clean a rifle. Even though I could only clean one it was still fun.

STEVEN PATINO

CLUBS

Mowglis is so fun! Today we got to do clubs. I got to make dessert for the whole camp. For Trip Day we got to go to Cliff Island for three days.

CHARLIE BALDWIN

FUN AT CAMP

I put logs in the bonfire. Me and the Cubs hiked up Mt. Crosby. My crew lost to a boat.

WILLIAM VENTURA

MOUNTAIN BIKING

Today I went mountain biking. I went to the waterfront five times and went down the staris five times with Mr. CH.

ANDREW ROLFE

CLUBS

Today we had clubs, clubs are the best. I chose kayaking. Kayaking was very fun. I loved it, it's my favorite. We kayaked to Baloo Cove then we swam on the mat. It was very fun. Then we had to go back :(

RYDER JIN

CLIFF ISLAND

I went rowing to Cliff Island and now Ben is my friend. I enjoyed swimming a lot. We had ramen, oatmeal, pancakes, meatballs, bagels, and we played Clans. I had a lot of fun.

CHRISTOPHER CATE

WOODSMAN'S DAY

During Woodsman's Day we chopped logs and we did tug-of-war. My favorite was the pancake flip.

TOM BALDWIN

VISITING DAY

During visiting day, I went to Dunkin. Then I went to a campsite and I got s'mores.

PIERCE QUERRY

POSTER MAKING DAY

During poster-making day I went outside for no reason. And then I saw red thunder. I felt like my eyes popped out.

THOMAS BALDWIN

THE LAUNDRY PRANK

First, Miss Pi hung and tied Mr. Phaneuf's laundry bag onto the top of the tetherball pole. He (aka Mr. Phaneuf) climbed up and it took him almost 10 minutes to get it down!

ZACH JONES

CANOEING

Today we did the canoeing Industry. It wasn't the best, but it was still fun. When we crashed into each other was my favorite part.

BEN GREY

THE LAST HOWL

I can't wait for the Archery Tournament. I signed up for it and I hope I will win. This is the last full day at Mowglis!

STERLING SHANGRAW

LAST HOWL

It is the last full day of Mowglis and I will miss Mowglis but I am happy that I will see my Mom and Dad and my dogs. I am excited to tell my parents all about it.

ANDREW ROLFE

SOAK, ARCHERY, AND SCOOPS

I like Mowglis. Sadly I'm leaving next Sunday. Changing the subject, my favorite Industry is soak and Archery. Changing the subject again, we went to Scoops and I got death by chocolate. Now that was an abrupt stop, and that is my Howl.

CJ CATE

LIGHTNING

During poster making there was a big storm so we stayed in Kipling. In the middle I had to go to the mines so I put on my rain jacket and started walking. When I was walking I saw lightning. It was kind of red and I had no clue where it came from so I froze. Then, I heard the loudest sound ever. It shook my bones. It sounded like a canon. I ran all the way back to Kipling.

CHARLIE BALDWIN

LAST HOWL

Finally, the end of Howls. Camp is almost done, two more days, then I go home. I'm happy to go home but sad to leave camp. I hope you all have a great rest of the year. By next year, I hope I'm in Toomai. Yay! Goodbye.

RYDER JIN

LAST FULL DAY

I can't believe that this is the last full day at camp. I'm not going to have as much fun when I go home because I have so much fun at Mowglis.

CHARLIE BALDWIN

FUN AT CAMP

We hiked up Mt. Cardigan. It was hard but the wind at the top was fun. Yesterday I woke up at 4:00 AM for fishing and I caught a fish. I did riflery for the first time and was the only one to hit the target.

WILL VENTURA

SAD TO LEAVE

Camp is almost over and I want to make the last day the best. Today we practiced the Candlelight Ceremony, and tomorrow we're doing Cub ribbons! I am sad to leave, but happy to go back home. This is the best camp to go to.

JACK BOULD

LAST HOWL

This is the last Howl I'm writing this year, my most fun thing was Archery. I can't wait for next summer so I can get start getting some requirements. Good Hunting!

ZACH JONES

UNTIL NEXT YEAR

I will miss camp. It's nice to have a friend at camp. I will come back next year.

RAIFE GOYETTE

2023 YEARLINGS

Every summer, I continue to be surprised by the young men who find their way to our Yearling program. We can all be assured that the 2023 Yearling experience will be one of particular importance for all of our Mowglis family going forward, continuing the legacy of this special place in a special way. A few months ago, a group of diverse young men arrived at our camp to start this summer as an adventurous lot of graduated campers. A few weeks later, the same group emerged as focused young staff, continuing the tradition of their Yearling brethren. These young men did their very best to set the bar of excellence for our Junior Staff, and before ultimately returning to their off-season endeavors, they impressed many of the Mowglis leadership.

As we all look back in reflection on this summer, I have the distinct honor of writing this Yearling report. A report that at its best highlights the ups and, at worst, the downs, of our time together this summer. The Yearling program is at its core a leadership program, one that can be seen as a culminating experience at our beloved camp. These Princes of Mowglis, many Den graduates and/or former campers with a seniority that will benefit all of our Pack, have by now surely recognized their potential as community members, students, and leaders, through our adventure-based leadership program.

These young men—scholars, athletes, artists, but Mowglis men all—spent weeks transforming from campers to counselors. They learned to put the welfare of their campers above all, to plan their trips ahead, and to ensure that all responsibilities were covered by a caring staff member. These Yearlings ascended the highest peak of Maine, forded rivers, and learned to survey their surroundings, strengths, and limitations to the betterment of the group. An astonishing 30+ miles through Baxter State Park will ask a lot of any young person; it will ask a lot of an adult. I had not previously encountered a group with such specific dietary considerations, but I had also not seen a group so sound that the whole group's well-being was of paramount importance. Enormously up to the task, they consistently looked out for each other, made decisions that had real-world implications, and excelled when even I was unsure of the outcome. Perhaps it was our Yearling duties that harkened our sense of Triumph—Triomphe, or more commonly called by other names in these United States, a simple card game, consistently reminded us of our brotherly obligations, to trust each other, about the reward in calculated risk, and the eventual sink or swim of our teamwork.

This group conquered mighty Mt. Katahdin, via a truly gnarly route known as the Cathedral Trail. They learned invaluable lessons about planning and rationing, the importance of providing for their campers first, and about making group decisions on their trips to Cliff Island and Zoar. They demonstrated a persistent commitment to service by improving pathways that campers will traverse for years to come, by creating literal and figurative bridges with the local community that knows the Mowglis name. While we experienced struggles—trip execution, policing our own space, and frankly recognizing that an impressive intellect can outweigh pragmatic judgment—I must confess that as this group boldly declared they were “halfway there” to the whole camp, and insisted on demonstrating the proper way to change out a Mowglis trash can, JS Coordinator Mr. Mida and I couldn’t help but swell with pride in just how much they had grown.

Though these Yearlings were at times living on a prayer, they showed that they had no quit in them. And, if that is ever in any doubt, please walk the path from Gray Brothers to the lower mines, involve a past Yearling in your trip planning or execution, or if you are truly up for a challenge ask any pair of this year’s Yearlings to a game of Euchre (which likely derived from Triomphe). In any of these, you are likely to find a group dedicated to the principles of brotherhood, integrity, and service. I look forward to working with these colleagues in the future. And to any considering a summer spent in this program, I encourage you to reach out to any of these past graduates, and let’s find out which new paths and traditions we can create!

Good Hunting!

THE YEARLINGS

My second year at Mowglis is drawing to an end. We are entering the seventh week of camp, and it seems like only two or three weeks have passed. Starting the summer off with a trip to Cliff Island with the Yearlings, finding out that they had a lot of work cut out to become Junior Staff, living in the Cave (Ping Pong Porch) was a wildly different experience. Along with my trusty companion Maverick, we made sure no chipmunk dared eat our contro. The cave is normally stagnant with very little breeze, even in a thunderstorm, so there was little to help us fight off the ghosts of the Green Room. During the third week, the Yearlings conquered Mount Katahdin and the Knife's Edge. One of the hardest and most dangerous treks in the U.S. was defeated over 10 or so hours, covering more than 15 miles in total. While summiting Katahdin, we realized everyone was very low on water, especially after eating gluten-free bread. Having drank 1.5 gallons, I never thought I could still be dehydrated. About three miles into the Cathedral Path, we hit bouldering that required every muscle in our bodies. Walking with a 30 lb. pack over the boulders, even though it is light, made my legs cramp and lock up. Finishing at least 12 miles with leg cramps is not fun. Stay hydrated, kids. The pain and hard work was worth it for the view from the top. It was clear for 70 miles around and no civilization anywhere. Our next trip was to Zoar Whitewater, where the quote of the trip was "Extreme Mode" and "Oah-No" from the infamous Mr. Martinez the Blue. Boofing, scraping, and rolling all the way through Massachusetts was the highlight. I could write more about Crew or the freezing Franconia water, but this paper is too small. Just keep on keeping on, boys.

MR. MIDA

TRABAJO

Building the bonfire, moving crew boats, storing rowboats, mowing the lawn, setting up the lower ball field tent for Crew Weekend, moving benches for the Crew Race, moving firewood and logs in Greenwell's pickup and of course running picnic supper and medicals. The cornerstone of being a JS. Trabajo.

DENTON MONTGOMERY

A GLEAMING LAKE IN THE MOUNTAINS

The Yearlings went on a trip to Baxter State Park and hiked Mt. Katahdin out in the wilderness of Maine. Our summit was blessed with a clear day and you could see forests and lakes in every direction. We slept in a lean-to that night and listened to a bear fishing in the neighboring lake. A unique trip for the ages.

DENTON MONTGOMERY

THE TRANSITION

Yesterday was my first day as a Yearling and also Landsport's Day. Being a Yearling is different, as you transition from camper to staff member. People start to call you by Mr. instead of your first name, and you realize the campers start to look up to you, so you have to be an example to them. So far I've really enjoyed the new experiences and I know this will be a great summer.

SEBASTIAN PHANEUF

8/6/2023

This is the last week of camp, and many opportunities are coming to a close. This is especially apparent for the Denites, as they scramble for their last requirements of the Inner Circle. As opportunities are missed, new ones will always take their place. Chances to get more ribbons and requirements will come to the younger dorms next year. Regret is the worst feeling you can experience, so when you are given a chance to try something new, don't pass it up. The summer is coming to an end, and the final week goes by quick. So enjoy Mowglis. Enjoy it while it lasts.
